BLACKSTONE PRIVATE CREDIT FUND
SUPPLEMENT NO. 3 DATED AUGUST 18, 2026
TO THE PROSPECTUS DATED MAY 1, 2026

This prospectus supplement ("Supplement") is part of and should be read in conjunction with the prospectus of Blackstone Private Credit Fund ("we," "our" or the "Fund"), dated May 1, 2026 (as supplemented to date, the "Prospectus"). Unless otherwise defined herein, capitalized terms used in this Supplement shall have the same meanings as in the Prospectus.

The purposes of this Supplement are:

- to update the Prospectus; and
- to include our Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended June 30, 2026.

Updates to Prospectus

The following replaces the seventh bullet of the "What potential strengths do the Advisers offer?" section of the Prospectus Summary, the twelfth paragraph under the "Investment Objectives and Strategies – Blackstone Credit & Insurance Strengths" section of the Prospectus and all similar disclosure in the Prospectus:

Strong Investment Track Record. Blackstone Credit & Insurance's track record in private debt lending and investing in below investment grade credit dates back to the inception of Blackstone Credit & Insurance. Since 2005 through June 30, 2026, Blackstone Credit & Insurance has invested over $325 billion in capital in privately-originated transactions.[1] Specifically within the North America Direct Lending strategy, Blackstone Credit & Insurance has invested nearly $170 billion[2] in privately-originated or privately negotiated first lien and unitranche transactions. Corresponding to this North America Direct Lending track record, Blackstone

[1] Includes invested and committed capital for privately originated and anchor investments across private credit strategies and vehicles since 2005, including Direct Lending, Sustainable Resources, Mezzanine, and Opportunistic. Excludes liquid credit strategy investments.

[2] As of June 30, 2026. The North America Direct Lending track record represents U.S. and Canada first lien and unitranche debt, or non-U.S. first lien and unitranche debt where >50% of the revenue is generated from the U.S. (which may be secured by the applicable borrower's assets and/or equity), transactions in companies that were originated or anchored by certain Blackstone Credit & Insurance managed, advised or sub-advised funds (including the Fund, Blackstone Credit & Insurance managed mezzanine funds and Blackstone Credit & Insurance sub-advised BDCs, as well as certain other Blackstone Credit & Insurance managed funds and accounts) and, with respect to certain transactions, investments allocated to affiliates of Blackstone Credit & Insurance, which may be sold to Blackstone Credit & Insurance managed funds or accounts in the future (the "North America Direct Lending track record"). The track record includes investments for periods prior to December 31, 2017, in BDCs that were sub-advised by Blackstone Credit & Insurance on a non-discretionary basis until April 9, 2018 (the "Sub-Advised Investments"). With respect to certain transactions, the North America Direct Lending track record includes free equity and/or warrants that accompanied the debt financings, as well as any loans or securities into which the applicable first lien and unitranche debt may have been restructured subsequent to Blackstone Credit & Insurance's initial investment. The North America Direct Lending track record excludes (i) broadly syndicated, mezzanine, second lien and equity (other than the aforementioned free equity and/or warrants or securities issued upon restructuring) transactions, among others and (ii) transactions where Blackstone Credit & Insurance's invested capital (net of transactions fees) was under $25 million.

Credit & Insurance has an annualized loss rate of 0.06%.[3] We believe maintaining this consistent strategy in the North America Direct Lending strategy across market cycles, with a specific emphasis on combining current yield, downside protection, and inflation protection, will generate compelling investment outcomes for the Adviser. Blackstone Credit & Insurance believes that the depth and breadth of its team provides it with a competitive advantage in sourcing product on a global basis, structuring transactions and actively managing investments in the portfolio.

Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the Quarter Ended June 30, 2026

On August 12, 2026, we filed our Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended June 30, 2026 with the SEC. The report (without exhibits) is attached to this Supplement.

[3] As of June 30, 2026. The annualized loss rate represents annualized net losses for substantially realized investments. Whether an investment is substantially realized is determined in the manager's discretion. Investments are included in the loss rate if (1) a payment was missed, (2) bankruptcy was declared, (3) there was a restructuring, or (4) it was realized with a total multiple on invested capital less than 1.0x. Net losses include all profits and losses associated with these investments, including interest payments received. Net losses are represented in the year the investment is substantially realized and excludes all losses associated with unrealized investments. The annualized net loss rate is the net losses divided by the average annual remaining invested capital within the platform. Investments sourced by Blackstone Credit & Insurance for the Sub-Advised Investments did, in certain cases, experience defaults and losses after Blackstone Credit & Insurance was no longer sub-adviser, and such defaults and losses are not included in the rates provided. Prior to December 31, 2022, the methodology used by the North America Direct Lending track record for calculating the platform's average annual loss rate was based on net loss of principal resulting only from payment defaults in the year of default which would exclude interest payments. Past performance is not necessarily indicative of future results, and there can be no assurance that Blackstone Credit & Insurance will achieve comparable results or that any entity or account managed by or advised by Blackstone Credit & Insurance will be able to implement its investment strategy or achieve its investment objectives.

(1) Unless otherwise indicated, all debt and equity investments held by the Company (which such term "Company" shall include the Company's consolidated subsidiaries for purposes of this Condensed Consolidated Schedule of Investments) are denominated in U.S. Dollars. As of June 30, 2026, the Company had investments denominated in Canadian Dollars (CAD), Euros (EUR), British Pounds (GBP), Swiss Francs (CHF), Danish Krone (DKK), Swedish Krona (SEK), Norwegian Krone (NOK), New Zealand Dollars (NZD), and Australian Dollars (AUD). All debt investments are income producing unless otherwise indicated. All equity investments are non-income producing unless otherwise noted. Certain portfolio company investments are subject to contractual restrictions on sales. The total par amount (in thousands) is presented for debt investments and structured finance obligations, while the number of shares or units (in whole amounts) owned is presented for equity investments. Each of the Company's investments is pledged as collateral, under one or more of its credit facilities unless otherwise indicated.

(2) Variable rate loans to the portfolio companies bear interest at a rate that is determined by reference to either Sterling Overnight Interbank Average Rate ("SONIA" or "S"), Euro Interbank Offer Rate ("Euribor" or "E"), Secured Overnight Financing Rate ("SOFR"), Stockholm Interbank Offered Rate ("STIBOR" or "ST"), Copenhagen Interbank Offered Rate ("CIBOR" or "CI"), Norwegian Interbank Offered Rate ("NIBOR" or "N"), Swiss Average Rate Overnight ("SARON" or "SA"), New Zealand Bank Bill Reference Rate ("BKBM" or "B"), Australian Bank Bill Swap Bid Rate ("BBSY" or "BB"), Canadian Overnight Repo Rate Average ("CORRA" or

"CA"), or an alternate base rate (commonly based on the Federal Funds Rate ("F") or the U.S. Prime Rate ("P")), which generally resets periodically. For each loan, the Company has indicated the reference rate used and provided the spread and the interest rate in effect as of June 30, 2026. Variable rate loans typically include an interest reference rate floor feature.

(3) The cost represents the original cost adjusted for the amortization of discounts and premiums, as applicable, on debt investments using the effective interest method in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP").

(4) These investments were valued using unobservable inputs and are considered Level 3 investments. Fair value was determined in good faith by or under the direction of the Board of Trustees (see Note 2 and Note 5), pursuant to the Company's valuation policy.

(5) These debt investments are not pledged as collateral under any of the Company's credit facilities. For other debt investments that are pledged to the Company's credit facilities, a single investment may be divided into parts that are individually pledged as collateral to separate credit facilities. Any other debt investments listed above are pledged to financing facilities, CLOs and short-term borrowings and are not available to satisfy the creditors of the Company.

(6) The investment is not a qualifying asset under Section 55(a) of the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (together with the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, the "1940 Act"). The Company may not acquire any non-qualifying asset unless, at the time of acquisition, qualifying assets represent at least 70.0% of the Company's total assets. As of June 30, 2026, non-qualifying assets represented 25.8% of total assets as calculated in accordance with regulatory requirements.

(7) Position or portion thereof is an unfunded commitment, and no interest is being earned on the unfunded portion, although the investment may be subject to unused commitment fees. Negative cost and fair value results from unamortized fees, which are capitalized to the investment cost. The unfunded commitment may be subject to a commitment termination date that may expire prior to the maturity date stated. See below for more information on the Company's unfunded commitments:

(1) Unless otherwise indicated, all debt and equity investments held by the Company (which such term "Company" shall include the Company's consolidated subsidiaries for purposes of this Condensed Consolidated Schedule of Investments) are denominated in U.S. Dollars. As of December 31, 2025, the Company had investments denominated in Canadian Dollars (CAD), Euros (EUR), British Pounds (GBP), Swiss Francs (CHF), Danish Krone (DKK), Swedish Krona (SEK), Norwegian Krone (NOK), New Zealand Dollars (NZD), and Australian Dollars (AUD). All debt investments are income producing unless otherwise indicated. All equity investments are non-income producing unless otherwise noted. Certain portfolio company investments are subject to contractual restrictions on sales. The total par amount (in thousands) is presented for debt investments and structured finance obligations, while the number of shares or units (in whole amounts) owned is presented for equity investments. Each of the Company's investments is pledged as collateral, under one or more of its credit facilities unless otherwise indicated.

(2) Variable rate loans to the portfolio companies bear interest at a rate that is determined by reference to either Sterling Overnight Interbank Average Rate ("SONIA" or "S"), Euro Interbank Offer Rate ("Euribor" or "E"), Secured Overnight Financing Rate ("SOFR"), Stockholm Interbank Offered Rate ("STIBOR" or "ST"), Copenhagen Interbank Offered Rate ("CIBOR" or "CI"), Norwegian Interbank Offered Rate ("NIBOR" or "N"), Swiss Average Rate Overnight ("SARON" or "SA"), New Zealand Bank Bill Reference Rate ("BKBM" or "B"), Australian Bank Bill Swap Bid Rate ("BBSY" or "BB"), Canadian Overnight Repo Rate Average ("CORRA" or "CA"), or an alternate base rate (commonly based on the Federal Funds Rate ("F") or the U.S. Prime Rate ("P")), which generally resets periodically. For each loan, the Company has indicated the reference rate used and provided the spread and the interest rate in effect as of December 31, 2025. Variable rate loans typically include an interest reference rate floor feature.

(3) The cost represents the original cost adjusted for the amortization of discounts and premiums, as applicable, on debt investments using the effective interest method in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP").

(4) These investments were valued using unobservable inputs and are considered Level 3 investments. Fair value was determined in good faith by or under the direction of the Board (see Note 2 and Note 5), pursuant to the Company's valuation policy.

(5) These debt investments are not pledged as collateral under any of the Company's credit facilities. For other debt investments that are pledged to the Company's credit facilities, a single investment may be divided into parts that are individually pledged as collateral to separate credit facilities. Any other debt investments listed above are pledged to financing facilities, CLOs and short-term borrowings and are not available to satisfy the creditors of the Company.

(6) The investment is not a qualifying asset under Section 55(a) of the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (together with the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, the "1940 Act"). The Company may not acquire any non-qualifying asset unless, at the time of acquisition, qualifying assets represent at least 70.0% of the Company's total assets. As of December 31, 2025, non-qualifying assets represented 24.3% of total assets as calculated in accordance with regulatory requirements.

(7) Position or portion thereof is an unfunded commitment, and no interest is being earned on the unfunded portion, although the investment may be subject to unused commitment fees. Negative cost and fair value results from unamortized fees, which are capitalized to the investment cost. The unfunded commitment may be subject to a commitment termination date that may expire prior to the maturity date stated. See below for more information on the Company's unfunded commitments:

Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements
(Unaudited)
(in thousands, except share amounts, per share data, percentages and as otherwise noted)

Note 1. Organization

Blackstone Private Credit Fund (together with its consolidated subsidiaries "BCRED" or the "Company"), is a Delaware statutory trust formed on February 11, 2020, and structured as an externally managed, non-diversified, closed-end management investment company. The Company has elected to be regulated as a business development company (a "BDC") under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (together with the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, the "1940 Act"). In addition, the Company has elected to be treated for U.S. federal income tax purposes, and intends to qualify annually, as a regulated investment company (a "RIC") under Subchapter M of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (together with the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, the "Code").

The Company is externally managed by Blackstone Private Credit Strategies LLC (the "Adviser") and Blackstone Credit BDC Advisors LLC (the "Sub-Adviser" and, together with the Adviser, the "Advisers"). The Advisers are affiliates of Blackstone Alternative Credit Advisors LP (the "Sub-Administrator" and, collectively with its affiliates in the credit, asset based finance and insurance asset management business unit of Blackstone Inc. ("Blackstone"), "Blackstone Credit & Insurance," or "BXCI"). Additionally, Blackstone Private Credit Strategies LLC, in its capacity as the administrator to the Company (in such capacity, the "Administrator" and, together with the Sub-Administrator, the "Administrators"), and the Sub-Administrator provide certain administrative and other services necessary for the Company to operate pursuant to an administration agreement between the Administrator and the Company (the "Administration Agreement") and a sub-administration agreement between the Administrator and the Sub-Administrator (the "Sub-Administration Agreement," and together with the Administration Agreement, the "Administration Agreements"), respectively. From commencement through December 31, 2024, Blackstone Credit BDC Advisors LLC served as the Company's investment adviser (in such capacity, the "Prior Adviser") and Blackstone Alternative Credit Advisors LP served as the Company's administrator (in such capacity, the "Prior Administrator").

The Company was formed to invest primarily in originated loans and other securities, including broadly syndicated loans, of U.S. private companies. The Company's investment objectives are to generate current income and, to a lesser extent, long-term capital appreciation. Under normal circumstances, the Company will invest at least 80% of its total assets (net assets plus borrowings for investment purposes) in private credit investments (loans, bonds and other credit instruments that are issued in private offerings or issued by private companies). Under normal circumstances, the Company expects that the majority of its portfolio will be in privately originated and privately negotiated investments, predominantly direct lending to U.S. private companies through (i) first lien senior secured and unitranche loans (including first-out/last-out loans) and (ii) second lien, unsecured, subordinated or mezzanine loans and structured credit, as well as broadly syndicated loans (for which the Company may serve as an anchor investor), club deals (generally investments made by a small group of investment firms) and other debt and equity securities (the investments described in this sentence, collectively, "Private Credit"). To a lesser extent, the Company may also invest in publicly traded securities of large corporate issuers. The Company expects that such investments will generally be liquid, and may be used for the purposes of maintaining liquidity for the Company's share repurchase program and cash management, while also presenting an opportunity for attractive investment returns.

The Company offers on a continuous basis up to $45.0 billion of common shares of beneficial interest ("Common Shares") pursuant to an offering registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC"). The Company offers to sell any combination of three classes of Common Shares, Class I shares, Class S shares and Class D shares, with a dollar value up to the maximum offering amount. The share classes have different ongoing shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees. The purchase price per share for each class of Common Shares equals the net asset value ("NAV") per share, as of the effective date of the monthly share purchase date. Blackstone Securities Partners L.P. (the "Intermediary Manager") will use its best efforts to sell shares, but is not obligated to purchase or sell any specific amount of shares in the offering. The Company also engages in private offerings of its Common Shares, including to affiliates that are registered under the 1940 Act or regulated as BDCs under the 1940 Act.

Note 2. Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Presentation

The condensed consolidated financial statements have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States ("GAAP") and pursuant to the requirements for reporting on Form 10-Q and Article 6 and 10 of Regulation S-X. Accordingly, certain disclosures accompanying the annual consolidated financial statements prepared in accordance with GAAP are omitted. As an investment company, the Company applies the accounting and reporting guidance in Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC") Topic 946, Financial Services—Investment Companies ("ASC 946") issued by the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB").

In the opinion of management, all adjustments considered necessary for the fair presentation of the condensed consolidated financial statements for the interim period presented have been included. The current period's results of operations will not necessarily be indicative of results that ultimately may be achieved for the fiscal year ending December 31, 2026.

All intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated.

Certain prior period information has been reclassified to conform to the current period presentation.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of condensed consolidated financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the condensed consolidated financial statements. Such amounts could differ from those estimates and such differences could be material. Assumptions and estimates regarding the valuation of investments involve a higher degree of judgment and complexity and these assumptions and estimates may be significant to the condensed consolidated financial statements. Actual results may ultimately differ from those estimates.

The Company does not consolidate its equity investment in Specialty Lending Company LLC ("SLC"). For further description of the Company's investment in SLC, see "Note 3. Fees, Expenses, Agreements and Related Party Transactions."

The Company does not consolidate its investments in the BCRED Emerald JV LP ("Emerald JV") or BCRED Verdelite JV LP ("Verdelite JV") joint ventures. For further description of the Company's joint ventures, see "Note 11. Joint Ventures."

Cash and Cash Equivalents and Restricted Cash

Cash and cash equivalents consist of demand deposits and highly liquid investments, such as money market funds, with original maturities of three months or less. Cash and cash equivalents are carried at cost, which approximates fair value. The Company deposits its cash and cash equivalents with financial institutions which, at times, may exceed the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation insured limit. Restricted cash and cash equivalents include amounts that are collected and are held by trustees who have been appointed as custodians of the assets securing certain of the Company's financing transactions. Restricted cash and cash equivalents are held by the trustees for payment of interest expense and principal on the outstanding borrowings or reinvestment into new assets.

Investments

Investment transactions are recorded on a trade date basis.

Realized gains or losses are measured by the difference between the net proceeds received (excluding prepayment fees, if any) and the amortized cost basis of the investment using the specific identification method without regard to unrealized gains or losses previously recognized, and include investments charged off during the period, net of recoveries, and is recorded within Net realized gain (loss) on the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations.

The net change in unrealized gains or losses primarily reflects the change in investment values, including the reversal of previously recorded unrealized gains or losses with respect to investments realized during the period, and is recorded within Net change in unrealized appreciation (depreciation) on the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations.

Valuation of Investments

The Company is required to report its investments, including those for which current market values are not readily available, at fair value.

The Company values its investments in accordance with ASC 820, Fair Value Measurements ("ASC 820"), which defines fair value as the amount that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the applicable measurement date, and Rule 2a-5 under the 1940 Act.

Under ASC 820, fair value is based on observable market prices or parameters or derived from such prices or parameters when such quotations are readily available. In accordance with Rule 2a-5 under the 1940 Act, fair value means the value of a portfolio investment for which market quotations are not readily available. A market quotation is "readily available" only when it is a quoted price (unadjusted) in active markets for identical instruments that a fund can access at the measurement date, provided that such a quotation is not considered to be readily available if it is not reliable.

Where prices or inputs are not available or, in the judgment of the Board of Trustees (the "Board" or the "Board of Trustees"), with assistance of the Advisers, the Audit Committee and independent valuation firm(s), determined to be not reliable, valuation techniques based on the facts and circumstances of the particular investment will be utilized. These valuation approaches involve some level of management estimation and judgment, the degree of which is dependent on the price transparency for the investments or market and the investments' complexity. In the absence of observable, reliable market prices, the Company values its investments using various valuation methodologies applied on a consistent basis.

An enterprise value ("EV") analysis is generally performed to determine the value of equity investments, control debt investments and non-control debt investments that are credit-impaired, and to determine if debt investments are credit-impaired. The Advisers will generally utilize approaches including the market approach, the income approach or both approaches, as appropriate, when calculating EV. The primary method for determining EV for non-control investments, and control investments without reliable projections, uses a multiple analysis whereby appropriate multiples are applied to the portfolio company's earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization ("EBITDA") or another key financial metric (e.g., such as revenues, cash flows or net income) ("Performance Multiple"). Performance Multiples are typically determined based upon a review of publicly traded comparable companies and market comparable transactions, if any. The second method for determining EV (and primary method for control investments with reliable projections) uses a discounted cash flow analysis whereby future expected cash flows and the anticipated terminal value of the portfolio company are discounted to determine a present value using estimated discount rates. The income approach is generally used when the Advisers have visibility into the long-term projected cash flows of a portfolio company.

If debt investments are credit-impaired, which occurs when there is insufficient coverage under the enterprise value analysis through the respective investment's position in the capital structure, the Advisers generally use the enterprise value "waterfall" approach or a recovery method (if a liquidation or restructuring is deemed likely) to determine fair value. For debt investments that are not determined to be credit-impaired, the Advisers generally use a market interest rate yield analysis to determine fair value. To determine fair value using a yield analysis, the expected cash flows are projected based on the contractual terms of the debt security and discounted back to the measurement date based on a market yield. A market yield is determined based upon an assessment of current and expected market yields for similar investments and risk profiles. The Company considers the current contractual interest rate, the maturity and other terms of the investment relative to risk of the company and the specific investment. A key determinant of risk, among other things, is the leverage through the investment relative to the enterprise value of the portfolio company. As debt investments held by the Company are substantially illiquid with no active transaction market, the Company depends on primary market data, including newly funded transactions, as well as secondary market data with respect to high yield debt instruments and syndicated loans, as inputs in determining the appropriate market yield, as applicable. The fair value of loans with call protection is generally capped at par plus applicable prepayment premium in effect at the measurement date.

ASC 820 prioritizes the use of observable market prices derived from such prices. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1 measurements) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3 measurements). The levels used for classifying investments are not necessarily an indication of the risk associated with investing in these securities. The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are as follows:

- Level 1: Inputs to the valuation methodology are quoted prices available in active markets for identical instruments as of the reporting date. The types of financial instruments included in Level 1 may include unrestricted securities, including equities and derivatives, listed in active markets.
- Level 2: Inputs to the valuation methodology are other than quoted prices in active markets, which are either directly or indirectly observable as of the reporting date. The types of financial instruments in this category may include less liquid and restricted securities listed in active markets, securities traded in other than active markets, government and agency securities and certain over-the-counter derivatives where the fair value is based on observable inputs.
- Level 3: Inputs to the valuation methodology are unobservable and significant to overall fair value measurement. The inputs into the determination of fair value require significant management judgment or estimation. Financial instruments that are included in this category may include debt and equity investments in privately held entities, collateralized loan obligations ("CLOs") and certain over-the-counter derivatives where the fair value is based on unobservable inputs.

In certain cases, the inputs used to measure fair value may fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy. In such cases, an investment's level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the overall fair value measurement. The Board's assessment, with the assistance of the Advisers, the Audit Committee and independent valuation firm(s), of the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement in its entirety requires judgment, and considers factors specific to the investment. Transfers between levels, if any, are recognized at the beginning of the quarter and year in which the transfer occurs.

The Company evaluates the source of the inputs, including any markets in which its investments are trading (or any markets in which securities with similar attributes are trading), in determining fair value. When an investment is valued based on prices provided by reputable dealers or pricing services (that is, broker quotes), the Company subjects those prices to various criteria in making the determination as to whether a particular investment would qualify for treatment as a Level 2 or Level 3 investment.

Due to the inherent uncertainty of determining the fair value of investments that do not have a readily available market value, the fair value of the Company's investments may fluctuate from period to period, and these differences could be material. Additionally, the fair value of the Company's investments may differ significantly from the values that would have been used had a ready market existed for such investments and may differ materially from the values that the Company may ultimately realize. Further, such investments are generally subject to legal and other restrictions on resale or otherwise are less liquid than publicly traded securities. If the Company was required to liquidate a portfolio investment in a forced or liquidation sale, it could realize significantly less than the value at which the Company has recorded it. In addition, changes in the market environment and other events that may occur over the life of the investments may cause the gains or losses ultimately realized on these investments to be different than the unrealized gains or losses reflected in the valuations currently assigned. See "Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations—Critical Accounting Estimates."

Receivables/Payables From Investments Sold/Purchased

Receivables/payables from investments sold/purchased consist of amounts receivable to or payable by the Company for transactions that have not settled at the reporting date.

Derivative Instruments

The Company recognizes all derivative instruments as assets or liabilities at fair value in its Condensed Consolidated Statements of Assets and Liabilities as Derivative assets at fair value and Derivative liabilities at fair value, respectively.

In the normal course of business, the Company has commitments and risks resulting from its investment transactions, which may include those involving derivative instruments. Derivative instruments are measured in terms of the notional contract amount and derive their value based upon one or more underlying instruments. While the notional amount gives some indication of the Company's derivative activity, it generally is not exchanged, but is only used as the basis on which interest and other payments are exchanged. Derivative instruments are subject to various risks similar to non-derivative instruments including market, credit, liquidity, and operational risks. The Company manages these risks on an aggregate basis as part of its risk management process.

From time to time, the Company may enter into forward currency contracts which is an obligation between two parties to purchase or sell a specific currency for an agreed-upon price at a future date. The Company utilizes forward currency contracts to economically hedge the currency exposure associated with certain foreign currency denominated assets and liabilities of the Company. The use of forward currency contracts does not eliminate fluctuations in the price of the underlying debt the Company has, but establishes a rate of exchange in advance. Fluctuations in the value of these contracts are measured by the difference in the exchange rates on the contract date and reporting date and are recorded as net change in unrealized appreciation (depreciation). The fair value of the foreign currency forwards is included as Derivative assets at fair value or Derivative liabilities at fair value on the Company's Condensed Consolidated Statements of Assets and Liabilities. Changes in the fair value of the foreign currency forwards are presented in Net change in unrealized appreciation (depreciation): Derivative instruments and Net realized gains (losses): Derivative instruments in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations.

Additionally, the Company uses interest rate swaps to mitigate interest rate risk associated with the Company's fixed rate liabilities. The fair value of the interest rate swaps is included as Derivative assets at fair value or Derivative liabilities at fair value on the Company's Condensed Consolidated Statements of Assets and Liabilities. Changes in fair value of interest rate swaps entered into by the Company and not designated as hedging instruments are presented in Net realized gains (losses) and Net change in unrealized appreciation (depreciation) in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations. The Company designated certain interest rate swaps as the hedging instrument in a qualifying fair value hedge accounting relationship, and therefore the change in fair value of the hedging instrument and hedged item are recorded in Interest expense and recognized as components of Interest expense in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations. The change in fair value of the interest rate swap is offset by a change in the carrying value of the fixed rate debt.

The Company has elected to not offset derivative assets and derivative liabilities in its Condensed Consolidated Statements of Assets and Liabilities including for the cash collateral, that may be received or paid as part of collateral arrangements, even when an enforceable master netting agreement is in place that provides the Company, in the event of counterparty default, the right to liquidate collateral and the right to offset a counterparty's rights and obligations.

Forward Purchase Agreement

Forward purchase agreements are recognized at fair value through current period gains or losses on the date on which the contract is entered into and are subsequently re-measured at fair value. All forward purchase agreements are carried as assets when fair value is positive and as liabilities when fair value is negative. A forward purchase agreement is derecognized when the obligation specified in the contract is discharged, canceled or expired.

Foreign Currency Transactions

Amounts denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollars ("USD") on the following basis: (i) investments and other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into USD based upon currency exchange rates effective on the last business day of the period; and (ii) purchases and sales of investments, borrowings and repayments of such borrowings, income, and expenses denominated in foreign currencies are translated into USD based upon currency exchange rates prevailing on the transaction dates.

The Company includes net changes in fair values on investments held resulting from foreign exchange rate fluctuations in Foreign currency and other transactions in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations, if any. Foreign security and currency transactions may involve certain considerations and risks not typically associated with investing in U.S. companies and U.S. government securities. These risks include, but are not limited to, currency fluctuations and revaluations and future adverse political, social and economic developments, which could cause investments in foreign markets to be less liquid and prices more volatile than those of comparable U.S. companies or U.S. government securities.

Revenue Recognition

Interest Income

Interest income is recorded on an accrual basis and includes the accretion of discounts and amortizations of premiums. Discounts from and premiums to par value on debt investments purchased are accreted/amortized into interest income over the life of the respective security using the effective interest method. The amortized cost of debt investments represents the original cost, including loan origination fees and upfront fees received that are deemed to be an adjustment to yield, adjusted for the accretion of discounts and amortization of premiums, if any. Upon prepayment of a loan or debt security, any prepayment premiums, unamortized upfront loan origination fees and unamortized discounts are recorded as interest income in the current period. For the three and six months ended June 30, 2026, the Company recorded $19.2 million and $37.0 million, respectively, in non-recurring interest income (e.g., prepayment premiums, accelerated accretion of upfront loan origination fees and unamortized discounts). For the three and six months ended June 30, 2025, the Company recorded $6.1 million and $51.9 million, respectively, in non-recurring interest income.

PIK Income

The Company has investments in its portfolio that contain payment-in-kind ("PIK") provisions. PIK represents interest or non-cash dividends that are accrued and recorded as interest or dividend income at the contractual rates, increases the principal on the respective capitalization dates, and is generally due at maturity. Such income is included in Payment-in-kind interest income or Non-cash dividend income in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations. If at any point the Company expects that PIK will not be realized, the investment generating PIK will be placed on non-accrual status. When a PIK investment is placed on non-accrual status, the accrued, uncapitalized interest or dividends are generally reversed through Payment-in-kind interest income or Non-cash dividend income. To satisfy the Company's annual RIC distribution requirements, this non-cash source of income must be included in determining the amounts to be paid out to shareholders in the form of dividends, even though the Company has not yet collected cash.

Dividend Income

Dividend income on preferred equity securities is recorded on an accrual basis to the extent that such amounts are payable by the portfolio company and are expected to be collected. Dividend income on common equity securities and on the Company's equity interests in its joint ventures is recorded on the record date for private portfolio companies or on the ex-dividend date for publicly traded portfolio companies.

Other Income

The Company may receive various fees in the ordinary course of business such as structuring, consent, waiver, amendment, syndication and other miscellaneous fees, as well as fees for managerial assistance rendered by the Company to the portfolio companies. Such fees are recognized as income when earned or the services are rendered.

Non-Accrual Income

Loans are placed on non-accrual status when there is reasonable doubt whether principal or interest will be collected in full. Accrued interest is generally reversed when a loan is placed on non-accrual status. Additionally, any original issue discount and market discount are no longer accreted to interest income as of the date the loan is placed on non-accrual status. Interest payments received on non-accrual loans may be recognized as income or applied to principal depending upon management's judgment regarding collectability. Non-accrual loans are restored to accrual status when past due principal and interest is paid current and, in management's judgment, are likely to remain current.

For further information regarding the non-accrual status of investments, refer to "Note 4. Investments."

Offering Expenses

Costs associated with the offering of the Company's shares are capitalized as Deferred offering costs in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Assets and Liabilities and amortized over a twelve-month period from incurrence. These expenses consist primarily of legal fees and other costs incurred in connection with the Company's continuous offering.

Deferred Financing Costs and Debt Issuance Costs

Deferred financing and debt issuance costs represent fees and other direct incremental costs incurred in connection with the Company's borrowings and debt issuance costs include premiums and discounts to the par value of the respective instruments. These expenses and adjustments are deferred and amortized into interest expense over the life of the related debt instrument. Deferred financing costs related to revolving credit facilities are presented separately as an asset on the Company's Condensed Consolidated Statements of Assets and Liabilities. Debt issuance costs, including premiums and discounts to par, related to any issuance of installment debt or notes are presented net against the outstanding debt balance of the related security.

Income Taxes

The Company has elected to be treated as a BDC under the 1940 Act. The Company also has elected to be treated as a RIC under the Code. So long as the Company maintains its tax treatment as a RIC, it generally will not pay corporate-level U.S. federal income taxes on any ordinary income or capital gains that it distributes at least annually to its shareholders as dividends. Rather, any tax liability related to income earned and distributed by the Company would represent obligations of the Company's investors and would not be reflected in the condensed consolidated financial statements of the Company.

The Company evaluates tax positions taken or expected to be taken in the course of preparing its condensed consolidated financial statements to determine whether the tax positions are "more-likely-than-not" to be sustained by the applicable tax authority. Tax positions not deemed to meet the "more-likely-than-not" threshold are reserved and recorded as a tax benefit or expense in the current year. All penalties and interest associated with income taxes are included in income tax expense. Conclusions regarding tax positions are subject to review and may be adjusted at a later date based on factors including, but not limited to, on-going analyses of tax laws, regulations and interpretations thereof. Management has analyzed the Company's tax positions taken, or to be taken, on federal income tax returns for all open tax years, and has concluded that there are no material uncertain tax positions through June 30, 2026. As applicable, the Company's federal tax returns are subject to examination by the Internal Revenue Service for a period of three fiscal years after they are filed.

To qualify for and maintain qualification as a RIC, the Company must, among other things, meet certain source-of-income and asset diversification requirements. In addition, to qualify for RIC tax treatment, the Company must distribute to its shareholders, for each taxable year, at least 90% of the sum of (i) its "investment company taxable income" for that year (without regard to the deduction for dividends paid), which is generally its ordinary income plus the excess, if any, of its realized net short-term capital gains over its realized net long-term capital losses and (ii) its net tax-exempt income.

In addition, based on the excise tax distribution requirements, the Company is subject to a 4% nondeductible federal excise tax on certain undistributed income unless the Company distributes in a timely manner in each taxable year an amount at least equal to the sum of (i) 98% of its ordinary income for the calendar year, (ii) 98.2% of its capital gain net income (both long-term and short-term) for the one-year period ending October 31 in that calendar year and (iii) any income realized, but not distributed, in prior years. For this purpose, however, any ordinary income or capital gain net income retained by the Company that is subject to corporate income tax is considered to have been distributed.

For the three and six months ended June 30, 2026, the Company accrued $1.3 million and $1.3 million, respectively, of U.S. federal excise tax. For the three and six months ended June 30, 2025, the Company accrued $1.8 million and $9.5 million, respectively, of U.S. federal excise tax.

Certain of the Company's consolidated subsidiaries are subject to certain U.S. federal and state income taxes. Income tax expense, if any, is included under the income category for which it applies in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations.

Allocation of Income, Expenses, Gains and Losses

Income, expenses (other than those attributable to a specific class), gains and losses are allocated to each class of shares based upon the relative proportion of net assets represented by such class. Operating expenses directly attributable to a specific class are charged against the operations of that class.

Distributions

Distributions to shareholders are recorded on the record date. All distributions will be paid at the discretion of the Board and will depend on the Company's earnings, financial condition, maintenance of the Company's tax treatment as a RIC, compliance with applicable BDC regulations and such other factors as the Board may deem relevant from time to time. Although the gross distribution per share is generally equivalent for each share class, the net distribution for each share class is reduced for any class specific expenses, including distribution and shareholder servicing fees, if any.

Segment Reporting

The Company operates as a single reportable segment and as a result, the Company's segment accounting policies are consistent with those described herein and the Company does not have any intra-segment sales and transfers of assets. See "Note 12. Segment Reporting" for further information.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In December 2025, the FASB issued Accounting Standards Update ("ASU") 2025-09, "Derivatives and Hedging (Topic 815): Hedge Accounting Improvements," ("ASU 2025-09"). ASU 2025-09 amends the guidance in ASU 815, Derivatives and Hedging and refines certain hedge accounting requirements, including clarifications to the designation and documentation criteria for hedge relationships, improvements to the assessment of hedge effectiveness, and enhanced disclosures intended to provide greater transparency into an entity's risk management activities involving derivatives. ASU 2025-09 is effective for annual reporting periods beginning after December 15, 2026, including interim reporting periods within those annual reporting periods, and early adoption is permitted. The Company has not early adopted and does not expect the adoption of ASU 2025-09 to have a material impact on its condensed consolidated financial statements.

Note 3. Fees, Expenses, Agreements and Related Party Transactions

Advisory Agreements

On October 5, 2020, the Company entered into the original investment advisory agreement with the Prior Adviser (the "Original Investment Advisory Agreement"), pursuant to which the Prior Adviser was responsible for originating prospective investments, conducting research and due diligence investigations on potential investments, analyzing investment opportunities, negotiating and structuring the Company's investments and monitoring its investments and portfolio companies on an ongoing basis.

On August 2, 2022, the Company and the Prior Adviser entered into an amended and restated investment advisory agreement (the "Original A&R Investment Advisory Agreement"), which was approved by the Board, including a majority of the trustees who are not "interested persons" (as such term is defined in Section 2(a)(19) of the 1940 Act) (the "Independent Trustees"). The Original A&R Investment Advisory Agreement altered the Original Investment Advisory Agreement by removing certain "sunset" provisions that previously stated that certain requirements of the North American Securities Administrators Association ("NASAA") Omnibus Guidelines would no longer apply if the Company's shares become "covered securities" within the meaning of Section 18 of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), and amending certain undertakings provisions, including to clarify compliance with NASAA Omnibus Guidelines. No other changes were made to the Original Investment Advisory Agreement.

On November 7, 2024, the Board approved the Prior Adviser's assignment of the Original A&R Investment Advisory Agreement to the Adviser pursuant to Rule 2a-6 under the 1940 Act, effective January 1, 2025. The Board, including a majority of the Independent Trustees, also approved the second amended and restated investment advisory agreement (the "Investment Advisory Agreement") to acknowledge such assignment. Accordingly, effective January 1, 2025, the Adviser became the Company's investment adviser pursuant to the Investment Advisory Agreement. Further, on November 7, 2024, the Board approved the sub-advisory agreement (the "Sub-Advisory Agreement," and together with the Investment Advisory Agreement, the "Advisory Agreements") between the Company, the Adviser and the Sub-Adviser. Accordingly, effective January 1, 2025, the Sub-Adviser became the Company's investment sub-adviser pursuant to the Sub-Advisory Agreement. These changes were the result of a reorganization of certain subsidiaries of Blackstone and did not result in any change in the aggregate fees paid by the Company. Further, the nature and level of services provided to the Company remain the same, as well as the personnel that provide investment management services to the Company on behalf of the Advisers.

The Advisory Agreements were most recently renewed and approved by the Board, including a majority of the Independent Trustees, on April 29, 2026, for an additional annual period, and, unless terminated earlier, will renew from year-to-year thereafter if approved annually by a majority of the Board or by the holders of a majority of the Company's outstanding voting securities and, in each case, a majority of the Independent Trustees. The Company may terminate the Advisory Agreements, without payment of any penalty, upon 60 days' written notice. The Advisory Agreements will automatically terminate in the event of their assignment within the meaning of the 1940 Act and related SEC guidance and interpretations.

The Company pays the Adviser a fee for its services under the Investment Advisory Agreement consisting of two components: a management fee and an incentive fee. The cost of both the management fee and the incentive fee is borne by the shareholders. The sub-advisory fees payable to the Sub-Adviser under the Sub-Advisory Agreement will be paid by the Adviser out of its own advisory fees rather than paid separately by the Company. Substantial additional fees and expenses may also be charged by the Administrators to the Company.

Base Management Fees

The management fee is payable monthly and is settled and paid quarterly in arrears at an annual rate of 1.25% of the value of the Company's net assets as of the beginning of the first calendar day of the applicable month. For purposes of the Investment Advisory Agreement, net assets means the Company's total assets less liabilities determined on a consolidated basis in accordance with GAAP. The management fee calculation will be prorated for any partial months, including the first calendar month in which the Company commenced operations.

For the three and six months ended June 30, 2026, base management fees were $142.1 million and $294.1 million, respectively. For the three and six months ended June 30, 2025, base management fees were $138.8 million and $267.9 million, respectively. As of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, $142.1 million and $153.1 million, respectively, was payable to the Adviser relating to management fees.

Incentive Fees

The incentive fees consist of two components that are determined independently of each other, with the result that one component may be payable even if the other is not. One component is based on income and the other component is based on capital gains, each as described below:

(i) Income Based Incentive Fee

The first component of the incentive fee, an income based incentive fee, is based on the Company's Pre-Incentive Fee Net Investment Income Returns. "Pre-Incentive Fee Net Investment Income Returns" means, as the context requires, either the dollar value of, or percentage rate of return on, the value of the Company's net assets at the end of the immediately preceding quarter from interest income, dividend income and any other income (including any other fees (other than fees for providing managerial assistance), such as commitment, origination, structuring, diligence and consulting fees or other fees that the Company receives from portfolio companies) accrued during the calendar quarter, minus the Company's operating expenses accrued for the quarter (including the management fee, expenses payable under the Administration Agreement, and any interest expense or fees on any credit facilities or outstanding debt and dividends paid on any issued and outstanding preferred shares, but excluding the incentive fee and any shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees).

Pre-Incentive Fee Net Investment Income Returns includes, in the case of investments with a deferred interest feature (such as original issue discount, debt instruments with PIK interest and zero-coupon securities), accrued income that the Company has not yet received in cash. Pre-Incentive Fee Net Investment Income Returns excludes any realized capital gains, realized capital losses or unrealized capital appreciation or depreciation. The Company excludes the impact of expense support payments and recoupments from Pre-Incentive Fee Net Investment Income Returns. Shareholders may be charged a fee on an income amount that is higher than the income shareholders may ultimately receive.

Pre-Incentive Fee Net Investment Income Returns, expressed as a rate of return on the value of the Company's net assets at the end of the immediately preceding quarter, is compared to a "hurdle rate" of return of 1.25% per quarter (5.0% annualized).

The Company pays the Adviser an income based incentive fee quarterly in arrears with respect to the Company's Pre-Incentive Fee Net Investment Income Returns in each calendar quarter as follows:

- no incentive fee based on Pre-Incentive Fee Net Investment Income Returns in any calendar quarter in which Pre-Incentive Fee Net Investment Income Returns do not exceed the hurdle rate of 1.25% per quarter (5.0% annualized);
- 100% of the dollar amount of Pre-Incentive Fee Net Investment Income Returns with respect to that portion of such Pre-Incentive Fee Net Investment Income Returns, if any, that exceeds the hurdle rate but is less than a rate of return of 1.43% (5.72% annualized). The Company refers to this portion of the Pre-Incentive Fee Net Investment Income Returns (which exceeds the hurdle rate but is less than 1.43%) as the "catch-up." This "catch-up" is meant to provide the Adviser with approximately 12.5% of Pre-Incentive Fee Net Investment Income Returns as if a hurdle rate did not apply if this net investment income exceeds 1.43% in any calendar quarter; and
- 12.5% of the dollar amount of Pre-Incentive Fee Net Investment Income Returns, if any, that exceed a rate of return of 1.43% (5.72% annualized). This reflects that once the hurdle rate is reached and the catch-up is achieved, 12.5% of all Pre-Incentive Fee Net Investment Income Returns thereafter are allocated to the Adviser.

These calculations are prorated for any period of less than three months, including the first quarter the Company commenced operations, and are adjusted for any share issuances or repurchases during the relevant quarter.

For the three and six months ended June 30, 2026, the Company accrued income based incentive fees of $143.1 million and $294.2 million, respectively. For the three and six months ended June 30, 2025, the Company accrued income based incentive fees of $151.8 million and $303.6 million, respectively. As of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, there was $143.1 million and $162.5 million, respectively, payable to the Adviser for income based incentive fees.

(ii) Capital Gains Based Incentive Fee

The second component of the incentive fee, a capital gains based incentive fee, is determined and payable in arrears as of the end of each calendar year in an amount equal to 12.5% of cumulative realized capital gains from inception through the end of such calendar year, computed net of all realized capital losses and unrealized capital depreciation on a cumulative basis, less the aggregate amount of any previously paid capital gains based incentive fees as calculated in accordance with GAAP.

For the three and six months ended June 30, 2026 and 2025, the Company accrued no capital gains based incentive fees. As of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, no amount was payable to the Adviser for capital gains based incentive fees.

Administration Agreements

On October 5, 2020, the Company entered into the original administration agreement with the Prior Administrator (the "Prior Administration Agreement"). On November 7, 2024, the Board approved the termination of the Prior Administration Agreement, effective December 31, 2024, and the entry into the Administration Agreement between the Company and the Administrator, effective January 1, 2025. Accordingly, effective January 1, 2025, the Administrator became the Company's administrator pursuant to the Administration Agreement. Further, on November 7, 2024, the Board approved the Sub-Administration Agreement between the Administrator, on behalf of the Company, and the Sub-Administrator. Accordingly, effective January 1, 2025, the Sub-Administrator became one of the Company's sub-administrators pursuant to the Sub-Administration Agreement. To acknowledge the change of the administrator, the Board also approved the assignment of the third party sub-administration agreement (the "State Street Sub-Administration Agreement") with State Street Bank and Trust Company (the "State Street Sub-Administrator") from the Prior Administrator to the Administrator, effective January 1, 2025. These changes did not result in any change in the aggregate fees paid by the Company. Further, the nature and level of services provided to the Company remain the same, as well as the personnel that provide administrative services to the Company on behalf of the Administrators.

Under the terms of the Administration Agreements, the Administrators provide, or oversee the performance of, administrative and compliance services, including, but not limited to, maintaining financial records, overseeing the calculation of NAV, compliance monitoring (including diligence and oversight of the Company's other service providers), preparing reports to shareholders and reports filed with the SEC and other regulators, preparing materials and coordinating meetings of the Board, managing the payment of expenses, the payment and receipt of funds for investments and the performance of administrative and professional services rendered by others and providing office space, equipment and office services. The Company will reimburse the Administrator for certain costs and expenses incurred by the Administrators in performing their obligations under the Administration Agreements. Such reimbursement will include the Company's allocable portion of compensation and other expenses incurred by the Administrators in performing their administrative obligations under the Administration Agreements, including but not limited to: (i) the Company's chief compliance officer, chief financial officer and their respective staffs; (ii) investor relations, legal, operations and other non-investment professionals at the Administrators that perform duties for the Company; and (iii) any internal audit group personnel of Blackstone or any of its affiliates, subject to the limitations described in the Advisory Agreements and the Administration Agreements.

In addition, pursuant to the terms of the Administration Agreements, the Administrators may delegate their obligations under the Administration Agreements to an affiliate or to a third party and we will reimburse the Administrator, and the Administrator will reimburse the Sub-Administrator, for any services performed for the Company by such affiliate or third party. Under the Sub-Administration Agreement, the Administrator will reimburse the Sub-Administrator for certain costs and expenses incurred by the Sub-Administrator in performing its obligations under the Sub-Administration Agreement. The costs and expenses of the Sub-Administrator that are eligible for reimbursement by the Administrator will be reasonably allocated to the Company on the basis of time spent, assets under management, usage rates, proportionate holdings, a combination thereof or other reasonable methods determined by the Administrator. The Administrator has outsourced, and may continue to outsource, certain administrative duties provided to the Company to third parties, and the Administrator will pay the third parties accordingly. State Street Bank and Trust Company serves as the Company's third-party sub-administrator. The Administrator has utilized, and in the future will continue to utilize, the State Street Sub-Administrator to assist in the provision of administrative services. The State Street Sub-Administrator receives compensation from the Administrator for its sub-administrative services under the State Street Sub-Administration Agreement.

The Administration Agreements were most recently renewed and approved by the Board, including a majority of the Independent Trustees, on April 29, 2026 for an additional annual period, and, unless terminated earlier, will renew automatically from year-to-year thereafter if approved annually by a majority of the Board or by the holders of a majority of the Company's outstanding voting securities and, in each case, a majority of the Independent Trustees. The Company may terminate the Administration Agreements, without payment of any penalty, upon 60 days' written notice.

For the three and six months ended June 30, 2026, the Company incurred $4.0 million and $8.2 million, respectively, in expenses under the Administration Agreement which were recorded in Administrative service expenses in the Company's Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations. For the three and six months ended June 30, 2025, the Company incurred $2.0 million and $4.3 million, respectively, in expenses under the Administration Agreement which were recorded in Administrative service expenses in the Company's Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations.

As of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, $2.8 million and $3.6 million, respectively, was unpaid and included in Due to affiliates in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Assets and Liabilities.

State Street Sub-Administration Agreement and Custody Agreement

On October 5, 2020, the Prior Administrator entered into the State Street Sub-Administration Agreement with the State Street Sub-Administrator under which the State Street Sub-Administrator provides various accounting and administrative services to the Company. The State Street Sub-Administrator also serves as the Company's custodian. On November 7, 2024, the Board approved the assignment of the State Street Sub-Administration Agreement from the Prior Administrator to the Administrator, effective January 1, 2025. The initial term of the State Street Sub-Administration Agreement was two years from the effective date and after expiration of the initial term and the State Street Sub-Administration Agreement shall automatically renew for successive one-year periods, unless a written notice of non-renewal is delivered no later than 120 days prior to the expiration of the initial term or renewal term.

Intermediary Manager Agreement

On October 5, 2020, the Company entered into an intermediary manager agreement (the "Intermediary Manager Agreement") with Blackstone Securities Partners L.P., an affiliate of the Advisers. Pursuant to the Intermediary Manager Agreement, no upfront transaction fee will be paid with respect to Class I shares, Class S shares or Class D shares, however, if shareholders purchase Class S shares or Class D shares through certain financial intermediaries, they may directly charge shareholders transaction or other fees, including upfront placement fees or brokerage commissions, in such amount as they may determine, provided that selling agents limit such charges to a 3.5% cap on NAV for Class S shares and a 1.5% cap on NAV for Class D shares. Under the terms of the Intermediary Manager Agreement, the Intermediary Manager will serve as the intermediary manager for the Company's public offering of its Common Shares. The Intermediary Manager will be entitled to receive shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees monthly in arrears at an annual rate of 0.85% and 0.25% of the value of the Company's net assets attributable to Class S and Class D shares, respectively, as of the beginning of the first calendar day of the month. No shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees will be paid with respect to Class I shares. The shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees will be payable to the Intermediary Manager, but the Intermediary Manager anticipates that all of the shareholder servicing fees and/or distribution fees will be retained by, or reallowed (paid) to, participating brokers.

The Company will cease paying the shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees on the Class S shares and Class D shares on the earlier to occur of the following: (i) a listing of Class I shares, (ii) a merger or consolidation with or into another entity, or the sale or other disposition of all or substantially all of the Company's assets or (iii) the date following the completion of the primary portion of the offering on which, in the aggregate, underwriting compensation from all sources in connection with the offering, including the shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees and other underwriting compensation, is equal to 10% of the gross proceeds from the primary offering. In addition, consistent with the exemptive relief allowing the Company to offer multiple classes of shares, at the end of the month in which the Intermediary Manager in conjunction with the transfer agent determines that total transaction or other fees, including upfront placement fees or brokerage commissions, and shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees paid with respect to the shares held in a shareholder's account would exceed, in the aggregate, 10% of the gross proceeds from the sale of such shares (or a lower limit as determined by the Intermediary Manager or the applicable selling agent), the Company will cease paying the shareholder servicing and/or distribution fee on the Class S shares and Class D shares in such shareholder's account. Compensation paid with respect to the shares in a shareholder's account will be allocated among each share such that the compensation paid with respect to each individual share will not exceed 10% of the offering price of such share. The Company may modify this requirement in a manner that is consistent with applicable exemptive relief. At the end of such month, the Class S shares or Class D shares in such shareholder's account will convert into a number of Class I shares (including any fractional shares), with an equivalent aggregate NAV as such Class S or Class D shares.

The Intermediary Manager is a broker-dealer registered with the SEC and is a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority ("FINRA").

The Intermediary Manager Agreement may be terminated at any time, without the payment of any penalty, by vote of a majority of the Independent Trustees and a majority of the trustees who have no direct or indirect financial interest in the operation of the Company's distribution plan or the Intermediary Manager Agreement or by vote of a majority of the outstanding voting securities of the Company, on not more than 60 days' written notice to the Intermediary Manager or the Adviser. The Intermediary Manager Agreement will automatically terminate in the event of its assignment, as defined in the 1940 Act.

Distribution and Servicing Plan

The Board approved a distribution and servicing plan (the "Distribution and Servicing Plan"). The following table shows the shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees the Company pays the Intermediary Manager with respect to Class I, Class S and Class D shares on an annualized basis as a percentage of the Company's NAV for such class. The shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees is paid monthly in arrears, calculated using the NAV of the applicable class as of the beginning of the first calendar day of the month.

	Shareholder Servicing and/or Distribution Fee as a % of NAV
Class I shares	— %
Class S shares	0.85%
Class D shares	0.25%

Subject to FINRA and other limitations on underwriting compensation, the Company will pay a shareholder servicing and/or distribution fee equal to 0.85% per annum of the aggregate NAV for the Class S shares and a shareholder servicing and/or distribution fee equal to 0.25% per annum of the aggregate NAV for the Class D shares, in each case, payable monthly.

The shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees will be paid monthly in arrears. The distribution and servicing expenses borne by the participating brokers may be different from and substantially less than the amount of shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees charged.

The Intermediary Manager will reallow (pay) all of the shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees to participating brokers and servicing brokers for ongoing shareholder services performed by such brokers, and will waive shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees to the extent a broker is not eligible to receive it for failure to provide such services. All or a portion of the shareholder servicing and/or distribution fee may be used to pay for sub-transfer agency, sub-accounting and certain other administrative services. The Company also may pay for these sub-transfer agency, sub-accounting and certain other administrative services outside of the shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees and its Distribution and Servicing Plan. Because the shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees with respect to Class S shares and Class D shares are calculated based on the aggregate NAV for all of the outstanding shares of each such class, it reduces the NAV with respect to all shares of each such class, including shares issued under the Company's distribution reinvestment plan.

Eligibility to receive the shareholder servicing and/or distribution fee is conditioned on a broker providing the following ongoing services with respect to the Class S or Class D shares: assistance with recordkeeping, answering investor inquiries regarding the Company, including regarding distribution payments and reinvestments, helping investors understand their investments upon their request, and assistance with share repurchase requests. If the applicable broker is not eligible to receive the shareholder servicing and/or distribution fee due to failure to provide these services, the Intermediary Manager will waive the shareholder servicing and/or distribution fee that the broker would have otherwise been eligible to receive. The shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees are ongoing fees that are not paid at the time of purchase.

For the three and six months ended June 30, 2026, the Company accrued shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees of $29.0 million and $60.1 million, respectively, which were attributable to Class S shares. For the three and six months ended June 30, 2026, the Company accrued shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees of $0.3 million and $0.7 million, respectively, which were attributable to Class D shares.

For the three and six months ended June 30, 2025, the Company accrued shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees of $29.6 million and $57.7 million, respectively, which were attributable to Class S shares. For the three and six months ended June 30, 2025, the Company accrued shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees of $0.4 million and $0.8 million, respectively, which were attributable to Class D shares.

Expense Support and Conditional Reimbursement Agreement

On October 5, 2020, the Company entered into an Expense Support and Conditional Reimbursement Agreement (the "Expense Support Agreement") with the Sub-Adviser. The Sub-Adviser may elect to pay certain expenses of the Company on the Company's behalf (each, an "Expense Payment"), provided that no portion of the payment will be used to pay any interest expense or shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees of the Company. Any Expense Payment that the Sub-Adviser has committed to pay must be paid by the Sub-Adviser to the Company in any combination of cash or other immediately available funds no later than forty-five days after such commitment was made in writing, or offset against amounts due from the Company to the Sub-Adviser or its affiliates.

Pursuant to the Expense Support Agreement, following any calendar month in which Available Operating Funds (as defined below) exceed the cumulative distributions accrued to the Company's shareholders based on distributions declared with respect to record dates occurring in such calendar month (the amount of such excess being hereinafter referred to as "Excess Operating Funds"), the Company shall pay such Excess Operating Funds, or a portion thereof, to the Sub-Adviser until such time as all Expense Payments made by the Sub-Adviser to the Company within three years prior to the last business day of such calendar month have been reimbursed. Any payments required to be made by the Company shall be referred to herein as a "Reimbursement Payment." "Available Operating Funds" means the sum of (i) the Company's net investment company taxable income (including net short-term capital gains reduced by net long-term capital losses), (ii) the Company's net capital gains (including the excess of net long-term capital gains over net short-term capital losses) and (iii) dividends and other distributions paid to the Company on account of investments in portfolio companies (to the extent such amounts listed in clause (iii) are not included under clauses (i) and (ii) above).

The Company's obligation to make a Reimbursement Payment shall automatically become a liability of the Company on the last business day of the applicable calendar month, except to the extent the Sub-Adviser has waived its right to receive such payment for the applicable month.

For the three and six months ended June 30, 2026 and 2025, the Sub-Adviser made no Expense Payments and there were no Reimbursement Payments made to the Sub-Adviser.

Controlled/Affiliated Portfolio Companies

Under the 1940 Act, the Company is required to separately identify non-controlled investments where it owns 5% or more of a portfolio company's outstanding voting securities as investments in "affiliated" companies. In addition, under the 1940 Act, the Company is required to separately identify investments where it owns more than 25% of a portfolio company's outstanding voting securities and/or has the power to exercise control over the management or policies of such portfolio company as investments in "controlled" companies. Under the 1940 Act, "non-affiliated investments" are defined as investments that are neither controlled investments nor affiliated investments. Detailed information with respect to the Company's non-controlled, non-affiliated; non-controlled, affiliated; and controlled affiliated investments is contained in the accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements, including the Condensed Consolidated Schedule of Investments.

On October 11, 2021, a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company and a third-party investor entered into a limited liability company agreement with SLC. SLC is a specialty finance company focused on investing in consumer credit and is led by a management team with deep expertise in the consumer finance industry. The investment in SLC allows the Company to gain exposure to a different asset class than its core investing focus of senior secured lending to U.S. private companies. As of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company had committed $405.0 million. As of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, $71.7 million and $33.0 million of capital remained uncalled from the Company, respectively. The Company does not consolidate its equity interest in SLC.

In addition, the Company has made investments in joint ventures that have been considered controlled/affiliated companies, including Emerald JV and Verdelite JV. From time to time, the Company may purchase investments from or sell investments to Emerald JV and Verdelite JV. For further description of the Emerald JV and Verdelite JV, see "Note 11. Joint Ventures."

On June 1, 2025, the Company made an initial investment into Blackstone Private Real Estate Credit and Income Fund ("BREC"), a business development company advised by Blackstone Real Estate Special Situations Advisors L.L.C., an affiliate of Blackstone.

(1) Includes equity investment in SLC.

(2) Includes investments in the Emerald JV and Verdelite JV (refer to Note 11). Certain investments that are measured at fair value using the NAV practical expedient have not been categorized in the fair value hierarchy. The fair value amounts presented in this table are intended to permit reconciliation of the fair value hierarchy to the amounts presented in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Assets and Liabilities.

Within Investments at fair value, substantially all Equity investments are illiquid and privately negotiated in nature and are subject to contractual sale constraints or other restrictions pursuant to their respective governing or similar agreements. Approximately $143.1 million of such Equity investments have a sale constraint or other restriction that will lapse after a predetermined date; the weighted average remaining duration of such restrictions is 0.8 years. For information regarding restrictions on investment in joint ventures, see "Note 11. Joint Ventures."

The following tables present changes in the fair value of financial instruments for which Level 3 inputs were used to determine the fair value:

(1) Weighted averages are calculated based on fair value of investments.
(2) "Other" includes warrants.

The significant unobservable input used in the yield analysis is the discount rate based on comparable market yields. The significant input used in the distribution waterfall is the liquidation discount. Significant increases in discount rates or liquidation discounts would result in a significantly lower fair value measurement. The significant unobservable input used for market quotations are broker quoted prices provided by independent pricing services. The significant unobservable input used under the market approach is the Performance Multiple. The significant unobservable inputs used under the asset recoverability approach are the market multiple and discount rate. The significant unobservable input used in the estimate of net asset value is the prior month end net asset value per share. Significant decreases in quoted prices, Performance Multiples, market multiples or net asset value per share would result in a significantly lower fair value measurement. The significant input used in the option pricing model is expected volatility. Significant increases or decreases in expected volatility could result in a significantly higher or significantly lower fair market value measurement, respectively.

As of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the carrying amounts of the Company's other assets and liabilities, other than investments at fair value and debt obligations listed above, approximate fair value due to their short maturities. These financial instruments, with the exception of cash and cash equivalents (including money market funds classified within Cash and Cash Equivalents in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Assets and Liabilities) which would be categorized as Level 1, would be categorized as Level 3 within the fair value hierarchy.

Note 6. Derivatives

The Company enters into derivative financial instruments in the normal course of business to achieve certain risk management objectives, including managing its interest rate and foreign currency risk exposures.

The fair value of foreign currency and interest rate derivative contracts are included within Derivative assets at fair value and Derivative liabilities at fair value, respectively, in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Assets and Liabilities.

The following tables present the aggregate notional amount and fair value hierarchy of the Company's derivative financial instruments as of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025:

In the tables above:

- The fair value of derivative assets and derivative liabilities is presented on a gross basis.
- The notional amount represents the absolute value amount of all outstanding derivative contracts.
- All foreign currency derivatives are not designated in hedge relationships.
- All interest rate swaps are designated in fair value hedge relationships.
- The Company has not applied counterparty netting or collateral netting; as such, the amounts of cash collateral received and posted are not offset against the derivative assets and derivative liabilities in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Assets and Liabilities. Such amounts are included as Receivable from broker and Payable to broker in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Assets and Liabilities.

The table below presents the impact to the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations from derivative assets and derivative liabilities not designated in a qualifying hedge accounting relationship for the three and six months ended June 30, 2026 and June 30, 2025, respectively. The net change in unrealized gains and losses on the derivative assets and derivative liabilities not designated in a qualifying hedge accounting relationship are included within Net change in unrealized appreciation (depreciation) on derivative instruments in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations. The net realized gains and losses on the derivative assets and derivative liabilities not designated in a qualifying hedge accounting relationship are included within Net realized gain (loss) on derivative instruments in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations.

Short-Term Borrowings

Master Repurchase Agreements

On June 15, 2021 and June 16, 2021, the Company entered into Master Repurchase Agreements (the "Repurchase Agreements") with certain banks to provide short-term borrowings which the Company utilizes from time-to-time to manage its working capital needs. As part of the Repurchase Agreements, the Company can sell a security to the lender for cash with an agreement to buy it back in the future at a pre-determined price. The Company's ability to draw down borrowings under the agreement is subject to 1940 Act leverage limitations and dependent on the Company pledging eligible assets to the banks as collateral. No commitment fees were paid in connection with execution of these agreements.

As of June 30, 2026, and December 31, 2025, respectively, the Company had $104.4 million and $406.8 million of short-term borrowings under the Repurchase Agreements.

Short-term borrowings under the Repurchase Agreements bore interest at a weighted average applicable margin of 4.39% and 4.75% per annum as of June 30, 2026, and December 31, 2025, respectively.

Certain of the Company's investments serve as collateral for the Company's obligations under the Repurchase Agreements and the carrying value of pledged investments were $85.7 million and $486.8 million as of June 30, 2026, and December 31, 2025, respectively.

Other Short-Term Borrowings

In order to finance certain investment transactions, the Company may, from time to time, enter into financing agreements whereby the Company transfers to a third party an investment that it holds in exchange for cash for a period of time, generally not to exceed 180-days from the date it was sold (each, a "Short Term Financing Transaction"). At the expiration of the agreement, the Company returns the cash and interest to the third party and receives the original investment transferred.

As of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the Company had $500.0 million and $450.0 million, respectively, of borrowings under Short Term Financing Transactions with third parties. Certain of the Company's investments serve as collateral for the Company's obligations under the Short Term Financing Transactions and the carrying value of pledged investments was $524.2 million and $450.0 million, respectively, as of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025.

Short-term borrowings under Short Term Financing Transactions bore interest at an applicable margin of 6.39% and 4.52%, respectively, per annum as of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025.

In accordance with ASC 860, Transfers and Servicing, the Master Repurchase Agreements and the Short Term Financing Transactions meet the criteria for secured borrowings. Accordingly, the investment financed by these agreements remains on the Company's Condensed Consolidated Statements of Assets and Liabilities as an asset, and the Company records a liability to reflect its obligation to a third party which is reported as Debt on the Company's Statements of Assets and Liabilities. The obligation is secured by the respective investment that is the subject of the agreement. Interest expense associated with the Master Repurchase Agreements and the Short Term Financing Transactions is reported on the Company's Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations within Interest expense.

The Company's outstanding debt obligations were as follows:

Distribution Reinvestment Plan

The Company has adopted a distribution reinvestment plan (the "DRIP"), pursuant to which it reinvests all cash dividends declared by the Board on behalf of its shareholders who do not elect to receive their dividends in cash. As a result, if the Board authorizes, and the Company declares, a cash dividend or other distribution, then shareholders who have not opted out of the DRIP will have their cash distributions automatically reinvested in additional shares as described below, rather than receiving the cash dividend or other distribution. Distributions on fractional shares will be credited to each participating shareholder's account to three decimal places. No action is required on the part of a registered shareholder to have his, her or its cash dividend or other distribution reinvested in our Common Shares, except shareholders in certain states. Investors and clients of certain participating brokers in states that do not permit automatic enrollment in the DRIP will automatically receive their distributions in cash unless they elect to have their cash distributions reinvested in additional Common Shares.

Character of Distributions

The Company may fund its cash distributions to shareholders from any source of funds available to the Company, including but not limited to offering proceeds, net investment income from operations, capital gains proceeds from the sale of assets, dividends or other distributions paid to it on account of preferred and common equity investments in portfolio companies and expense support from the Advisers, which is subject to recoupment.

Through June 30, 2026, a portion of the Company's distributions resulted from expense support from the Sub-Adviser, and future distributions may result from expense support from the Sub-Adviser, each of which is subject to repayment by the Company within three years from the date of payment. The purpose of this arrangement avoids distributions being characterized as a return of capital for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Shareholders should understand that any such distribution is not based solely on the Company's investment performance, and can only be sustained if the Company achieves positive investment performance in future periods or the Sub-Adviser continues to provide expense support. Shareholders should also understand that the Company's future repayments of expense support will reduce the distributions that they would otherwise receive. There can be no assurance that the Company will achieve the performance necessary to sustain these distributions, or be able to pay distributions at all.

Sources of distributions, other than net investment income and realized gains on a GAAP basis, include required adjustments to GAAP net investment income in the current period to determine taxable income available for distributions. The following table presents the sources of cash distributions on a GAAP basis that the Company has declared on its Common Shares for the six months ended June 30, 2026:

Share Repurchase Program

The Company has implemented a share repurchase program under which, at the discretion of the Board, the Company may repurchase, in each quarter, up to 5% of the NAV of the Company's Common Shares outstanding (either by number of shares or aggregate NAV) as of the close of the previous calendar quarter. For the avoidance of doubt, such target amount is assessed each calendar quarter. The Board may amend or suspend the share repurchase program at any time (including to offer to purchase fewer shares) if in its reasonable judgment it deems such action to be in the best interest of shareholders, such as when a repurchase offer would place an undue burden on the Company's liquidity, adversely affect the Company's operations or risk having an adverse impact on the Company that would outweigh the benefit of the repurchase offer. As a result, share repurchases may not be available each quarter, or may only be available in an amount less than 5% of our Common Shares outstanding. The Company intends to conduct such repurchase offers in accordance with the requirements of Rule 13e-4 promulgated under the Exchange Act and the 1940 Act. Additionally, pursuant to Rule 23c-1(a)(10) under the 1940 Act, the Company may also repurchase its outstanding Common Shares outside of the share repurchase program. All shares purchased pursuant to the terms of each tender offer will be retired and thereafter will be authorized and unissued shares.

Under the share repurchase program, to the extent the Company offers to repurchase shares in any particular quarter, it is expected to repurchase shares pursuant to tender offers using a purchase price equal to the NAV per share as of the last calendar day of the applicable quarter, except that shares that have not been outstanding for at least one year will be repurchased at 98% of such NAV (an "Early Repurchase Deduction"). The one-year holding period will be satisfied if at least one year has elapsed from (a) the issuance date of the applicable Common Shares to (b) the subscription date immediately following the valuation date used in the repurchase of such Common Shares. The Early Repurchase Deduction may be waived in the case of repurchase requests arising from the death, divorce or qualified disability of the holder; in the event that a shareholder's shares are repurchased because the shareholder has failed to maintain the $500 minimum account balance; or due to trade or operational error. In addition, the Company's Common Shares are sold to certain investment vehicles (including feeder vehicles, registered investment companies or other investment funds), discretionary model portfolios and other similar arrangements. The Company, in its discretion, may waive the Early Repurchase Deduction for such investment vehicles, discretionary model portfolios and other similar arrangements in appropriate circumstances, including, but not limited to, for administrative, operational, rebalancing, regulatory or other purposes. The Early Repurchase Deduction will be retained by the Company for the benefit of remaining shareholders.

Share Repurchases

For the three months ended June 30, 2026 and 2025, approximately 93,220,007 and 43,576,158 Common Shares were repurchased, respectively. For the six months ended June 30, 2026 and 2025, approximately 226,909,559 and 66,600,528 Common Shares were repurchased, respectively.

Note 11. Joint Ventures

BCRED Emerald JV

Emerald JV was formed as a joint venture between the Company and a large North American pension fund, commenced operations on January 19, 2022 and operates under a limited partnership agreement. The Emerald JV's principal purpose is to make investments, primarily in senior secured loans that are made to middle-market companies or in broadly syndicated loans and, to a lesser extent, make other debt and equity investments.

As of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company and entities affiliated with, and controlled by, a North American pension fund (collectively, the "Emerald JV Partner") had commitments to contribute up to $2,250.0 million and $750.0 million of capital, respectively, to the Emerald JV.

As of June 30, 2026, the Company and the Emerald JV Partner had made capital contributions (net of returns of capital) of $1,836.0 million and $612.0 million, respectively. As of December 31, 2025, the Company and the Emerald JV Partner had made capital contributions (net of returns of capital) of $1,815.0 million and $605.0 million, respectively. As of June 30, 2026, the Company and the Emerald JV Partner had $414.0 million and $138.0 million, respectively, of capital remained uncalled. As of December 31, 2025, the Company and the Emerald JV Partner had $435.0 million and $145.0 million of capital remained uncalled. The Company and the Emerald JV Partner may, from time-to-time, make additional contributions of capital or may receive returns of capital from the Emerald JV.

As of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the Company's and the Emerald JV Partner's equity ownership interests in the Emerald JV were 75% and 25%, respectively.

From time to time, the Company may purchase investments from, or sell investments to, the Emerald JV. Any such purchases and sales require the approval of the Emerald JV's general partner, which is jointly controlled by the Company and the Emerald JV Partner. For the six months ended June 30, 2026, the Company sold an investment to Emerald JV with a par value of $1.1 billion, for a total cash purchase price based on then-current fair value (at the time of purchase) of $1.1 billion. The Company recognized $0.2 million of net realized gains as a result of sales of investments to the Emerald JV and are included in net realized gain (loss) on investments in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations.

The Company and the Emerald JV Partner, through their joint control of the Emerald JV's general partner, have equal control of the Emerald JV's investment decisions, the decision to call additional capital up to the amounts committed by the Company and the Emerald JV Partner, the decision to return capital or to make distributions, and generally all other decisions in respect of the Emerald JV must be approved by the Emerald JV's investment committee or board of directors, each of which consists of an equal number of representatives of the Company and the Emerald JV Partner. The initial term of the Emerald JV was three years from the commencement of operations, and will continue for successive six-month periods thereafter upon the approval of the Emerald JV's general partner, except in the case of a dissolution event. The Company's investment in the Emerald JV cannot be transferred without the consent of the Emerald JV Partner. Effective July 18, 2026, the Emerald JV's general partner approved the extension of the Emerald JV to January 18, 2027.

The Company has determined that the Emerald JV is an investment company under ASC 946, and in accordance with ASC 946, the Company will generally not consolidate its investment in a company other than a wholly-owned investment company subsidiary. Further, the Company has a variable interest in the Emerald JV and has determined that the Emerald JV is a variable interest entity under ASC 810—Consolidation ("ASC 810"). However, the Company is not deemed to be the primary beneficiary of the Emerald JV as there is equal power between the Company and the Emerald JV Partner. Accordingly, the Company does not consolidate the Emerald JV.

The Company's investment in the Emerald JV is disclosed on the Company's Condensed Consolidated Schedules of Investments as of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025.

BCRED Emerald JV LP
Consolidated Schedule of Investments
June 30, 2026
(in thousands)
(Unaudited)

(1) Unless otherwise indicated, all debt and equity investments held by the Company (which such term "Company" shall include the Company's consolidated subsidiaries for purposes of this Consolidated Schedule of Investments) are denominated in dollars. As of June 30, 2026, the Company had investments denominated in Canadian Dollars (CAD), Euros (EUR), British Pounds (GBP), Swiss Francs (CHF), Danish Krone (DKK), Swedish Krona (SEK), Norwegian Krone (NOK), New Zealand Dollars (NZD), and Australian Dollars (AUD). All debt investments are income producing unless otherwise indicated. All equity investments are non-income producing unless otherwise noted. Certain portfolio company investments are subject to contractual restrictions on sales. The total par amount (in thousands) is presented for debt investments, while the number of shares or units (in whole amounts) owned is presented for equity investments. Each of the Company's investments is pledged as collateral, under one or more of its credit facilities unless otherwise indicated.

(2) Variable rate loans to the portfolio companies bear interest at a rate that is determined by reference to either Canadian Overnight Repo Rate Average ("CORRA" or "CA"), Sterling Overnight Interbank Average Rate ("SONIA" or "S"), Euro Interbank Offer Rate ("Euribor" or "E"), Secured Overnight Financing Rate ("SOFR"), Stockholm Interbank Offered Rate ("STIBOR" or "ST"), Copenhagen Interbank Offered Rate ("CIBOR" or "CI"), Norwegian Interbank Offered Rate ("NIBOR" or "N"), Swiss Average Rate Overnight ("SARON" or "SA"), New Zealand Bank Bill Reference Rate ("BKBM" or "B"), Australian Bank Bill Swap Bid Rate ("BBSY" or "BB"), or an alternate base rate (commonly based on the Federal Funds Rate ("F") or the U.S. Prime Rate ("P")), which generally resets periodically. For each loan, the Company has indicated the reference rate used and provided the spread and the interest rate in effect as of June 30, 2026. Variable rate loans typically include an interest reference rate floor feature.

(3) The cost represents the original cost adjusted for the amortization of discounts and premiums, as applicable, on debt investments using the effective interest method in accordance with GAAP.

(4) These investments were valued using unobservable inputs and are considered Level 3 investments. Fair value was determined in good faith by or under the direction of the Board (see Note 2 and Note 5), pursuant to the Company's valuation policy.

(5) These debt investments are not pledged as collateral under any of the Company's credit facilities. For other debt investments that are pledged to the Company's credit facilities, a single investment may be divided into parts that are individually pledged as collateral to separate credit facilities. Any other debt investments listed above are pledged to financing facilities or CLOs and are not available to satisfy the creditors of the Company.

(6) Reserved.

(7) Position or portion thereof is an unfunded commitment, and no interest is being earned on the unfunded portion, although the investment may be subject to unused commitment fees. Negative cost and fair value results from unamortized fees, which are capitalized to the investment cost. The unfunded commitment may be subject to a commitment termination date that may expire prior to the maturity date stated. See below for more information on the Company's unfunded commitments (all commitments are first lien, unless otherwise noted):

(1) Unless otherwise indicated, all debt and equity investments held by the Company (which such term "Company" shall include the Company's consolidated subsidiaries for purposes of this Consolidated Schedule of Investments) are denominated in dollars. As of December 31, 2025, the Company had investments denominated in Canadian Dollars (CAD), Euros (EUR), British Pounds (GBP), Swiss Francs (CHF), Danish Krone (DKK), Swedish Krona (SEK), Norwegian Krone (NOK), New Zealand Dollars (NZD), and Australian Dollars (AUD). All debt investments are income producing unless otherwise indicated. All equity investments are non-income producing unless otherwise noted. Certain portfolio company investments are subject to contractual restrictions on sales. The total par amount (in thousands) is presented for debt investments, while the number of shares or units (in whole amounts) owned is presented for equity investments. Each of the Company's investments is pledged as collateral, under one or more of its credit facilities unless otherwise indicated.

(2) Variable rate loans to the portfolio companies bear interest at a rate that is determined by reference to either Canadian Overnight Repo Rate Average ("CORRA" or "CA"), Sterling Overnight Interbank Average Rate ("SONIA" or "S"), Euro Interbank Offer Rate ("Euribor" or "E"), Secured Overnight Financing Rate ("SOFR"), Stockholm Interbank Offered Rate ("STIBOR" or "ST"), Copenhagen Interbank Offered Rate ("CIBOR" or "CI"), Norwegian Interbank Offered Rate ("NIBOR" or "N"), Swiss Average Rate Overnight ("SARON" or "SA"), New Zealand Bank Bill Reference Rate ("BKBM" or "B"), Australian Bank Bill Swap Bid Rate ("BBSY" or "BB"), or an alternate base rate (commonly based on the Federal Funds Rate ("F") or the U.S. Prime Rate ("P")), which generally resets periodically. For each loan, the Company has indicated the reference rate used and provided the spread and the interest rate in effect as of December 31, 2025. Variable rate loans typically include an interest reference rate floor feature.

(3) The cost represents the original cost adjusted for the amortization of discounts and premiums, as applicable, on debt investments using the effective interest method in accordance with GAAP.

(4) These investments were valued using unobservable inputs and are considered Level 3 investments. Fair value was determined in good faith by or under the direction of the Board (see Note 2 and Note 5), pursuant to the Company's valuation policy.

(5) These debt investments are not pledged as collateral under any of the Company's credit facilities. For other debt investments that are pledged to the Company's credit facilities, a single investment may be divided into parts that are individually pledged as collateral to separate credit facilities. Any other debt investments listed above are pledged to financing facilities or CLOs and are not available to satisfy the creditors of the Company.

(6) Reserved.

(7) Position or portion thereof is an unfunded commitment, and no interest is being earned on the unfunded portion, although the investment may be subject to unused commitment fees. Negative cost and fair value results from unamortized fees, which are capitalized to the investment cost. The unfunded commitment may be subject to a commitment termination date that may expire prior to the maturity date stated. See below for more information on the Company's unfunded commitments (all commitments are first lien, unless otherwise noted):

The Verdelite JV's principal purpose is to make investments, primarily in broadly syndicated loans.

As of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company and the Verdelite JV Partner had commitments to contribute up to $147.0 million and $21.0 million of capital, respectively, to the Verdelite JV.

The Company and the Verdelite JV Partner may, from time-to-time, make additional contributions of capital or may receive returns of capital from the Verdelite JV.

The Company and the Verdelite JV Partner, through their joint control of the Verdelite JV's general partner, have equal control of the Verdelite JV's investment decisions, the decision to call additional capital up to the amounts committed by the Company and the Verdelite JV Partner, the decision to return capital or to make distributions, and generally all other decisions in respect of the Verdelite JV must be approved by the Verdelite JV's investment committee or board of directors, each of which consists of an equal number of representatives of the Company and the Verdelite JV Partner. The initial term of the Verdelite JV was three years from the commencement of operations, and will continue for successive six-month periods thereafter upon the approval of the Verdelite JV's general partner, except in the case of a dissolution event. The Company's investment in the Verdelite JV cannot be transferred without the consent of the Verdelite JV Partner. Effective April 21, 2026, the Verdelite JV's general partner approved the extension of the Verdelite JV to October 21, 2026.

The Company has determined that the Verdelite JV is an investment company under ASC 946, and in accordance with ASC 946, the Company will generally not consolidate its investment in a company other than a wholly-owned investment company subsidiary. Further, the Company has a variable interest in the Verdelite JV and has determined that the Verdelite JV is a variable interest entity under ASC 810. However, the Company is not deemed to be the primary beneficiary of the Verdelite JV as there is equal power between the Company and the Verdelite JV Partner. Accordingly, the Company does not consolidate the Verdelite JV.

The Company's investment in the Verdelite JV is disclosed on the Company's Condensed Consolidated Schedule of Investments as of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025.

(1) Unless otherwise indicated, all debt and equity investments held by the Company (which such term "Company" shall include the Company's consolidated subsidiaries for purposes of this Consolidated Schedule of Investments) are denominated in dollars. As of June 30, 2026, the Company had investments denominated in Canadian Dollars (CAD), Euros (EUR), British Pounds (GBP), Swiss Francs (CHF), Danish Krone (DKK), Swedish Krona (SEK), Norwegian Krone (NOK), New Zealand Dollars (NZD), and Australian Dollars (AUD). All debt investments are income producing unless otherwise indicated. All equity investments are non-income producing unless otherwise noted. Certain portfolio company investments are subject to contractual restrictions on sales. The total par amount (in thousands) is presented for debt investments, while the number of shares or units (in whole amounts) owned is presented for equity investments. Each of the Company's investments is pledged as collateral, under one or more of its credit facilities unless otherwise indicated.

(2) Variable rate loans to the portfolio companies bear interest at a rate that is determined by reference to either Canadian Overnight Repo Rate Average ("CORRA" or "CA"), Sterling Overnight Interbank Average Rate ("SONIA" or "S"), Euro Interbank Offer Rate ("Euribor" or "E"), Secured Overnight Financing Rate ("SOFR"), Stockholm Interbank Offered Rate ("STIBOR" or "ST"), Copenhagen Interbank Offered Rate ("CIBOR" or "CI"), Norwegian Interbank Offered Rate ("NIBOR" or "N"), Swiss Average Rate Overnight ("SARON" or "SA"), New Zealand Bank Bill Reference Rate ("BKBM" or "B"), Australian Bank Bill Swap Bid Rate ("BBSY" or "BB") or an alternate base rate (commonly based on the Federal Funds Rate ("F") or the U.S. Prime Rate ("P")), which generally resets periodically. For each loan, the Company has indicated the reference rate used and provided the spread and the interest rate in effect as of June 30, 2026. Variable rate loans typically include an interest reference rate floor feature.

(3) The cost represents the original cost adjusted for the amortization of discounts and premiums, as applicable, on debt investments using the effective interest method in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP").

(4) These investments were valued using unobservable inputs and are considered Level 3 investments. Fair value was determined in good faith by or under the direction of the Board of Trustees (the "Board") (see Note 2 and Note 5), pursuant to the Company's valuation policy.

(5) These debt investments are not pledged as collateral under any of the Company's credit facilities. For other debt investments that are pledged to the Company's credit facilities, a single investment may be divided into parts that are individually pledged as collateral to separate credit facilities. Any other debt investments listed above are pledged to financing facilities or CLOs and are not available to satisfy the creditors of the Company.

(6) Reserved.

(7) Position or portion thereof is an unfunded loan commitment, and no interest is being earned on the unfunded portion, although the investment may be subject to unused commitment fees. Negative cost and fair value results from unamortized fees, which are capitalized to the investment cost. The unfunded loan commitment may be subject to a commitment termination date that may expire prior to the maturity date stated. See below for more information on the Company's unfunded commitments (all commitments are first lien, unless otherwise noted):

The "last-out" portion of the Company's loan investment generally earns a higher interest rate than the "first-out" portion, and in exchange the "first-out" portion would generally receive priority with respect to payment principal, interest and any other amounts due thereunder over the "last-out" portion.

(1) Unless otherwise indicated, all debt and equity investments held by the Company (which such term "Company" shall include the Company's consolidated subsidiaries for purposes of this Consolidated Schedule of Investments) are denominated in dollars. As of December 31, 2025, the Company had investments denominated in Canadian Dollars (CAD), Euros (EUR), British Pounds (GBP), Swiss Francs (CHF), Danish Krone (DKK), Swedish Krona (SEK), Norwegian Krone (NOK), New Zealand Dollars (NZD), and Australian Dollars (AUD). All debt investments are income producing unless otherwise indicated. All equity investments are non-income producing unless otherwise noted. Certain portfolio company investments are subject to contractual restrictions on sales. The total par amount (in thousands) is presented for debt investments, while the number of shares or units (in whole amounts) owned is presented for equity investments. Each of the Company's investments is pledged as collateral, under one or more of its credit facilities unless otherwise indicated.

(2) Variable rate loans to the portfolio companies bear interest at a rate that is determined by reference to either Canadian Overnight Repo Rate Average ("CORRA" or "CA"), Sterling Overnight Interbank Average Rate ("SONIA" or "S"), Euro Interbank Offer Rate ("Euribor" or "E"), Secured Overnight Financing Rate ("SOFR"), Stockholm Interbank Offered Rate ("STIBOR" or "ST"), Copenhagen Interbank Offered Rate ("CIBOR" or "CI"), Norwegian Interbank Offered Rate ("NIBOR" or "N"), Swiss Average Rate Overnight ("SARON" or "SA"), New Zealand Bank Bill Reference Rate ("BKBM" or "B"), Australian Bank Bill Swap Bid Rate ("BBSY" or "BB") or an alternate base rate (commonly based on the Federal Funds Rate ("F") or the U.S. Prime Rate ("P")), which generally resets periodically. For each loan, the Company has indicated the reference rate used and provided the spread and the interest rate in effect as of December 31, 2025. Variable rate loans typically include an interest reference rate floor feature.

(3) The cost represents the original cost adjusted for the amortization of discounts and premiums, as applicable, on debt investments using the effective interest method in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP").

(4) These investments were valued using unobservable inputs and are considered Level 3 investments. Fair value was determined in good faith by or under the direction of the Board of Trustees (the "Board") (see Note 2 and Note 5), pursuant to the Company's valuation policy.

(5) These debt investments are not pledged as collateral under any of the Company's credit facilities. For other debt investments that are pledged to the Company's credit facilities, a single investment may be divided into parts that are individually pledged as collateral to separate credit facilities. Any other debt investments listed above are pledged to financing facilities or CLOs and are not available to satisfy the creditors of the Company.

(6) Reserved.

(7) Position or portion thereof is an unfunded loan commitment, and no interest is being earned on the unfunded portion, although the investment may be subject to unused commitment fees. Negative cost and fair value results from unamortized fees, which are capitalized to the investment cost. The unfunded loan commitment may be subject to a commitment termination date that may expire prior to the maturity date stated. See below for more information on the Company's unfunded commitments (all commitments are first lien, unless otherwise noted):

The Company operates as a single reportable segment and derives revenues from investing primarily in originated loans and other securities, including broadly syndicated loans, of U.S. private companies and manages the business on a consolidated basis.

The chief operating decision maker ("CODM") consists of the Company's chief executive officer and chief financial officer. The primary performance metric provided to the CODM to assess performance and make operating decisions is Net increase (decrease) in net assets resulting from operations which is reported on the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations.

Performance metrics are provided to the CODM on a quarterly basis and are utilized to evaluate performance generated from segment net assets. These key metrics, in addition to other factors, are utilized by the CODM to determine allocation of profits, such as for investment or the amount of dividends to be distributed to the Company's shareholders. As the Company operates as a single reporting segment, the segment net assets are reported on the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Assets and Liabilities as Total net assets and the significant segment expenses are listed on the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations.

The information contained in this section should be read in conjunction with "Item 1. Financial Statements" hereto and "Part II, Item 8—Financial Statements and Supplementary Data" of our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2025, as updated from time to time by the Company's periodic filings with the SEC. This discussion contains forward-looking statements and involves numerous risks, uncertainties, and other factors outside of the Company's control, including, but not limited to, those set forth in "Risk Factors" in Part I, Item 1A of our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2025, as updated from time to time by the Company's periodic filings with the SEC.

Overview and Investment Framework

We are an externally managed, non-diversified closed-end management investment company that has elected to be treated as a BDC under the 1940 Act. Formed as a Delaware statutory trust on February 11, 2020, we are externally managed by the Advisers, which are responsible for sourcing potential investments, conducting due diligence on prospective investments, analyzing investment opportunities, structuring investments and monitoring our portfolio on an ongoing basis. Our Advisers are registered as investment advisers with the SEC. We have elected to be treated, and intend to qualify annually thereafter, as a RIC under the Code.

Under the Investment Advisory Agreement, we have agreed to pay the Adviser an annual management fee as well as an incentive fee based on our investment performance. The sub-advisory fees payable to the Sub-Adviser under the Sub-Advisory Agreement will be paid by the Adviser out of its own advisory fees rather than paid separately by us. Also, under the Administration Agreement, we have agreed to reimburse the Administrator for the allocable portion of certain expenses incurred by the Administrators in performing their obligations under the Administration Agreements, including our allocable portion of the costs of compensation and related expenses of our chief compliance officer, chief financial officer and their respective staffs.

Our investment objectives are to generate current income and, to a lesser extent, long-term capital appreciation. Under normal market conditions, we generally invest at least 80% of our total assets (net assets plus borrowings for investment purposes) in private credit investments (loans, bonds and other credit instruments that are issued in private offerings or issued by private companies). If we change our 80% test, we will provide shareholders with at least 60 days' notice of such change. Under normal circumstances we expect that the majority of our portfolio will be in privately originated and privately negotiated investments, predominantly direct lending to U.S. private companies through (i) first lien senior secured and unitranche loans (including first-out/last-out loans) and (ii) second lien, unsecured, subordinated or mezzanine loans and structured credit, as well as broadly syndicated loans (for which we may serve as an anchor investor), club deals (generally investments made by a small group of investment firms) and other debt and equity securities (the investments described in this sentence, collectively, "Private Credit"). In limited instances, we may retain the "last out" portion of a first-lien loan. In such cases, the "first out" portion of the first lien loan would receive priority with respect to payment over our "last out" position. In exchange for the higher risk of loss associated with such "last out" portion, we would earn a higher rate of interest than the "first out" position. To a lesser extent, we will also invest in publicly traded securities of large corporate issuers. We expect that such investments will generally be liquid, and may be used for the purposes of maintaining liquidity for our share repurchase program and cash management, while also presenting an opportunity for attractive investment returns.

Most of our investments are in U.S. private companies, but (subject to compliance with BDCs' requirement to invest at least 70% of its assets in U.S. private companies), we also expect to invest to some extent in European and other non-U.S. companies, but we do not expect to invest in emerging markets. We may invest in companies of any size or capitalization. Subject to the limitations of the 1940 Act, we may invest in loans or other securities, the proceeds of which may refinance or otherwise repay debt or securities of companies whose debt is owned by other Blackstone Credit & Insurance funds. We generally will co-invest with other Blackstone Credit & Insurance funds.

Key Components of Our Results of Operations

Investments

We focus primarily on loans and securities, including syndicated loans, of private U.S. companies. Our level of investment activity (both the number of investments and the size of each investment) can and will vary substantially from period to period depending on many factors, including the amount of debt and equity capital available to private companies, the level of merger and acquisition activity for such companies, the general economic environment, trading prices of loans and other securities and the competitive environment for the types of investments we make.

Revenues

We generate revenues in the form of interest income on debt investments, capital gains, and dividend income from our equity investments in our portfolio companies. Our senior and subordinated debt investments are expected to bear interest at a fixed or floating rate. Interest on debt securities is generally payable quarterly or semiannually. In some cases, some of our investments may provide for deferred interest payments or payment-in-kind ("PIK") interest. The principal amount of the debt securities and any accrued but unpaid PIK interest generally will become due at the maturity date. In addition, we may generate revenue in the form of commitment and other fees in connection with transactions. Original issue discounts and market discounts or premiums will be capitalized, and we will accrete or amortize such amounts as interest income. We will record prepayment premiums on loans and debt securities as interest income. Dividend income on preferred equity securities is recorded on an accrual basis to the extent that such amounts are payable by the portfolio company and are expected to be collected. Dividend income on common equity securities and on our equity interests in joint ventures is recorded on the record date for private portfolio companies or on the ex-dividend date for publicly traded portfolio companies.

In addition, we generate revenue in the form of commitment, loan origination, structuring or diligence fees, fees for providing managerial assistance to our portfolio companies, and possibly consulting fees.

Expenses

Except as specifically provided below, all investment professionals and staff of the Advisers, when and to the extent engaged in providing investment advisory services to us, and the base compensation, bonus and benefits, and the routine overhead expenses, of such personnel allocable to such services, will be provided and paid for by the Advisers. We bear all other costs and expenses of our operations, administration and transactions, including (a) investment advisory fees, including management fees and incentive fees, to the Adviser, pursuant to the Investment Advisory Agreement; (b) our allocable portion of compensation and other expenses incurred by the Administrators in performing their administrative obligations under the Administration Agreements, including: (i) our chief compliance officer, chief financial officer and their respective staffs; (ii) investor relations, legal, operations and other non-investment professionals (including information technology professionals) at the Administrators that perform duties for us; and (iii) any internal audit group personnel of Blackstone or any of its affiliates, subject to the limitations described in the Advisory Agreements and the Administration Agreements; and (c) all other expenses of our operations, administrations and transactions.

From time to time, the Advisers, the Administrators or their respective affiliates may pay third-party providers of goods or services on our behalf. We will reimburse the Adviser, the Administrator or such affiliates thereof, the Adviser will reimburse the Sub-Adviser, the Administrator or such affiliates thereof, and the Administrator will reimburse the Sub-Administrator or such affiliates thereof, in each case, for any such amounts paid on our behalf. From time to time, the Advisers or the Administrators may defer or waive fees or rights to be reimbursed for expenses. All of the foregoing expenses will ultimately be borne by our shareholders.

Expense Support and Conditional Reimbursement Agreement

We have entered into an Expense Support Agreement with the Sub-Adviser. For additional information see "Item 1. Financial Statements—Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements—Note 3. Fees, Expenses, Agreements and Related Party Transactions."

Investment Income

Investment income was as follows (dollar amounts in thousands):

	Three Months Ended June 30,		Six Months Ended June 30,
	2026	2025	2026	2025
Interest income	$1,669,386	$1,650,046	$3,348,050	$3,304,080
Payment-in-kind interest income	102,974	105,169	216,234	203,071
Dividend income	56,908	79,205	130,732	161,215
Non-cash dividend income	36	—	18,556	—
Other income	1,561	9,387	9,395	16,876
Total investment income	$1,830,865	$1,843,807	$3,722,967	$3,685,242

Total investment income decreased to $1.8 billion for the three months ended June 30, 2026, a decrease of $12.9 million or 1% compared to the same period in the prior year. The decrease was primarily attributable to a lower weighted average yield on the portfolio, partially offset by an increase in average investments. Average investments at fair value increased by 11% to $78,957.6 million for the three months ended June 30, 2026, compared to $71,286.0 million for the three months ended June 30, 2025.

Total investment income increased to $3.7 billion for the six months ended June 30, 2026, an increase of $37.7 million or 1% compared to the same period in the prior year. This increase was primarily attributable to an increase in the average investments, partially offset by a lower weighted average yield on the portfolio. Average investments at fair value increased by 14% to $80,455.5 million for the six months ended June 30, 2026, compared to $70,541.6 million for the six months ended June 30, 2025.

Additionally, for the three months ended June 30, 2026, we recorded $19.2 million of non-recurring interest income (e.g., prepayment premiums, accelerated accretion of upfront loan origination fees and unamortized discounts, etc.) compared to $6.1 million for the same period in the prior year, primarily due to increased prepayments. For the six months ended June 30, 2026, we recorded $37.0 million of non-recurring interest income (e.g., prepayment premiums, accelerated accretion of upfront loan origination fees and unamortized discounts, etc.), compared to $51.9 million for the same period in the prior year, primarily due to increased prepayments.

For the three months ended June 30, 2026 and 2025, PIK interest and non-cash dividend income represented 5.6% and 5.7% of total investment income, respectively, and 10.6% and 10.2% of net investment income, respectively. For the six months ended June 30, 2026 and 2025, PIK interest and non-cash dividend income represented 6.3% and 5.5% of total investment income, respectively, and 11.7% and 9.8% of net investment income, respectively. We expect that PIK interest and non-cash dividend income will vary based on the elections of certain borrowers.

We expect that investment income will vary based on a variety of factors including the pace of our originations, repayments and changes in interest rates.

Elevated interest rates continued to favorably impact our investment income for the three and six months ended June 30, 2026. Despite gradual decreases in interest rates during 2025, inflation has remained above the U.S. Federal Reserve's target level, and interest rates remain elevated. Following three consecutive rate cuts in 2025, the U.S. Federal Reserve held interest rates steady since December 2025 and for the first half of 2026 and noted, among other matters, that it would continue to assess and monitor incoming information in considering additional adjustments. Future decreases in benchmark interest rates may adversely impact our investment income. Conversely, future increases in benchmark interest rates and the resulting impacts to cost of capital have the potential to negatively impact the free cash flow and credit quality of certain borrowers which could impact their ability to make principal and interest payments. If such interest rate fluctuations occur concurrently with a period of economic weakness or a slowdown in growth, our borrowers' and our portfolio performance may be negatively impacted. Further, significant market dislocation as a result of changing economic conditions could limit the liquidity of certain assets traded in the credit markets, and this could impact our ability to sell such assets at attractive prices or in a timely manner.

Interest Expense

Total interest expense increased to $513.3 million for the three months ended June 30, 2026, an increase of $35.3 million or 7% compared to the same period in the prior year. The increase was primarily driven by a higher average principal amount of debt outstanding, partially offset by a lower weighted average interest rate on our borrowings relative to the same period in the prior year.

The average principal amount of debt outstanding increased to $35,890.4 million for the three months ended June 30, 2026 from $29,973.3 million for the same period in the prior year. Our weighted average interest rate (including unused fees, amortization of debt issuance costs (including premiums and discounts), and the impact of the application of hedge accounting and excluding amortization of deferred financing costs) decreased to 5.54% for the three months ended June 30, 2026, from 6.20% for the same period in the prior year. Our weighted average all-in cost of debt (including unused fees, amortization of debt issuance costs (including premiums and discounts), amortization of deferred financing costs, and the impact of the application of hedge accounting) decreased to 5.66% for the three months ended June 30, 2026, from 6.31% for the same period in the prior year.

Total interest expense increased to $1.0 billion for the six months ended June 30, 2026, an increase of $67.4 million or 7% compared to the same period in the prior year. The average principal amount of debt outstanding increased to $35,988.8 million for the six months ended June 30, 2026, from $30,444.0 million for the same period in the prior year. Our weighted average interest rate (including unused fees, amortization of debt issuance costs (including premiums and discounts), and the impact of the application of hedge accounting and excluding amortization of deferred financing costs) decreased to 5.53% for the six months ended June 30, 2026, from 6.15% for the same period in the prior year. Our weighted average all-in cost of debt (including unused fees, amortization of debt issuance costs (including premiums and discounts), amortization of deferred financing costs, and the impact of the application of hedge accounting) decreased to 5.66% for the six months ended June 30, 2026, from 6.26% for the same period in the prior year.

Management Fees

Management fees increased to $142.1 million for the three months ended June 30, 2026, an increase of $3.4 million or 2% compared to the same period in the prior year, primarily due to an increase in weighted average net assets to $45,464.8 million for the three months ended June 30, 2026, compared to $50,167.3 million for the same period in the prior year.

Management fees increased to $294.1 million for the six months ended June 30, 2026, an increase of $26.3 million or 10% compared to the same period in the prior year, primarily due to an increase in weighted average net assets to $47,017.0 million for the six months ended June 30, 2026, compared to $43,003.8 million for the same period in the prior year.

Income Based Incentive Fees

Income based incentive fees decreased to $143.1 million for the three months ended June 30, 2026, a decrease of $8.7 million or 5.8% compared to the same period in the prior year, primarily due to a decrease in pre-incentive fee net investment income. Pre-incentive fee net investment income decreased to $1,144.4 million for the three months ended June 30, 2026 from $1,214.3 million for the same period in the prior year.

Income based incentive fees decreased to $294.2 million for the six months ended June 30, 2026, a decrease of $9.3 million or 3.1% compared to the same period in the prior year, primarily due to a decrease in pre-incentive fee net investment income. Pre-incentive fee net investment income decreased to $2,353.8 million for the six months ended June 30, 2026, from $2,428.5 million for the same period in the prior year.

Capital Gains Based Incentive Fees

We accrued no capital gains-based incentive fees for the three and six months ended June 30, 2026 and 2025.

The accrual for any capital gains-based incentive fee under GAAP in a given period may result in an additional expense if such cumulative amount is greater than in the prior period or a reduction of previously recorded expense if such cumulative amount is less in the prior period. If such cumulative amount is negative, then there is no accrual.

Other Expenses

Total other expenses increased to $50.6 million for the three months ended June 30, 2026, an increase of $9.7 million or 24% compared to the same period in the prior year. Total other expenses for the three months ended June 30, 2026 primarily consist of $29.3 million of shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees paid with respect to Class S and Class D investors, $12.2 million of general and administrative expenses (including insurance, filing, research, fees paid to the State Street Sub-Administrator and transfer agent, and other expenses), $4.0 million of administrative service expenses, and $3.9 million of professional fees (including legal, rating agencies, audit, tax, valuation, technology and other professional fees related to management of the Company). The increase compared to the prior year was primarily driven by an increase in other general and administrative expense and costs attributable to professional fees.

Total other expenses increased to $101.0 million for the six months ended June 30, 2026, an increase of $20.9 million or 26% compared to the same period in the prior year. Total other expenses for the six months ended June 30, 2026 primarily consist of $60.8 million of shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees paid with respect to Class S and Class D investors, $22.0 million of general and administrative expenses (including insurance, filing, research, fees paid to the State Street Sub-Administrator and transfer agent, and other expenses), $8.2 million of administrative service expenses, and $7.6 million of professional fees (including legal, rating agencies, audit, tax, valuation, technology and other professional fees related to management of the Company). The increase compared to the prior year was primarily driven by an increase in other general and administrative expense and costs attributable to professional fees.

Income Taxes, Including Excise Taxes

We elected to be treated as a RIC under Subchapter M of the Code, and we intend to operate in a manner so as to continue to qualify for the tax treatment applicable to RICs. To qualify for and maintain tax treatment as a RIC, we must, among other things, distribute to our shareholders in each taxable year generally at least 90% of the sum of our investment company taxable income, as defined by the Code (without regard to the deduction for dividends paid), and net tax-exempt income for that taxable year.

Depending on the level of taxable income earned in a tax year, we may carry forward taxable income (including net capital gains, if any) in excess of current year dividend distributions from the current tax year into the next tax year and pay a nondeductible 4% U.S. federal excise tax on such taxable income, as required. To the extent that we determine that our estimated current year annual taxable income will be in excess of estimated current year dividend distributions from such income, we will accrue excise tax on estimated excess taxable income.

For the three months ended June 30, 2026 and 2025, we accrued $1.3 million and $1.8 million, respectively, of U.S. federal excise tax.

For the six months ended June 30, 2026 and 2025, we accrued $1.3 million and $9.5 million, respectively, of U.S. federal excise tax.

Net change in unrealized gain (loss) on derivative instruments	(21,754)	(48,560)	23,018	(61,350)
Net change in unrealized gain (loss) on foreign currency and other transactions	(2,983)	4,130	(8,678)	3,048
Income tax (provision) benefit	8,645	(3,702)	7,711	(5,036)
Net change in unrealized appreciation (depreciation), net of income tax (provision) benefit	$(811,652)	$ 78,938	$(1,849,955)	$(128,496)

For the three months ended June 30, 2026, the net change in unrealized depreciation, net of income tax provision was $811.7 million, compared to $78.9 million net change in unrealized appreciation for the same period in the prior year. The depreciation for the three months ended June 30, 2026 was primarily driven by net unrealized losses on investments of $795.6 million, which were mainly attributable to declines in the fair value of certain debt investments. The fair value of our debt investments as a percentage of principal decreased by 1.0% for the three months ended June 30, 2026, driven primarily by changes in certain portfolio company fundamentals and broader economic conditions.

In addition, we recorded net unrealized losses of $21.8 million and $3.0 million on derivative instruments and foreign currency transactions, respectively, primarily resulting from fluctuations in the GBP, CAD and EUR exchange rates vs. USD.

For the six months ended June 30, 2026, the net change in unrealized depreciation net of income tax provision was $1,850.0 million, compared to $128.5 million for the same period in the prior year. The increase in depreciation was primarily driven by net unrealized losses on investments of $1,872.0 million, which were mainly attributable to declines in the fair value of certain debt investments. The fair value of our debt investments as a percentage of principal decreased by 1.8% for the six months ended June 30, 2026, driven primarily by changes in certain portfolio company fundamentals and broader economic conditions.

In addition, we recorded net unrealized losses of $8.7 million on foreign currency transactions, primarily attributable to fluctuations in the EUR exchange rate vs. USD.

Partially offsetting this depreciation six months ended June 30, 2026 were net unrealized gains of $23.0 million on derivative instruments, primarily resulting from fluctuations in the SEK, GBP and CAD exchange rates vs. USD.

Net Realized Gain (Loss)

The realized gains and losses on fully exited and partially exited investments comprised of the following (dollar amounts in thousands):

	Three Months Ended June 30,		Six Months Ended June 30,
	2026	2025	2026	2025
Net realized gain (loss) on investments	$(144,766)	$ 22,689	$(179,673)	$ (36,490)
Net realized gain (loss) on derivative instruments	59,611	(139,450)	79,216	(158,862)
Net realized gain (loss) on foreign currency and other transactions	24,628	3,819	1,934	16,434
Net realized gain (loss) on extinguishment of debt	(2,573)	(794)	(2,964)	(794)
Current tax expense on realized gains	(2,599)	—	(2,599)	(1,243)
Net realized gain (loss), net of tax expense	$ (65,699)	$(113,736)	$(104,086)	$(180,955)

For the three months ended June 30, 2026, the net realized loss, net of tax expense, was $65.7 million, compared to $113.7 million for the same period in the prior year. The net realized loss during the current period was primarily driven by the net realized losses on investments of $144.8 million, which were mainly attributable to the restructuring of certain debt investments and full or partial sales of investments.

In addition, we recognized losses on the extinguishment of debt of $3.0 million in connection with the repayment of certain financing arrangements, which primarily reflected the acceleration of unamortized debt issuance costs.

Partially offsetting these losses were net realized gains of $59.6 million and $24.6 million on derivative instruments and foreign currency and other transactions, respectively. Net realized gains on derivative instruments were primarily attributable to the settlement of foreign currency derivative transactions, mainly USD vs. EUR and CAD forwards. Net realized gains on foreign currency and other transactions mainly reflected fluctuations in the EUR and GBP exchange rates vs. USD.

For the six months ended June 30, 2026, the net realized losses, net of tax expense, was $104.1 million, compared to $181.0 million for the same period in the prior year. The net realized losses during the current period was primarily driven by realized losses on investments of $179.7 million, which were mainly attributable to the restructuring of certain debt investments and full or partial sales of investments, partially offset by gains on sales of equity investments.

In addition, we recognized losses on the extinguishment of debt of $3.0 million in connection with the repayment of certain financing arrangements which primarily reflected the acceleration of unamortized debt issuance costs.

Partially offsetting these losses were net realized gains of $79.2 million and $1.9 million on derivative instruments and foreign currency and other transactions, respectively. Net realized gains on derivative instruments were primarily a result of the settlement of foreign currency derivative transactions, mainly USD vs. EUR and CAD forwards. Net realized gains on foreign currency and other transactions mainly reflected fluctuations in the EUR and GBP exchange rates vs. USD.

Financial Condition, Liquidity and Capital Resources

We generate cash primarily from the net proceeds of our continuous offering of Common Shares, proceeds from net borrowings on our credit facilities and unsecured debt issuances, income earned and repayments on principal on our debt investments. The primary uses of our cash and cash equivalents are for (i) originating and purchasing debt and other investments, (ii) funding the costs of our operations (including fees paid to our Adviser and expense reimbursements paid to our Administrator), (iii) debt service, repayment and other financing costs of our borrowings, (iv) funding repurchases under our share repurchase program and (v) cash distributions to the holders of our Common Shares.

As of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, our debt consisted of asset based leverage facilities, a revolving credit facility, unsecured note issuances, short term borrowings related to repurchase obligations and debt securitizations. We have and will continue to, from time to time, enter into additional credit facilities, increase the size of our existing credit facilities or issue additional debt securities, including debt securitizations, unsecured debt and other forms of debt. Any such incurrence or issuance may be from sources within the U.S. or from various foreign geographies or jurisdictions, and may be denominated in currencies other than USD. Additionally, any such incurrence or issuance would be subject to prevailing market conditions, our liquidity requirements, contractual and regulatory restrictions and other factors. In accordance with the 1940 Act, with certain limited exceptions, we are only allowed to incur borrowings, issue debt securities or issue preferred stock, if immediately after the borrowing or issuance, the ratio of total assets (less total liabilities other than indebtedness) to total indebtedness plus preferred stock, is at least 150%. As of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, we had an aggregate principal amount of $35.3 billion and $35.1 billion of debt outstanding and our asset coverage ratio was 221.3% and 235.7%, respectively.

Cash and cash equivalents (excluding restricted cash) of $1.1 billion as of June 30, 2026, taken together with our $16.6 billion of unused capacity under our credit facilities (subject to borrowing base availability, $16.2 billion is available to borrow), proceeds from new or amended financing arrangements and the continuous offering of our Common Shares is expected to be sufficient for our investing activities and to conduct our operations in the near term. This determination is based in part on our expectations for the timing of funding investment purchases and the timing and amount of future proceeds from sales of our Common Shares and the use of existing and future financing arrangements. As of June 30, 2026, we had a significant amount of unfunded commitments, which we plan to fund using proceeds from offering our Common Shares and available borrowing capacity under our credit facilities. Additionally, we held $3.0 billion of Level 2 investments as of June 30, 2026.

Although we have historically been able to obtain sufficient borrowing capacity, a deterioration in economic conditions or any other negative economic developments could restrict our access to financing in the future. We may not be able to find new financing for future investments or liquidity needs and, even if we are able to obtain such financing, such financing may not be on as favorable terms as we have previously obtained. These factors may limit our ability to make new investments and adversely impact our results of operations.

As of June 30, 2026, we had $2.0 billion in cash and cash equivalents (including restricted cash). For the six months ended June 30, 2026, cash provided by operating activities was $4.4 billion, primarily due to proceeds from sales of investments and principal repayments of $8.8 billion and the adjustment for net unrealized depreciation of investments to net assets resulting from operations of $1.9 billion, partially offset by purchases of investments of $6.1 billion. Cash used in financing activities was $4.7 billion during the period, primarily as a result of share repurchases, net of early repurchase deduction paid, of $5.3 billion, and dividends paid in cash of $1.2 billion, partially offset by proceeds from the issuance of our Common Shares of $1.8 billion.

With respect to distributions, we have adopted an "opt out" distribution reinvestment plan (the "DRIP") for shareholders. As a result, in the event of a declared cash distribution or other distribution, each shareholder that has not "opted out" of the DRIP will have their dividends or distributions automatically reinvested in additional Common Shares rather than receiving cash distributions. Shareholders who receive distributions in the form of Common Shares will be subject to the same U.S. federal, state and local tax consequences as if they received cash distributions.

For additional information on our distributions and DRIP, see "Item 1. Financial Statements—Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements—Note 9. Net Assets."

Share Repurchase Program

We have implemented a share repurchase program under which, at the discretion of our Board, the Company may repurchase, in each quarter, up to 5% of the NAV of the Company's Common Shares outstanding (either by number of shares or aggregate NAV) as of the close of the previous calendar quarter. For the avoidance of doubt, such target amount is assessed each calendar quarter. The Board may amend or suspend the share repurchase program at any time (including to offer to purchase fewer shares) if in its reasonable judgment it deems such action to be in the best interest of shareholders, such as when a repurchase offer would place an undue burden on the Company's liquidity, adversely affect the Company's operations or risk having an adverse impact on the Company that would outweigh the benefit of the repurchase offer. As a result, share repurchases may not be available each quarter, or may only be available in an amount less than 5% of our Common Shares outstanding. The Company intends to conduct such repurchase offers in accordance with the requirements of Rule 13e-4 promulgated under the Exchange Act and the 1940 Act. Additionally, pursuant to Rule 23c-1(a)(10) under the 1940 Act, the Company may also repurchase its outstanding Common Shares outside of the share repurchase program. All Common Shares purchased pursuant to the terms of each tender offer will be retired and thereafter will be authorized and unissued shares.

Under the share repurchase program, to the extent the Company offers to repurchase Common Shares in any particular quarter, it is expected to repurchase Common Shares pursuant to tender offers using a purchase price equal to the NAV per share as of the last calendar day of the applicable quarter, except that shares that have not been outstanding for at least one year will be repurchased at 98% of such NAV (an "Early Repurchase Deduction"). The one-year holding period will be satisfied if at least one year has elapsed from (a) the issuance date of the applicable Common Shares to (b) the subscription date immediately following the valuation date used in the repurchase of such Common Shares. The Early Repurchase Deduction may be waived in the case of repurchase requests arising from the death, divorce or qualified disability of the holder; in the event that a shareholder's Common Shares are repurchased because the shareholder has failed to maintain the $500 minimum account balance; or due to trade or operational error. In addition, the Company's Common Shares are sold to certain investment vehicles (including feeder vehicles, registered investment companies or other investment funds), discretionary model portfolios and other similar arrangements. The Company, in its discretion, may waive Early Repurchase Deduction for such investment vehicles, discretionary model portfolios and other similar arrangements in appropriate circumstances, including, but not limited to, for administrative, operational, rebalancing, regulatory or other purposes. The Early Repurchase Deduction will be retained by the Company for the benefit of remaining shareholders.

For additional information on our share repurchase program, see "Item 1. Financial Statements—Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements—Note 9. Net Assets."

Borrowings

As of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, we had an aggregate principal amount of $35.3 billion and $35.1 billion, respectively, of debt outstanding.

For additional information on our debt obligations see "Item 1. Financial Statements—Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements—Note 7. Borrowings."

Interest Rate Swaps

We use interest rate swaps to mitigate interest rate risk associated with our fixed rate liabilities, and have designated certain interest rate swaps to be in a hedge accounting relationship.

See "Item 1. Financial Statements—Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements—Note 2. Significant Accounting Policies—Derivative Instruments" and "Item 1. Financial Statements—Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements—Note 6. Derivatives" for additional disclosure regarding our derivative instruments designated in a hedge accounting relationship.

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

Portfolio Company Commitments

Our investment portfolio contains and is expected to continue to contain debt investments which are in the form of lines of credit or delayed draw commitments, which require us to provide funding when requested by portfolio companies in accordance with underlying loan agreements. As of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, we had unfunded commitments, including delayed draw term loans and revolvers with an aggregate principal amount of $9.6 billion and $13.4 billion, respectively.

Additionally, from time to time, the Advisers and their affiliates may commit to an investment or commit to backstop the commitment of another lender on behalf of the investment vehicles they manage, including the Company. Certain terms of these investments or backstop arrangements are not finalized at the time of the commitment and each respective investment vehicle's allocation may change prior to the date of funding. In this regard, as of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, we estimate that $1,364.7 million and $1,271.1 million, respectively, of investments and backstop arrangements were committed but not yet funded.

Other Commitments and Contingencies

As of June 30, 2026 and December 31, 2025, $515.0 million and $497.3 million, respectively, of capital committed remained uncalled from the Company in relation to capital commitments to Emerald JV, Verdelite JV and SLC.

From time to time, we may become a party to certain legal proceedings incidental to the normal course of our business. As of June 30, 2026, management is not aware of any material pending legal proceedings.

Related-Party Transactions

We have entered into a number of business relationships with affiliated or related parties, including the following:

- the Investment Advisory Agreement;
- the Sub-Advisory Agreement;
- the Administration Agreement;
- the Intermediary Manager Agreement; and
- the Expense Support and Conditional Reimbursement Agreement.

In addition to the aforementioned agreements, we, Blackstone, our Advisers and certain of their affiliates have been granted exemptive relief by the SEC to co-invest with other funds managed by our Advisers, Blackstone or their affiliates in a manner consistent with our investment objectives, positions, policies, strategies and restrictions, as well as regulatory requirements and other pertinent factors.

The Company has investments in joint ventures that have been considered controlled/affiliated companies, including Emerald JV and Verdelite JV. From time to time, the Company may purchase investments from or sell investments to Emerald JV and Verdelite JV. For the six months ended June 30, 2026, the Company sold an investment to the Emerald JV with a par value of $1.1 billion, for a total cash purchase price based on then-current fair value (at the time of purchase) of $1.1 billion. The Company recognized $0.2 million of net realized gains as a result of sales of investments to the Emerald JV and are included in net realized gain (loss) on investments in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations. For the six months ended June 30, 2026, the Company did not purchase investments from or sell investments to Verdelite JV.

See "Item 1. Financial Statements—Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements—Note 3. Fees, Expenses, Agreements and Related Party Transactions" and "Item 1. Financial Statements—Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements—Note 11. Joint Ventures."

Recent Developments

Macroeconomic Environment

The six months ended June 30, 2026 were characterized by volatility and uncertainty in global markets, driven by investor concerns over inflation, elevated interest rates, and ongoing political and regulatory uncertainty, as well as geopolitical instability stemming from the conflicts in Ukraine and Iran and escalating conflicts in other parts of the Middle East.

Despite ongoing uncertainty relating to geopolitical conditions, the path of interest rates and artificial intelligence disruption in certain sectors, the economic backdrop has remained constructive. Nevertheless, inflation has remained above the U.S. Federal Reserve's target level and interest rates remain elevated relative to the interest rate environment prior to the inflationary spike in 2022-2023. Following three consecutive rate cuts in 2025, the U.S. Federal Reserve held interest rates steady since December 2025 and for the first half of 2026 and noted, among other matters, that it would continue to assess and monitor incoming information in considering additional adjustments. While our business model benefits from elevated interest rates which, all else being equal, correlate to increases in our net income, higher borrowing costs may strain our existing portfolio companies, potentially leading to nonperformance. Rising interest rates can dampen consumer spending and slow corporate profit growth, negatively impacting our portfolio companies, particularly those vulnerable to economic downturns or recessions. While further interest rate hikes are not expected at this time, any renewed increases could lead to a rise in non-performing assets and decline in portfolio value if investment write-downs become necessary. Additionally, adverse economic conditions may erode the value of collateral securing some of our loans and reduce the value of our equity investments. It remains difficult to predict the full impact of recent and any future changes with respect to interest rates or inflation.

Further contributing to economic uncertainty, the current U.S. presidential administration has taken substantial actions with respect to international trade policy, including seeking to renegotiate certain existing bilateral or multi-lateral trade agreements and treaties with foreign countries. In February 2026, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that many of the tariffs recently imposed by the U.S. government exceeded its authority, thereby invalidating many, but not all, of such tariffs. Subsequent to the U.S. Supreme Court's ruling, the U.S. presidential administration raised potential alternative means through which the administration could impose tariffs and has imposed new tariffs in July 2026. Such uncertainty and/or tariffs or counter-measures could further increase costs, decrease margins, reduce the competitiveness of products and services offered by our portfolio companies and adversely affect the revenues and profitability of our portfolio companies whose businesses rely on imported goods. Meanwhile, substantial reductions in government spending could negatively affect certain of our portfolio companies that rely on government contracts, destabilize the U.S. government contracting market and harm our ability to generate expected returns. Additionally, changes in the regulation or enforcement of bank lending and capital requirements could have material and adverse effects on the private credit market. In light of these developments, there can be no assurances that political and regulatory conditions will not worsen and adversely affect the Company, its portfolio companies or their respective financial performance.

Critical Accounting Estimates

The preparation of the condensed consolidated financial statements requires us to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses. Changes in the economic environment, financial markets, and any other parameters used in determining such estimates could cause actual results to differ.

Our critical accounting policies and estimates, including those relating to the valuation of our investment portfolio, are described in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2025, filed with the SEC on March 13, 2026, and elsewhere in our filings with the SEC. There have been no material changes in our critical accounting policies and practices.

Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk.

Uncertainty with respect to the economic conditions has introduced significant volatility in the financial markets, and the effect of the volatility could materially impact our market risks. We are subject to financial market risks, including valuation risk and interest rate risk. Our exposure to valuation risk has not materially changed from what was previously disclosed in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2025.

Interest Rate Risk

Interest rate sensitivity refers to the change in earnings that may result from changes in the level of interest rates. We intend to fund portions of our investments with borrowings, and at such time, our net investment income will be affected by the difference between the rate at which we invest and the rate at which we borrow.

Accordingly, we cannot assure shareholders that a significant change in market interest rates will not have a material adverse effect on our net investment income.

In a declining interest rate environment, the difference between the total interest income earned on interest earning assets and the total interest expense incurred on interest bearing liabilities may be compressed, reducing our net income and potentially adversely affecting our operating results. Conversely, in a rising interest rate environment, such difference could potentially increase thereby increasing our net income as indicated per the table below.

As of June 30, 2026, 99.8% of our performing debt investments based on fair value in our portfolio were at floating rates. Based on our Condensed Consolidated Statements of Assets and Liabilities as of June 30, 2026, the following table shows the annualized impact on net income of hypothetical base rate changes in interest rates (considering interest rate floors and ceilings for floating rate instruments assuming no changes in our investment and borrowing structure) (dollar amounts in thousands):

	Interest Income	Interest Expense	Net Income [1]
Up 300 basis points	$ 2,255,596	$(958,611)	$ 1,296,985
Up 200 basis points	1,503,719	(639,074)	864,645
Up 100 basis points	751,843	(319,537)	432,306
Down 100 basis points	(751,111)	319,537	(431,574)
Down 200 basis points	(1,498,656)	639,074	(859,582)
Down 300 basis points	(2,191,012)	958,611	(1,232,401)

(1) Excludes the impact of incentive fees. See "Item 1. Financial Statements—Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements—Note 3. Fees, Expenses, Agreements and Related Party Transactions" for further information.

We may in the future hedge against interest rate fluctuations by using hedging instruments such as additional interest rate swaps, futures, options and forward contracts. While hedging activities may mitigate our exposure to adverse fluctuations in interest rates, certain hedging transactions that we may enter into in the future, such as interest rate swap agreements, may also limit our ability to participate in the benefits of changes in interest rates with respect to our portfolio investments.

Item 4. Controls and Procedures.

(a) Evaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures

The Company maintains disclosure controls and procedures (as that term is defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Exchange Act) that are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed in the Company's reports under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in the SEC's rules and forms, and that such information is accumulated and communicated to the Company's management, including its Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, as appropriate, to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosures. Any controls and procedures, no matter how well designed and operated, can provide only reasonable assurance of achieving the desired control objectives. An evaluation of the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures as of the end of the period covered by this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q was made under the supervision and with the participation of our management, including our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer.

Based upon this evaluation, our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer have concluded that the design and operation of our disclosure controls and procedures are (a) effective at the reasonable assurance level to ensure that information required to be disclosed by us in reports filed or submitted under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified by SEC rules and forms and (b) include, without limitation, controls and procedures designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed by us in reports filed or submitted under the Exchange Act is accumulated and communicated to our management, including our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, as appropriate, to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

(b) Changes in Internal Controls Over Financial Reporting

There have been no changes in our internal control over financial reporting that occurred during our most recently completed fiscal quarter that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.

PART II—OTHER INFORMATION

Item 1. Legal Proceedings.

We are not currently subject to any material legal proceedings. From time to time, we may be a party to certain legal proceedings in the ordinary course of business, including proceedings relating to the enforcement of our rights under contracts with our portfolio companies. Our business is also subject to extensive regulation, which may result in regulatory proceedings against us.

Item 1A. Risk Factors.

BLACKSTONE PRIVATE CREDIT FUND
SUPPLEMENT NO. 1 DATED MAY 21, 2026
TO THE PROSPECTUS DATED MAY 1, 2026

This prospectus supplement ("Supplement") is part of and should be read in conjunction with the prospectus of Blackstone Private Credit Fund ("we," "our" or the "Fund"), dated May 1, 2026 (as supplemented to date, the "Prospectus"). Unless otherwise defined herein, capitalized terms used in this Supplement shall have the same meanings as in the Prospectus.

The purposes of this Supplement are:

- to update the Prospectus; and
- to include our Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended March 31, 2026.

Updates to Prospectus

The following replaces the seventh bullet of the "What potential strengths do the Advisers offer?" section of the Prospectus Summary, the twelfth paragraph under the "Investment Objectives and Strategies – Blackstone Credit & Insurance Strengths" section of the Prospectus and all similar disclosure in the Prospectus:

Strong Investment Track Record. Blackstone Credit & Insurance's track record in private debt lending and investing in below investment grade credit dates back to the inception of Blackstone Credit & Insurance. Since 2005 through March 31, 2026, Blackstone Credit & Insurance has invested over $290 billion in capital in privately-originated transactions.[1] Specifically within the North America Direct Lending strategy, Blackstone Credit & Insurance has invested over $164 billion[2] in privately-originated or privately negotiated first lien and unitranche transactions. Corresponding to this North America Direct Lending track record, Blackstone Credit &

[1] Includes invested and committed capital for privately originated and anchor investments across private credit strategies and vehicles since 2005, including Direct Lending, Sustainable Resources, Mezzanine, and Opportunistic. Excludes liquid credit strategy investments.

[2] As of March 31, 2026. The North America Direct Lending track record represents U.S. and Canada first lien and unitranche debt, or non-U.S. first lien and unitranche debt where >50% of the revenue is generated from the U.S. (which may be secured by the applicable borrower's assets and/or equity), transactions in companies that were originated or anchored by certain Blackstone Credit & Insurance managed, advised or sub-advised funds (including the Fund, Blackstone Credit & Insurance managed mezzanine funds and Blackstone Credit & Insurance sub-advised BDCs, as well as certain other Blackstone Credit & Insurance managed funds and accounts) and, with respect to certain transactions, investments allocated to affiliates of Blackstone Credit & Insurance, which may be sold to Blackstone Credit & Insurance managed funds or accounts in the future (the "North America Direct Lending track record"). The track record includes investments for periods prior to December 31, 2017, in BDCs that were sub-advised by Blackstone Credit & Insurance on a non-discretionary basis until April 9, 2018 (the "Sub-Advised Investments"). With respect to certain transactions, the North America Direct Lending track record includes free equity and/or warrants that accompanied the debt financings, as well as any loans or securities into which the applicable first lien and unitranche debt may have been restructured subsequent to Blackstone Credit & Insurance's initial investment. The North America Direct Lending track record excludes (i) broadly syndicated, mezzanine, second lien and equity (other than the aforementioned free equity and/or warrants or securities issued upon restructuring) transactions, among others and (ii) transactions where Blackstone Credit & Insurance's invested capital (net of transactions fees) was under $25 million.

Insurance has an annualized loss rate of 0.06%.[3] We believe maintaining this consistent strategy in the North America Direct Lending strategy across market cycles, with a specific emphasis on combining current yield, downside protection, and inflation protection, will generate compelling investment outcomes for the Adviser. Blackstone Credit & Insurance believes that the depth and breadth of its team provides it with a competitive advantage in sourcing product on a global basis, structuring transactions and actively managing investments in the portfolio.

Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the Quarter Ended March 31, 2026

On May 14, 2026, we filed our Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended March 31, 2026 with the Securities and Exchange Commission. The report (without exhibits) is attached to this Supplement.

[3] As of March 31, 2026. The annualized loss rate represents annualized net losses for substantially realized investments. Whether an investment is substantially realized is determined in the manager's discretion. Investments are included in the loss rate if (1) a payment was missed, (2) bankruptcy was declared, (3) there was a restructuring, or (4) it was realized with a total multiple on invested capital less than 1.0x. Net losses include all profits and losses associated with these investments, including interest payments received. Net losses are represented in the year the investment is substantially realized and excludes all losses associated with unrealized investments. The annualized net loss rate is the net losses divided by the average annual remaining invested capital within the platform. Investments sourced by Blackstone Credit & Insurance for the Sub-Advised Investments did, in certain cases, experience defaults and losses after Blackstone Credit & Insurance was no longer sub-adviser, and such defaults and losses are not included in the rates provided. Prior to December 31, 2022, the methodology used by the North America Direct Lending track record for calculating the platform's average annual loss rate was based on net loss of principal resulting only from payment defaults in the year of default which would exclude interest payments. Past performance is not necessarily indicative of future results, and there can be no assurance that Blackstone Credit & Insurance will achieve comparable results or that any entity or account managed by or advised by Blackstone Credit & Insurance will be able to implement its investment strategy or achieve its investment objectives.

(1) Unless otherwise indicated, all debt and equity investments held by the Company (which such term "Company" shall include the Company's consolidated subsidiaries for purposes of this Condensed Consolidated Schedule of Investments) are denominated in U.S. Dollars. As of March 31, 2026, the Company had investments denominated in Canadian Dollars (CAD), Euros (EUR), British Pounds (GBP), Swiss Francs (CHF), Danish Krone (DKK), Swedish Krona (SEK), Norwegian Krone (NOK), New Zealand Dollars (NZD), and Australian Dollars (AUD). All debt investments are income producing unless otherwise indicated. All equity investments are non-income producing unless otherwise noted. Certain portfolio company investments are subject to contractual restrictions on sales. The total par amount (in thousands) is presented for debt investments and structured finance obligations, while the number of shares or units (in whole amounts) owned is presented for equity investments. Each of the Company's investments is pledged as collateral, under one or more of its credit facilities unless otherwise indicated.

(2) Variable rate loans to the portfolio companies bear interest at a rate that is determined by reference to either Sterling Overnight Interbank Average Rate ("SONIA" or "S"), Euro Interbank Offer Rate ("Euribor" or "E"), Secured Overnight Financing Rate ("SOFR"), Stockholm Interbank Offered Rate ("STIBOR" or "ST"), Copenhagen Interbank Offered Rate ("CIBOR" or "CI"), Norwegian Interbank Offered Rate ("NIBOR" or "N"), Swiss Average Rate Overnight ("SARON" or "SA"), New Zealand Bank Bill Reference Rate ("BKBM" or "B"), Australian Bank Bill Swap Bid Rate ("BBSY" or "BB"), Canadian Overnight Repo Rate Average ("CORRA" or "CA"), or an alternate base rate (commonly based on the Federal Funds Rate ("F") or the U.S. Prime Rate ("P")), which generally resets periodically. For each loan, the Company has indicated the reference rate used and provided the spread and the interest rate in effect as of March 31, 2026. Variable rate loans typically include an interest reference rate floor feature.

(3) The cost represents the original cost adjusted for the amortization of discounts and premiums, as applicable, on debt investments using the effective interest method in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP").

(4) These investments were valued using unobservable inputs and are considered Level 3 investments. Fair value was determined in good faith by or under the direction of the Board of Trustees (see Note 2 and Note 5), pursuant to the Company's valuation policy.

(5) These debt investments are not pledged as collateral under any of the Company's credit facilities. For other debt investments that are pledged to the Company's credit facilities, a single investment may be divided into parts that are individually pledged as collateral to separate credit facilities. Any other debt investments listed above are pledged to financing facilities, CLOs and short-term borrowings and are not available to satisfy the creditors of the Company.

(6) The investment is not a qualifying asset under Section 55(a) of the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (together with the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, the "1940 Act"). The Company may not acquire any non-qualifying asset unless, at the time of acquisition, qualifying assets represent at least 70.0% of the Company's total assets. As of March 31, 2026, non-qualifying assets represented 25.4% of total assets as calculated in accordance with regulatory requirements.

(7) Position or portion thereof is an unfunded commitment, and no interest is being earned on the unfunded portion, although the investment may be subject to unused commitment fees. Negative cost and fair value results from unamortized fees, which are capitalized to the investment cost. The unfunded commitment may be subject to a commitment termination date that may expire prior to the maturity date stated. See below for more information on the Company's unfunded commitments:

(1) Unless otherwise indicated, all debt and equity investments held by the Company (which such term "Company" shall include the Company's consolidated subsidiaries for purposes of this Condensed Consolidated Schedule of Investments) are denominated in U.S. Dollars. As of December 31, 2025, the Company had investments denominated in Canadian Dollars (CAD), Euros (EUR), British Pounds (GBP), Swiss Francs (CHF), Danish Krone (DKK), Swedish Krona (SEK), Norwegian Krone (NOK), New Zealand Dollars (NZD), and Australian Dollars (AUD). All debt investments are income producing unless otherwise indicated. All equity investments are non-income producing unless otherwise noted. Certain portfolio company investments are subject to contractual restrictions on sales. The total par amount (in thousands) is presented for debt investments and structured finance obligations, while the number of shares or units (in whole amounts) owned is presented for equity investments. Each of the Company's investments is pledged as collateral, under one or more of its credit facilities unless otherwise indicated.

(2) Variable rate loans to the portfolio companies bear interest at a rate that is determined by reference to either Sterling Overnight Interbank Average Rate ("SONIA" or "S"), Euro Interbank Offer Rate ("Euribor" or "E"), Secured Overnight Financing Rate ("SOFR"), Stockholm Interbank Offered Rate ("STIBOR" or "ST"), Copenhagen Interbank Offered Rate ("CIBOR" or "CI"), Norwegian Interbank Offered Rate ("NIBOR" or "N"), Swiss Average Rate Overnight ("SARON" or "SA"), New Zealand Bank Bill Reference Rate ("BKBM" or "B"), Australian Bank Bill Swap Bid Rate ("BBSY" or "BB"), Canadian Overnight Repo Rate Average ("CORRA" or "CA"), or an alternate base rate (commonly based on the Federal Funds Rate ("F") or the U.S. Prime Rate ("P")), which generally resets periodically. For each loan, the Company has indicated the reference rate used and provided the spread and the interest rate in effect as of December 31, 2025. Variable rate loans typically include an interest reference rate floor feature.

(3) The cost represents the original cost adjusted for the amortization of discounts and premiums, as applicable, on debt investments using the effective interest method in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP").

(4) These investments were valued using unobservable inputs and are considered Level 3 investments. Fair value was determined in good faith by or under the direction of the Board (see Note 2 and Note 5), pursuant to the Company's valuation policy.

(5) These debt investments are not pledged as collateral under any of the Company's credit facilities. For other debt investments that are pledged to the Company's credit facilities, a single investment may be divided into parts that are individually pledged as collateral to separate credit facilities. Any other debt investments listed above are pledged to financing facilities, CLOs and short-term borrowings and are not available to satisfy the creditors of the Company.

(6) The investment is not a qualifying asset under Section 55(a) of the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (together with the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, the "1940 Act"). The Company may not acquire any non-qualifying asset unless, at the time of acquisition, qualifying assets represent at least 70.0% of the Company's total assets. As of December 31, 2025, non-qualifying assets represented 24.3% of total assets as calculated in accordance with regulatory requirements.

(7) Position or portion thereof is an unfunded commitment, and no interest is being earned on the unfunded portion, although the investment may be subject to unused commitment fees. Negative cost and fair value results from unamortized fees, which are capitalized to the investment cost. The unfunded commitment may be subject to a commitment termination date that may expire prior to the maturity date stated. See below for more information on the Company's unfunded commitments:

Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements
(Unaudited)
(in thousands, except share amounts, per share data, percentages and as otherwise noted)

Note 1. Organization

Blackstone Private Credit Fund (together with its consolidated subsidiaries "BCRED" or the "Company"), is a Delaware statutory trust formed on February 11, 2020, and structured as an externally managed, non-diversified, closed-end management investment company. The Company has elected to be regulated as a business development company (a "BDC") under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (together with the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, the "1940 Act"). In addition, the Company has elected to be treated for U.S. federal income tax purposes, and intends to qualify annually, as a regulated investment company (a "RIC") under Subchapter M of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (together with the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, the "Code").

The Company is externally managed by Blackstone Private Credit Strategies LLC (the "Adviser") and Blackstone Credit BDC Advisors LLC (the "Sub-Adviser" and, together with the Adviser, the "Advisers"). The Advisers are affiliates of Blackstone Alternative Credit Advisors LP (the "Sub-Administrator" and, collectively with its affiliates in the credit, asset based finance and insurance asset management business unit of Blackstone Inc. ("Blackstone"), "Blackstone Credit & Insurance," or "BXCI"). Additionally, Blackstone Private Credit Strategies LLC, in its capacity as the administrator to the Company (in such capacity, the "Administrator" and, together with the Sub-Administrator, the "Administrators"), and the Sub-Administrator provide certain administrative and other services necessary for the Company to operate pursuant to an administration agreement between the Administrator and the Company (the "Administration Agreement") and a sub-administration agreement between the Administrator and the Sub-Administrator (the "Sub-Administration Agreement," and together with the Administration Agreement, the "Administration Agreements"), respectively. From commencement through December 31, 2024, Blackstone Credit BDC Advisors LLC served as the Company's investment adviser (in such capacity, the "Prior Adviser") and Blackstone Alternative Credit Advisors LP served as the Company's administrator (in such capacity, the "Prior Administrator").

The Company was formed to invest primarily in originated loans and other securities, including broadly syndicated loans, of U.S. private companies. The Company's investment objectives are to generate current income and, to a lesser extent, long-term capital appreciation. Under normal circumstances, the Company will invest at least 80% of its total assets (net assets plus borrowings for investment purposes) in private credit investments (loans, bonds and other credit instruments that are issued in private offerings or issued by private companies). Under normal circumstances, the Company expects that the majority of its portfolio will be in privately originated and privately negotiated investments, predominantly direct lending to U.S. private companies through (i) first lien senior secured and unitranche loans (including first-out/last-out loans) and (ii) second lien, unsecured, subordinated or mezzanine loans and structured credit, as well as broadly syndicated loans (for which the Company may serve as an anchor investor), club deals (generally investments made by a small group of investment firms) and other debt and equity securities (the investments described in this sentence, collectively, "Private Credit"). To a lesser extent, the Company may also invest in publicly traded securities of large corporate issuers. The Company expects that such investments will generally be liquid, and may be used for the purposes of maintaining liquidity for the Company's share repurchase program and cash management, while also presenting an opportunity for attractive investment returns.

The Company offers on a continuous basis up to $45.0 billion of common shares of beneficial interest ("Common Shares") pursuant to an offering registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC"). The Company offers to sell any combination of three classes of Common Shares, Class I shares, Class S shares and Class D shares, with a dollar value up to the maximum offering amount. The share classes have different ongoing shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees. The purchase price per share for each class of Common Shares equals the net asset value ("NAV") per share, as of the effective date of the monthly share purchase date.

Blackstone Securities Partners L.P. (the "Intermediary Manager") will use its best efforts to sell shares, but is not obligated to purchase or sell any specific amount of shares in the offering. The Company also engages in private offerings of its Common Shares, including to affiliates that are registered under the 1940 Act or regulated as BDCs under the 1940 Act.

Note 2. Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Presentation

The condensed consolidated financial statements have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States ("GAAP") and pursuant to the requirements for reporting on Form 10-Q and Article 6 and 10 of Regulation S-X. Accordingly, certain disclosures accompanying the annual consolidated financial statements prepared in accordance with GAAP are omitted. As an investment company, the Company applies the accounting and reporting guidance in Accounting Standards Codification ("ASC") Topic 946, Financial Services—Investment Companies ("ASC 946") issued by the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB").

In the opinion of management, all adjustments considered necessary for the fair presentation of the condensed consolidated financial statements for the interim period presented have been included. The current period's results of operations will not necessarily be indicative of results that ultimately may be achieved for the fiscal year ending December 31, 2026.

All intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated.

Certain prior period information has been reclassified to conform to the current period presentation.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of condensed consolidated financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the condensed consolidated financial statements. Such amounts could differ from those estimates and such differences could be material. Assumptions and estimates regarding the valuation of investments involve a higher degree of judgment and complexity and these assumptions and estimates may be significant to the condensed consolidated financial statements. Actual results may ultimately differ from those estimates.

The Company does not consolidate its investments in the BCRED Emerald JV LP (“Emerald JV”) or BCRED Verdelite JV LP (“Verdelite JV”) joint ventures. For further description of the Company’s joint ventures, see “Note 11. Joint Ventures.”

Cash and Cash Equivalents and Restricted Cash

Cash and cash equivalents consist of demand deposits and highly liquid investments, such as money market funds, with original maturities of three months or less. Cash and cash equivalents are carried at cost, which approximates fair value. The Company deposits its cash and cash equivalents with financial institutions which, at times, may exceed the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation insured limit. Restricted cash and cash equivalents include amounts that are collected and are held by trustees who have been appointed as custodians of the assets securing certain of the Company’s financing transactions. Restricted cash and cash equivalents are held by the trustees for payment of interest expense and principal on the outstanding borrowings or reinvestment into new assets.

Investments

Investment transactions are recorded on a trade date basis.

Realized gains or losses are measured by the difference between the net proceeds received (excluding prepayment fees, if any) and the amortized cost basis of the investment using the specific identification method without regard to unrealized gains or losses previously recognized, and include investments charged off during the period, net of recoveries, and is recorded within Net realized gain (loss) on the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations.

The net change in unrealized gains or losses primarily reflects the change in investment values, including the reversal of previously recorded unrealized gains or losses with respect to investments realized during the period, and is recorded within Net change in unrealized appreciation (depreciation) on the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations.

Valuation of Investments

The Company is required to report its investments, including those for which current market values are not readily available, at fair value.

The Company values its investments in accordance with ASC 820, Fair Value Measurements ("ASC 820"), which defines fair value as the amount that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the applicable measurement date, and Rule 2a-5 under the 1940 Act.

Under ASC 820, fair value is based on observable market prices or parameters or derived from such prices or parameters when such quotations are readily available. In accordance with Rule 2a-5 under the 1940 Act, fair value means the value of a portfolio investment for which market quotations are not readily available. A market quotation is "readily available" only when it is a quoted price (unadjusted) in active markets for identical instruments that a fund can access at the measurement date, provided that such a quotation is not considered to be readily available if it is not reliable.

Where prices or inputs are not available or, in the judgment of the Board of Trustees (the "Board" or the "Board of Trustees"), with assistance of the Advisers, the Audit Committee and independent valuation firm(s), determined to be not reliable, valuation techniques based on the facts and circumstances of the particular investment will be utilized. These valuation approaches involve some level of management estimation and judgment, the degree of which is dependent on the price transparency for the investments or market and the investments' complexity. In the absence of observable, reliable market prices, the Company values its investments using various valuation methodologies applied on a consistent basis.

An enterprise value ("EV") analysis is generally performed to determine the value of equity investments, control debt investments and non-control debt investments that are credit-impaired, and to determine if debt investments are credit-impaired. The Advisers will generally utilize approaches including the market approach, the income approach or both approaches, as appropriate, when calculating EV. The primary method for determining EV for non-control investments, and control investments without reliable projections, uses a multiple analysis whereby appropriate multiples are applied to the portfolio company's earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization ("EBITDA") or another key financial metric (e.g., such as revenues, cash flows or net income) ("Performance Multiple"). Performance Multiples are typically determined based upon a review of publicly-traded comparable companies and market comparable transactions, if any. The second method for determining EV (and primary method for control investments with reliable projections) uses a discounted cash flow analysis whereby future expected cash flows and the anticipated terminal value of the portfolio company are discounted to determine a present value using estimated discount rates. The income approach is generally used when the Advisers have visibility into the long-term projected cash flows of a portfolio company.

If debt investments are credit-impaired, which occurs when there is insufficient coverage under the enterprise value analysis through the respective investment's position in the capital structure, the Advisers generally use the enterprise value "waterfall" approach or a recovery method (if a liquidation or restructuring is deemed likely) to determine fair value. For debt investments that are not determined to be credit-impaired, the Advisers generally use a market interest rate yield analysis to determine fair value. To determine fair value using a yield analysis, the expected cash flows are projected based on the contractual terms of the debt security and discounted back to the measurement date based on a market yield. A market yield is determined based upon an assessment of current and expected market yields for similar investments and risk profiles. The Company considers the current contractual interest rate, the maturity and other terms of the investment relative to risk of the company and the specific investment. A key determinant of risk, among other things, is the leverage through the investment relative to the enterprise value of the portfolio company. As debt investments held by the Company are substantially illiquid with no active transaction market, the Company depends on primary market data, including newly funded transactions, as well as secondary market data with respect to high yield debt instruments and syndicated loans, as inputs in determining the appropriate market yield, as applicable. The fair value of loans with call protection is generally capped at par plus applicable prepayment premium in effect at the measurement date.

ASC 820 prioritizes the use of observable market prices derived from such prices. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1 measurements) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3 measurements). The levels used for classifying investments are not necessarily an indication of the risk associated with investing in these securities. The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are as follows:

- Level 1: Inputs to the valuation methodology are quoted prices available in active markets for identical instruments as of the reporting date. The types of financial instruments included in Level 1 may include unrestricted securities, including equities and derivatives, listed in active markets.
- Level 2: Inputs to the valuation methodology are other than quoted prices in active markets, which are either directly or indirectly observable as of the reporting date. The types of financial instruments in this category may include less liquid and restricted securities listed in active markets, securities traded in other than active markets, government and agency securities and certain over-the-counter derivatives where the fair value is based on observable inputs.
- Level 3: Inputs to the valuation methodology are unobservable and significant to overall fair value measurement. The inputs into the determination of fair value require significant management judgment or estimation. Financial instruments that are included in this category may include debt and equity investments in privately held entities, collateralized loan obligations ("CLOs") and certain over-the-counter derivatives where the fair value is based on unobservable inputs.

In certain cases, the inputs used to measure fair value may fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy. In such cases, an investment's level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the overall fair value measurement. The Board's assessment, with the assistance of the Advisers, the Audit Committee and independent valuation firm(s), of the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement in its entirety requires judgment, and considers factors specific to the investment. Transfers between levels, if any, are recognized at the beginning of the quarter in which the transfer occurs.

The Company evaluates the source of the inputs, including any markets in which its investments are trading (or any markets in which securities with similar attributes are trading), in determining fair value. When an investment is valued based on prices provided by reputable dealers or pricing services (that is, broker quotes), the Company subjects those prices to various criteria in making the determination as to whether a particular investment would qualify for treatment as a Level 2 or Level 3 investment.

Due to the inherent uncertainty of determining the fair value of investments that do not have a readily available market value, the fair value of the Company's investments may fluctuate from period to period, and these differences could be material. Additionally, the fair value of the Company's investments may differ significantly from the values that would have been used had a ready market existed for such investments and may differ materially from the values that the Company may ultimately realize. Further, such investments are generally subject to legal and other restrictions on resale or otherwise are less liquid than publicly traded securities. If the Company was required to liquidate a portfolio investment in a forced or liquidation sale, it could realize significantly less than the value at which the Company has recorded it. In addition, changes in the market environment and other events that may occur over the life of the investments may cause the gains or losses ultimately realized on these investments to be different than the unrealized gains or losses reflected in the valuations currently assigned. See "Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations—Critical Accounting Estimates."

Receivables/Payables From Investments Sold/Purchased

Receivables/payables from investments sold/purchased consist of amounts receivable to or payable by the Company for transactions that have not settled at the reporting date.

Derivative Instruments

The Company recognizes all derivative instruments as assets or liabilities at fair value in its Condensed Consolidated Statements of Assets and Liabilities as Derivative assets at fair value and Derivative liabilities at fair value, respectively.

In the normal course of business, the Company has commitments and risks resulting from its investment transactions, which may include those involving derivative instruments. Derivative instruments are measured in terms of the notional contract amount and derive their value based upon one or more underlying instruments. While the notional amount gives some indication of the Company's derivative activity, it generally is not exchanged, but is only used as the basis on which interest and other payments are exchanged. Derivative instruments are subject to various risks similar to non-derivative instruments including market, credit, liquidity, and operational risks. The Company manages these risks on an aggregate basis as part of its risk management process.

From time to time, the Company may enter into forward currency contracts which is an obligation between two parties to purchase or sell a specific currency for an agreed-upon price at a future date. The Company utilizes forward currency contracts to economically hedge the currency exposure associated with certain foreign currency denominated assets and liabilities of the Company. The use of forward currency contracts does not eliminate fluctuations in the price of the underlying debt the Company has, but establishes a rate of exchange in advance. Fluctuations in the value of these contracts are measured by the difference in the exchange rates on the contract date and reporting date and are recorded as net change in unrealized appreciation (depreciation). The fair value of the foreign currency forwards is included as Derivative assets at fair value or Derivative liabilities at fair value on the Company's Condensed Consolidated Statements of Assets and Liabilities. Changes in the fair value of the foreign currency forwards are presented in Net change in unrealized appreciation (depreciation): Derivative instruments and Net realized gains (losses): Derivative instruments in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations.

Additionally, the Company uses interest rate swaps to mitigate interest rate risk associated with the Company's fixed rate liabilities. The fair value of the interest rate swaps is included as Derivative assets at fair value or Derivative liabilities at fair value on the Company's Condensed Consolidated Statements of Assets and Liabilities. Changes in fair value of interest rate swaps entered into by the Company and not designated as hedging instruments are presented in Net realized gains (losses) and Net change in unrealized appreciation (depreciation) in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations. The Company designated certain interest rate swaps as the hedging instrument in a qualifying fair value hedge accounting relationship, and therefore the change in fair value of the hedging instrument and hedged item are recorded in Interest expense and recognized as components of Interest expense in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations. The change in fair value of the interest rate swap is offset by a change in the carrying value of the fixed rate debt.

The Company has elected to not offset derivative assets and derivative liabilities in its Condensed Consolidated Statements of Assets and Liabilities including for the cash collateral, that may be received or paid as part of collateral arrangements, even when an enforceable master netting agreement is in place that provides the Company, in the event of counterparty default, the right to liquidate collateral and the right to offset a counterparty's rights and obligations.

Forward Purchase Agreement

Forward purchase agreements are recognized at fair value through current period gains or losses on the date on which the contract is entered into and are subsequently re-measured at fair value. All forward purchase agreements are carried as assets when fair value is positive and as liabilities when fair value is negative. A forward purchase agreement is derecognized when the obligation specified in the contract is discharged, canceled or expired.

Foreign Currency Transactions

Amounts denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollars ("USD") on the following basis: (i) investments and other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into USD based upon currency exchange rates effective on the last business day of the period; and (ii) purchases and sales of investments, borrowings and repayments of such borrowings, income, and expenses denominated in foreign currencies are translated into USD based upon currency exchange rates prevailing on the transaction dates.

The Company includes net changes in fair values on investments held resulting from foreign exchange rate fluctuations in Foreign currency and other transactions in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations, if any. Foreign security and currency transactions may involve certain considerations and risks not typically associated with investing in U.S. companies and U.S. government securities. These risks include, but are not limited to, currency fluctuations and revaluations and future adverse political, social and economic developments, which could cause investments in foreign markets to be less liquid and prices more volatile than those of comparable U.S. companies or U.S. government securities.

Revenue Recognition

Interest Income

Interest income is recorded on an accrual basis and includes the accretion of discounts and amortizations of premiums. Discounts from and premiums to par value on debt investments purchased are accreted/amortized into interest income over the life of the respective security using the effective interest method. The amortized cost of debt investments represents the original cost, including loan origination fees and upfront fees received that are deemed to be an adjustment to yield, adjusted for the accretion of discounts and amortization of premiums, if any. Upon prepayment of a loan or debt security, any prepayment premiums, unamortized upfront loan origination fees and unamortized discounts are recorded as interest income in the current period. For the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025, the Company recorded $17.8 million and $45.8 million, respectively, in non-recurring interest income (e.g., prepayment premiums, accelerated accretion of upfront loan origination fees and unamortized discounts).

PIK Income

The Company has investments in its portfolio that contain payment-in-kind ("PIK") provisions. PIK represents interest or non-cash dividends that are accrued and recorded as interest or dividend income at the contractual rates, increases the principal on the respective capitalization dates, and is generally due at maturity. Such income is included in Payment-in-kind interest income or Non-cash dividend income in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations. If at any point the Company expects that PIK will not be realized, the investment generating PIK will be placed on non-accrual status. When a PIK investment is placed on non-accrual status, the accrued, uncapitalized interest or dividends are generally reversed through Payment-in-kind interest income or Non-cash dividend income. To satisfy the Company's annual RIC distribution requirements, this non-cash source of income must be included in determining the amounts to be paid out to shareholders in the form of dividends, even though the Company has not yet collected cash.

Dividend Income

Dividend income on preferred equity securities is recorded on an accrual basis to the extent that such amounts are payable by the portfolio company and are expected to be collected. Dividend income on common equity securities and on the Company's equity interests in its joint ventures is recorded on the record date for private portfolio companies or on the ex-dividend date for publicly-traded portfolio companies.

Other Income

The Company may receive various fees in the ordinary course of business such as structuring, consent, waiver, amendment, syndication and other miscellaneous fees, as well as fees for managerial assistance rendered by the Company to the portfolio companies. Such fees are recognized as income when earned or the services are rendered.

Non-Accrual Income

Loans are generally placed on non-accrual status when there is reasonable doubt whether principal or interest will be collected in full. Accrued interest is generally reversed when a loan is placed on non-accrual status. Additionally, any original issue discount and market discount are no longer accreted to interest income as of the date the loan is placed on non-accrual status. Interest payments received on non-accrual loans may be recognized as income or applied to principal depending upon management's judgment regarding collectability. Non-accrual loans are restored to accrual status when past due principal and interest is paid current and, in management's judgment, are likely to remain current. Management may make exceptions to this treatment and determine to not place a loan on non-accrual status if the loan has sufficient collateral value and is in the process of collection.

For further information regarding the non-accrual status of investments, refer to "Note 4. Investments."

Offering Expenses

Costs associated with the offering of the Company's shares are capitalized as Deferred offering costs in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Assets and Liabilities and amortized over a twelve-month period from incurrence. These expenses consist primarily of legal fees and other costs incurred in connection with the Company's continuous offering.

Deferred Financing Costs and Debt Issuance Costs

Deferred financing and debt issuance costs represent fees and other direct incremental costs incurred in connection with the Company's borrowings and debt issuance costs include premiums and discounts to the par value of the respective instruments. These expenses and adjustments are deferred and amortized into interest expense over the life of the related debt instrument. Deferred financing costs related to revolving credit facilities are presented separately as an asset on the Company's Condensed Consolidated Statements of Assets and Liabilities. Debt issuance costs, including premiums and discounts to par, related to any issuance of installment debt or notes are presented net against the outstanding debt balance of the related security.

Income Taxes

The Company has elected to be treated as a BDC under the 1940 Act. The Company also has elected to be treated as a RIC under the Code. So long as the Company maintains its tax treatment as a RIC, it generally will not pay corporate-level U.S. federal income taxes on any ordinary income or capital gains that it distributes at least annually to its shareholders as dividends. Rather, any tax liability related to income earned and distributed by the Company would represent obligations of the Company's investors and would not be reflected in the condensed consolidated financial statements of the Company.

The Company evaluates tax positions taken or expected to be taken in the course of preparing its condensed consolidated financial statements to determine whether the tax positions are "more-likely-than-not" to be sustained by the applicable tax authority. Tax positions not deemed to meet the "more-likely-than-not" threshold are reserved and recorded as a tax benefit or expense in the current year. All penalties and interest associated with income taxes are included in income tax expense. Conclusions regarding tax positions are subject to review and may be adjusted at a later date based on factors including, but not limited to, on-going analyses of tax laws, regulations and interpretations thereof. Management has analyzed the Company's tax positions taken, or to be taken, on federal income tax returns for all open tax years, and has concluded that there are no material uncertain tax positions through March 31, 2026. As applicable, the Company's federal tax returns are subject to examination by the Internal Revenue Service for a period of three fiscal years after they are filed.

To qualify for and maintain qualification as a RIC, the Company must, among other things, meet certain source-of-income and asset diversification requirements. In addition, to qualify for RIC tax treatment, the Company must distribute to its shareholders, for each taxable year, at least 90% of the sum of (i) its "investment company taxable income" for that year (without regard to the deduction for dividends paid), which is generally its ordinary income plus the excess, if any, of its realized net short-term capital gains over its realized net long-term capital losses and (ii) its net tax-exempt income.

In addition, based on the excise tax distribution requirements, the Company is subject to a 4% nondeductible federal excise tax on certain undistributed income unless the Company distributes in a timely manner in each taxable year an amount at least equal to the sum of (i) 98% of its ordinary income for the calendar year, (ii) 98.2% of its capital gain net income (both long-term and short-term) for the one-year period ending October 31 in that calendar year and (iii) any income realized, but not distributed, in prior years. For this purpose, however, any ordinary income or capital gain net income retained by the Company that is subject to corporate income tax is considered to have been distributed.

For the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025, the Company accrued $0.0 million and $7.8 million, respectively, of U.S. federal excise tax.

Certain of the Company's consolidated subsidiaries are subject to certain U.S. federal and state income taxes. Income tax expense, if any, is included under the income category for which it applies in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations.

Allocation of Income, Expenses, Gains and Losses

Income, expenses (other than those attributable to a specific class), gains and losses are allocated to each class of shares based upon the relative proportion of net assets represented by such class. Operating expenses directly attributable to a specific class are charged against the operations of that class.

Distributions

Distributions to shareholders are recorded on the record date. All distributions will be paid at the discretion of the Board and will depend on the Company's earnings, financial condition, maintenance of the Company's tax treatment as a RIC, compliance with applicable BDC regulations and such other factors as the Board may deem relevant from time to time. Although the gross distribution per share is generally equivalent for each share class, the net distribution for each share class is reduced for any class specific expenses, including distribution and shareholder servicing fees, if any.

Segment Reporting

The Company operates as a single reportable segment and as a result, the Company's segment accounting policies are consistent with those described herein and the Company does not have any intra-segment sales and transfers of assets. See "Note 12. Segment Reporting" for further information.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In December 2025, the FASB issued Accounting Standards Update ("ASU") 2025-09, "Derivatives and Hedging (Topic 815): Hedge Accounting Improvements," ("ASU 2025-09"). ASU 2025-09 amends the guidance in ASU 815, Derivatives and Hedging and refines certain hedge accounting requirements, including clarifications to the designation and documentation criteria for hedge relationships, improvements to the assessment of hedge effectiveness, and enhanced disclosures intended to provide greater transparency into an entity's risk management activities involving derivatives. ASU 2025-09 is effective for annual periods beginning after December 15, 2026, including interim periods within those annual periods, and early adoption is permitted. The Company has not early adopted and does not expect the adoption of ASU 2025-09 to have a material impact on its condensed consolidated financial statements.

Note 3. Fees, Expenses, Agreements and Related Party Transactions

Advisory Agreements

On October 5, 2020, the Company entered into the original investment advisory agreement with the Prior Adviser (the "Original Investment Advisory Agreement"), pursuant to which the Prior Adviser was responsible for originating prospective investments, conducting research and due diligence investigations on potential investments, analyzing investment opportunities, negotiating and structuring the Company's investments and monitoring its investments and portfolio companies on an ongoing basis.

On August 2, 2022, the Company and the Prior Adviser entered into an amended and restated investment advisory agreement (the "Original A&R Investment Advisory Agreement"), which was approved by the Board, including a majority of the trustees who are not "interested persons" (as such term is defined in Section 2(a)(19) of the 1940 Act) (the "Independent Trustees"). The Original A&R Investment Advisory Agreement altered the Original Investment Advisory Agreement by removing certain "sunset" provisions that previously stated that certain requirements of the North American Securities Administrators Association ("NASAA") Omnibus Guidelines would no longer apply if the Company's shares become "covered securities" within the meaning of Section 18 of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), and amending certain undertakings provisions, including to clarify compliance with NASAA Omnibus Guidelines. No other changes were made to the Original Investment Advisory Agreement.

On November 7, 2024, the Board approved the Prior Adviser's assignment of the Original A&R Investment Advisory Agreement to the Adviser pursuant to Rule 2a-6 under the 1940 Act, effective January 1, 2025. The Board, including a majority of the Independent Trustees, also approved the second amended and restated investment advisory agreement (the "Investment Advisory Agreement") to acknowledge such assignment. Accordingly, effective January 1, 2025, the Adviser became the Company's investment adviser pursuant to the Investment Advisory Agreement. Further, on November 7, 2024, the Board approved the sub-advisory agreement (the "Sub-Advisory Agreement," and together with the Investment Advisory Agreement, the "Advisory Agreements") between the Company, the Adviser and the Sub-Adviser. Accordingly, effective January 1, 2025, the Sub-Adviser became the Company's investment sub-adviser pursuant to the Sub-Advisory Agreement. These changes were the result of a reorganization of certain subsidiaries of Blackstone and did not result in any change in the aggregate fees paid by the Company. Further, the nature and level of services provided to the Company remain the same, as well as the personnel that provide investment management services to the Company on behalf of the Advisers.

The Advisory Agreements were most recently renewed and approved by the Board, including a majority of the Independent Trustees, on April 29, 2026, for an additional annual period, and, unless terminated earlier, will renew from year-to-year thereafter if approved annually by a majority of the Board or by the holders of a majority of the Company's outstanding voting securities and, in each case, a majority of the Independent Trustees. The Company may terminate the Advisory Agreements, without payment of any penalty, upon 60 days' written notice. The Advisory Agreements will automatically terminate in the event of their assignment within the meaning of the 1940 Act and related SEC guidance and interpretations.

The Company pays the Adviser a fee for its services under the Investment Advisory Agreement consisting of two components: a management fee and an incentive fee. The cost of both the management fee and the incentive fee is borne by the shareholders. The sub-advisory fees payable to the Sub-Adviser under the Sub-Advisory Agreement will be paid by the Adviser out of its own advisory fees rather than paid separately by the Company. Substantial additional fees and expenses may also be charged by the Administrators to the Company.

Base Management Fees

The management fee is payable monthly and is settled and paid quarterly in arrears at an annual rate of 1.25% of the value of the Company's net assets as of the beginning of the first calendar day of the applicable month. For purposes of the Investment Advisory Agreement, net assets means the Company's total assets less liabilities determined on a consolidated basis in accordance with GAAP. The management fee calculation will be prorated for any partial months, including the first calendar month in which the Company commenced operations.

For the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025, base management fees were $152.0 million and $129.1 million, respectively. As of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, $152.0 million and $153.1 million, respectively, was payable to the Adviser relating to management fees.

Incentive Fees

The incentive fees consist of two components that are determined independently of each other, with the result that one component may be payable even if the other is not. One component is based on income and the other component is based on capital gains, each as described below:

(i) Income Based Incentive Fee

The first component of the incentive fees, an income based incentive fee, is based on the Company's Pre-Incentive Fee Net Investment Income Returns. "Pre-Incentive Fee Net Investment Income Returns" means, as the context requires, either the dollar value of, or percentage rate of return on, the value of the Company's net assets at the end of the immediately preceding quarter from interest income, dividend income and any other income (including any other fees (other than fees for providing managerial assistance), such as commitment, origination, structuring, diligence and consulting fees or other fees that the Company receives from portfolio companies) accrued during the calendar quarter, minus the Company's operating expenses accrued for the quarter (including the management fee, expenses payable under the Administration Agreement, and any interest expense or fees on any credit facilities or outstanding debt and dividends paid on any issued and outstanding preferred shares, but excluding the incentive fee and any shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees).

Pre-Incentive Fee Net Investment Income Returns includes, in the case of investments with a deferred interest feature (such as original issue discount, debt instruments with PIK interest and zero-coupon securities), accrued income that the Company has not yet received in cash. Pre-Incentive Fee Net Investment Income Returns excludes any realized capital gains, realized capital losses or unrealized capital appreciation or depreciation. The Company excludes the impact of expense support payments and recoupments from Pre-Incentive Fee Net Investment Income Returns. Shareholders may be charged a fee on an income amount that is higher than the income shareholders may ultimately receive.

Pre-Incentive Fee Net Investment Income Returns, expressed as a rate of return on the value of the Company's net assets at the end of the immediately preceding quarter, is compared to a "hurdle rate" of return of 1.25% per quarter (5.0% annualized).

The Company pays the Adviser an income based incentive fee quarterly in arrears with respect to the Company's Pre-Incentive Fee Net Investment Income Returns in each calendar quarter as follows:

- no incentive fee based on Pre-Incentive Fee Net Investment Income Returns in any calendar quarter in which Pre-Incentive Fee Net Investment Income Returns do not exceed the hurdle rate of 1.25% per quarter (5.0% annualized);

- 100% of the dollar amount of Pre-Incentive Fee Net Investment Income Returns with respect to that portion of such Pre-Incentive Fee Net Investment Income Returns, if any, that exceeds the hurdle rate but is less than a rate of return of 1.43% (5.72% annualized). The Company refers to this portion of the Pre-Incentive Fee Net Investment Income Returns (which exceeds the hurdle rate but is less than 1.43%) as the "catch-up." This "catch-up" is meant to provide the Adviser with approximately 12.5% of Pre-Incentive Fee Net Investment Income Returns as if a hurdle rate did not apply if this net investment income exceeds 1.43% in any calendar quarter; and
- 12.5% of the dollar amount of Pre-Incentive Fee Net Investment Income Returns, if any, that exceed a rate of return of 1.43% (5.72% annualized). This reflects that once the hurdle rate is reached and the catch-up is achieved, 12.5% of all Pre-Incentive Fee Net Investment Income Returns thereafter are allocated to the Adviser.

These calculations are prorated for any period of less than three months, including the first quarter the Company commenced operations, and are adjusted for any share issuances or repurchases during the relevant quarter.

For the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025, the Company accrued income based incentive fees of $151.2 million and $151.8 million, respectively. As of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, there was $151.2 million and $162.5 million, respectively, payable to the Adviser for income based incentive fees.

(ii) Capital Gains Based Incentive Fee

The second component of the incentive fees, the capital gains based incentive fee, is determined and payable in arrears as of the end of each calendar year in an amount equal to 12.5% of cumulative realized capital gains from inception through the end of such calendar year, computed net of all realized capital losses and unrealized capital depreciation on a cumulative basis, less the aggregate amount of any previously paid capital gains based incentive fees as calculated in accordance with GAAP.

For the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025, the Company accrued no capital gains based incentive fees. As of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, no amount was payable to the Adviser for capital gains based incentive fees.

Administration Agreements

On October 5, 2020, the Company entered into the original administration agreement with the Prior Administrator (the "Prior Administration Agreement"). On November 7, 2024, the Board approved the termination of the Prior Administration Agreement, effective December 31, 2024, and the entry into the Administration Agreement between the Company and the Administrator, effective January 1, 2025. Accordingly, effective January 1, 2025, the Administrator became the Company's administrator pursuant to the Administration Agreement. Further, on November 7, 2024, the Board approved the Sub-Administration Agreement between the Administrator, on behalf of the Company, and the Sub-Administrator. Accordingly, effective January 1, 2025, the Sub-Administrator became one of the Company's sub-administrators pursuant to the Sub-Administration Agreement. To acknowledge the change of the administrator, the Board also approved the assignment of the third party sub-administration agreement (the "State Street Sub-Administration Agreement") with State Street Bank and Trust Company (the "State Street Sub-Administrator") from the Prior Administrator to the Administrator, effective January 1, 2025. These changes did not result in any change in the aggregate fees paid by the Company. Further, the nature and level of services provided to the Company remain the same, as well as the personnel that provide administrative services to the Company on behalf of the Administrators.

Under the terms of the Administration Agreements, the Administrators provide, or oversee the performance of, administrative and compliance services, including, but not limited to, maintaining financial records, overseeing the calculation of NAV, compliance monitoring (including diligence and oversight of the Company's other service providers), preparing reports to shareholders and reports filed with the SEC and other regulators, preparing materials and coordinating meetings of the Board, managing the payment of expenses, the payment and receipt of funds for investments and the performance of administrative and professional services rendered by others and providing office space, equipment and office services. The Company will reimburse the Administrator for certain costs and expenses incurred by the Administrators in performing their obligations under the Administration Agreements. Such reimbursement will include the Company's allocable portion of compensation and other expenses incurred by the Administrators in performing their administrative obligations under the Administration Agreements, including but not limited to: (i) the Company's chief compliance officer, chief financial officer and their respective staffs; (ii) investor relations, legal, operations and other non-investment professionals at the Administrators that perform duties for the Company; and (iii) any internal audit group personnel of Blackstone or any of its affiliates, subject to the limitations described in the Advisory Agreements and the Administration Agreements.

In addition, pursuant to the terms of the Administration Agreements, the Administrators may delegate their obligations under the Administration Agreements to an affiliate or to a third party and we will reimburse the Administrator, and the Administrator will reimburse the Sub-Administrator, for any services performed for the Company by such affiliate or third party. Under the Sub-Administration Agreement, the Administrator will reimburse the Sub-Administrator for certain costs and expenses incurred by the Sub-Administrator in performing its obligations under the Sub-Administration Agreement. The costs and expenses of the Sub-Administrator that are eligible for reimbursement by the Administrator will be reasonably allocated to the Company on the basis of time spent, assets under management, usage rates, proportionate holdings, a combination thereof or other reasonable methods determined by the Administrator. The Administrator has outsourced, and may continue to outsource, certain administrative duties provided to the Company to third parties, and the Administrator will pay the third parties accordingly. State Street Bank and Trust Company serves as the Company's third-party sub-administrator. The Administrator has utilized, and in the future will continue to utilize, the State Street Sub-Administrator to assist in the provision of administrative services. The State Street Sub-Administrator receives compensation from the Administrator for its sub-administrative services under the State Street Sub-Administration Agreement.

The Administration Agreements were most recently renewed and approved by the Board, including a majority of the Independent Trustees, on April 29, 2026 for an additional annual period, and, unless terminated earlier, will renew automatically from year-to-year thereafter if approved annually by a majority of the Board or by the holders of a majority of the Company's outstanding voting securities and, in each case, a majority of the Independent Trustees. The Company may terminate the Administration Agreements, without payment of any penalty, upon 60 days' written notice.

For the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025, the Company incurred $4.1 million and $2.2 million, respectively, in expenses under the Administration Agreement which were recorded in Administrative service expenses in the Company's Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations.

As of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, $2.1 million and $3.6 million, respectively, was unpaid and included in Due to affiliates in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Assets and Liabilities.

State Street Sub-Administration Agreement and Custody Agreement

On October 5, 2020, the Prior Administrator entered into the State Street Sub-Administration Agreement with the State Street Sub-Administrator under which the State Street Sub-Administrator provides various accounting and administrative services to the Company. The State Street Sub-Administrator also serves as the Company's custodian. On November 7, 2024, the Board approved the assignment of the State Street Sub-Administration Agreement from the Prior Administrator to the Administrator, effective January 1, 2025. The initial term of the State Street Sub-Administration Agreement was two years from the effective date and after expiration of the initial term and the State Street Sub-Administration Agreement shall automatically renew for successive one-year periods, unless a written notice of non-renewal is delivered no later than 120 days prior to the expiration of the initial term or renewal term.

Intermediary Manager Agreement

On October 5, 2020, the Company entered into an intermediary manager agreement (the "Intermediary Manager Agreement") with Blackstone Securities Partners L.P., an affiliate of the Advisers. Pursuant to the Intermediary Manager Agreement, no upfront transaction fee will be paid with respect to Class I shares, Class S shares or Class D shares, however, if shareholders purchase Class S shares or Class D shares through certain financial intermediaries, they may directly charge shareholders transaction or other fees, including upfront placement fees or brokerage commissions, in such amount as they may determine, provided that selling agents limit such charges to a 3.5% cap on NAV for Class S shares and a 1.5% cap on NAV for Class D shares. Under the terms of the Intermediary Manager Agreement, the Intermediary Manager will serve as the intermediary manager for the Company's public offering of its Common Shares. The Intermediary Manager will be entitled to receive shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees monthly in arrears at an annual rate of 0.85% and 0.25% of the value of the Company's net assets attributable to Class S and Class D shares, respectively, as of the beginning of the first calendar day of the month. No shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees will be paid with respect to Class I shares. The shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees will be payable to the Intermediary Manager, but the Intermediary Manager anticipates that all of the shareholder servicing fees and/or distribution fees will be retained by, or reallowed (paid) to, participating brokers.

The Company will cease paying the shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees on the Class S shares and Class D shares on the earlier to occur of the following: (i) a listing of Class I shares, (ii) a merger or consolidation with or into another entity, or the sale or other disposition of all or substantially all of the Company's assets or (iii) the date following the completion of the primary portion of the offering on which, in the aggregate, underwriting compensation from all sources in connection with the offering, including the shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees and other underwriting compensation, is equal to 10% of the gross proceeds from the primary offering. In addition, consistent with the exemptive relief allowing the Company to offer multiple classes of shares, at the end of the month in which the Intermediary Manager in conjunction with the transfer agent determines that total transaction or other fees, including upfront placement fees or brokerage commissions, and shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees paid with respect to the shares held in a shareholder's account would exceed, in the aggregate, 10% of the gross proceeds from the sale of such shares (or a lower limit as determined by the Intermediary Manager or the applicable selling agent), the Company will cease paying the shareholder servicing and/or distribution fee on the Class S shares and Class D shares in such shareholder's account. Compensation paid with respect to the shares in a shareholder's account will be allocated among each share such that the compensation paid with respect to each individual share will not exceed 10% of the offering price of such share. The Company may modify this requirement in a manner that is consistent with applicable exemptive relief. At the end of such month, the Class S shares or Class D shares in such shareholder's account will convert into a number of Class I shares (including any fractional shares), with an equivalent aggregate NAV as such Class S or Class D shares.

The Intermediary Manager is a broker-dealer registered with the SEC and is a member of the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority ("FINRA").

The Intermediary Manager Agreement may be terminated at any time, without the payment of any penalty, by vote of a majority of the Independent Trustees and a majority of the trustees who have no direct or indirect financial interest in the operation of the Company's distribution plan or the Intermediary Manager Agreement or by vote of a majority of the outstanding voting securities of the Company, on not more than 60 days' written notice to the Intermediary Manager or the Adviser. The Intermediary Manager Agreement will automatically terminate in the event of its assignment, as defined in the 1940 Act.

Distribution and Servicing Plan

The Board approved a distribution and servicing plan (the "Distribution and Servicing Plan"). The following table shows the shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees the Company pays the Intermediary Manager with respect to Class I, Class S and Class D shares on an annualized basis as a percentage of the Company's NAV for such class. The shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees is paid monthly in arrears, calculated using the NAV of the applicable class as of the beginning of the first calendar day of the month.

	Shareholder Servicing and/or Distribution Fee as a % of NAV
Class I shares	— %
Class S shares	0.85%
Class D shares	0.25%

Subject to FINRA and other limitations on underwriting compensation, the Company will pay a shareholder servicing and/or distribution fee equal to 0.85% per annum of the aggregate NAV for the Class S shares and a shareholder servicing and/or distribution fee equal to 0.25% per annum of the aggregate NAV for the Class D shares, in each case, payable monthly.

The shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees will be paid monthly in arrears. The distribution and servicing expenses borne by the participating brokers may be different from and substantially less than the amount of shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees charged.

The Intermediary Manager will reallow (pay) all of the shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees to participating brokers and servicing brokers for ongoing shareholder services performed by such brokers, and will waive shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees to the extent a broker is not eligible to receive it for failure to provide such services. All or a portion of the shareholder servicing and/or distribution fee may be used to pay for sub-transfer agency, sub-accounting and certain other administrative services. The Company also may pay for these sub-transfer agency, sub-accounting and certain other administrative services outside of the shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees and its Distribution and Servicing Plan. Because the shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees with respect to Class S shares and Class D shares are calculated based on the aggregate NAV for all of the outstanding shares of each such class, it reduces the NAV with respect to all shares of each such class, including shares issued under the Company's distribution reinvestment plan.

Eligibility to receive the shareholder servicing and/or distribution fee is conditioned on a broker providing the following ongoing services with respect to the Class S or Class D shares: assistance with recordkeeping, answering investor inquiries regarding the Company, including regarding distribution payments and reinvestments, helping investors understand their investments upon their request, and assistance with share repurchase requests. If the applicable broker is not eligible to receive the shareholder servicing and/or distribution fee due to failure to provide these services, the Intermediary Manager will waive the shareholder servicing and/or distribution fee that the broker would have otherwise been eligible to receive. The shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees are ongoing fees that are not paid at the time of purchase.

For the three months ended March 31, 2026, the Company accrued shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees of $31.1 million and $0.4 million, which were attributable to Class S and Class D shares, respectively.

For the three months ended March 31, 2025, the Company accrued shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees of $28.1 million and $0.4 million, which were attributable to Class S and Class D shares, respectively.

Expense Support and Conditional Reimbursement Agreement

On October 5, 2020, the Company entered into an Expense Support and Conditional Reimbursement Agreement (the "Expense Support Agreement") with the Sub-Adviser. The Sub-Adviser may elect to pay certain expenses of the Company on the Company's behalf (each, an "Expense Payment"), provided that no portion of the payment will be used to pay any interest expense or shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees of the Company. Any Expense Payment that the Sub-Adviser has committed to pay must be paid by the Sub-Adviser to the Company in any combination of cash or other immediately available funds no later than forty-five days after such commitment was made in writing, or offset against amounts due from the Company to the Sub-Adviser or its affiliates.

Pursuant to the Expense Support Agreement, following any calendar month in which Available Operating Funds (as defined below) exceed the cumulative distributions accrued to the Company's shareholders based on distributions declared with respect to record dates occurring in such calendar month (the amount of such excess being hereinafter referred to as "Excess Operating Funds"), the Company shall pay such Excess Operating Funds, or a portion thereof, to the Sub-Adviser until such time as all Expense Payments made by the Sub-Adviser to the Company within three years prior to the last business day of such calendar month have been reimbursed. Any payments required to be made by the Company shall be referred to herein as a "Reimbursement Payment." "Available Operating Funds" means the sum of (i) the Company's net investment company taxable income (including net short-term capital gains reduced by net long-term capital losses), (ii) the Company's net capital gains (including the excess of net long-term capital gains over net short-term capital losses) and (iii) dividends and other distributions paid to the Company on account of investments in portfolio companies (to the extent such amounts listed in clause (iii) are not included under clauses (i) and (ii) above).

The Company's obligation to make a Reimbursement Payment shall automatically become a liability of the Company on the last business day of the applicable calendar month, except to the extent the Sub-Adviser has waived its right to receive such payment for the applicable month.

For the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025, the Sub-Adviser made no Expense Payments and there were no Reimbursement Payments made to the Sub-Adviser.

Controlled/Affiliated Portfolio Companies

Under the 1940 Act, the Company is required to separately identify non-controlled investments where it owns 5% or more of a portfolio company's outstanding voting securities as investments in "affiliated" companies. In addition, under the 1940 Act, the Company is required to separately identify investments where it owns more than 25% of a portfolio company's outstanding voting securities and/or has the power to exercise control over the management or policies of such portfolio company as investments in "controlled" companies. Under the 1940 Act, "non-affiliated investments" are defined as investments that are neither controlled investments nor affiliated investments. Detailed information with respect to the Company's non-controlled, non-affiliated; non-controlled, affiliated; and controlled affiliated investments is contained in the accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements, including the Condensed Consolidated Schedule of Investments.

On October 11, 2021, a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company and a third-party investor entered into a limited liability company agreement with SLC. SLC is a specialty finance company focused on investing in consumer credit and is led by a management team with deep expertise in the consumer finance industry. The investment in SLC allows the Company to gain exposure to a different asset class than its core investing focus of senior secured lending to U.S. private companies. As of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company had committed $405.0 million. As of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, $17.7 million and $33.0 million of capital remained uncalled from the Company, respectively. The Company does not consolidate its equity interest in SLC.

In addition, the Company has made investments in joint ventures that have been considered controlled/affiliated companies, including Emerald JV and Verdelite JV. From time to time, the Company may purchase investments from or sell investments to Emerald JV and Verdelite JV. For further description of the Emerald JV and Verdelite JV, see "Note 11. Joint Ventures."

On June 1, 2025, the Company made an initial investment into Blackstone Private Real Estate Credit and Income Fund ("BREC"), a business development company advised by Blackstone Real Estate Special Situations Advisors L.L.C., an affiliate of Blackstone.

Certain investments that are measured at fair value using the NAV practical expedient have not been categorized in the fair value hierarchy. The fair value amounts presented in this table are intended to permit reconciliation of the fair value hierarchy to the amounts presented in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Assets and Liabilities.

Within Investments at fair value, substantially all Equity investments are illiquid and privately negotiated in nature and are subject to contractual sale constraints or other restrictions pursuant to their respective governing or similar agreements. Approximately $150.4 million of such Equity investments have a sale constraint or other restriction that will lapse after a predetermined date; the weighted average remaining duration of such restrictions is 1.1 years. For information regarding restrictions on investment in joint ventures, see "Note 11. Joint Ventures."

Short-Term Borrowings

Master Repurchase Agreements

On June 15, 2021 and June 16, 2021, the Company entered into Master Repurchase Agreements (the "Repurchase Agreements") with certain banks to provide short-term borrowings which the Company utilizes from time-to-time to manage its working capital needs. As part of the Repurchase Agreements, the Company can sell a security to the lender for cash with an agreement to buy it back in the future at a pre-determined price. The Company's ability to draw down borrowings under the agreement is subject to 1940 Act leverage limitations and dependent on the Company pledging eligible assets to the banks as collateral. No commitment fees were paid in connection with execution of these agreements.

As of March 31, 2026, and December 31, 2025, respectively, the Company had $438.1 million and $406.8 million of short-term borrowings under the Repurchase Agreements.

Short-term borrowings under the Repurchase Agreements bore interest at a weighted average applicable margin of 4.62% and 4.75% per annum as of March 31, 2026, and December 31, 2025, respectively.

Certain of the Company's investments serve as collateral for the Company's obligations under the Repurchase Agreements and the carrying value of pledged investments were $384.6 million and $486.8 million as of March 31, 2026, and December 31, 2025, respectively.

Other Short-Term Borrowings

In order to finance certain investment transactions, the Company may, from time to time, enter into financing agreements whereby the Company transfers to a third party an investment that it holds in exchange for cash for a period of time, generally not to exceed 180-days from the date it was sold (each, a "Short Term Financing Transaction"). At the expiration of the agreement, the Company returns the cash and interest to the third party and receives the original investment transferred.

As of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the Company had $500.0 million and $450.0 million, respectively, of borrowings under Short Term Financing Transactions with third parties. Certain of the Company's investments serve as collateral for the Company's obligations under the Short Term Financing Transactions and the carrying value of pledged investments was $525.5 million and $450.0 million, respectively, as of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025.

Short-term borrowings under Short Term Financing Transactions bore interest at an applicable margin of 6.43% and 4.52%, respectively, per annum as of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025.

In accordance with ASC 860, Transfers and Servicing, the Master Repurchase Agreements and the Short Term Financing Transactions meet the criteria for secured borrowings. Accordingly, the investment financed by these agreements remains on the Company's Condensed Consolidated Statements of Assets and Liabilities as an asset, and the Company records a liability to reflect its obligation to a third party which is reported as Debt on the Company's Statements of Assets and Liabilities. The obligation is secured by the respective investment that is the subject of the agreement. Interest expense associated with the Master Repurchase Agreements and the Short Term Financing Transactions is reported on the Company's Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations within Interest expense.

The following table presents each month-end NAV per share for Class I, Class S and Class D Common Shares for the three months ended March 31, 2026:

Distribution Reinvestment Plan

The Company has adopted a distribution reinvestment plan (the "DRIP"), pursuant to which it reinvests all cash dividends declared by the Board on behalf of its shareholders who do not elect to receive their dividends in cash. As a result, if the Board authorizes, and the Company declares, a cash dividend or other distribution, then shareholders who have not opted out of the Company's DRIP will have their cash distributions automatically reinvested in additional shares as described below, rather than receiving the cash dividend or other distribution. Distributions on fractional shares will be credited to each participating shareholder's account to three decimal places. No action is required on the part of a registered shareholder to have his, her or its cash dividend or other distribution reinvested in our Common Shares, except shareholders in certain states. Investors and clients of certain participating brokers in states that do not permit automatic enrollment in our DRIP will automatically receive their distributions in cash unless they elect to have their cash distributions reinvested in additional Common Shares.

Character of Distributions

The Company may fund its cash distributions to shareholders from any source of funds available to the Company, including but not limited to offering proceeds, net investment income from operations, capital gains proceeds from the sale of assets, dividends or other distributions paid to it on account of preferred and common equity investments in portfolio companies and expense support from the Advisers, which is subject to recoupment.

Through March 31, 2026, a portion of the Company's distributions resulted from expense support from the Sub-Adviser, and future distributions may result from expense support from the Sub-Adviser, each of which is subject to repayment by the Company within three years from the date of payment. The purpose of this arrangement avoids distributions being characterized as a return of capital for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Shareholders should understand that any such distribution is not based solely on the Company's investment performance, and can only be sustained if the Company achieves positive investment performance in future periods or the Sub-Adviser continues to provide expense support. Shareholders should also understand that the Company's future repayments of expense support will reduce the distributions that they would otherwise receive. There can be no assurance that the Company will achieve the performance necessary to sustain these distributions, or be able to pay distributions at all.

Sources of distributions, other than net investment income and realized gains on a GAAP basis, include required adjustments to GAAP net investment income in the current period to determine taxable income available for distributions. The following table presents the sources of cash distributions on a GAAP basis that the Company has declared on its Common Shares for the three months ended March 31, 2026:

Share Repurchase Program

The Company has implemented a share repurchase program under which, at the discretion of the Board, the Company may repurchase, in each quarter, up to 5% of the NAV of the Company's Common Shares outstanding (either by number of shares or aggregate NAV) as of the close of the previous calendar quarter. For the avoidance of doubt, such target amount is assessed each calendar quarter. The Board may amend or suspend the share repurchase program at any time (including to offer to purchase fewer shares) if in its reasonable judgment it deems such action to be in the best interest of shareholders, such as when a repurchase offer would place an undue burden on the Company's liquidity, adversely affect the Company's operations or risk having an adverse impact on the Company that would outweigh the benefit of the repurchase offer. As a result, share repurchases may not be available each quarter, or may only be available in an amount less than 5% of our Common Shares outstanding. The Company intends to conduct such repurchase offers in accordance with the requirements of Rule 13e-4 promulgated under the Exchange Act and the 1940 Act. Additionally, pursuant to Rule 23c-1(a)(10) under the 1940 Act, the Company may also repurchase its outstanding Common Shares outside of the share repurchase program. All shares purchased pursuant to the terms of each tender offer will be retired and thereafter will be authorized and unissued shares.

Under the share repurchase program, to the extent the Company offers to repurchase shares in any particular quarter, it is expected to repurchase shares pursuant to tender offers using a purchase price equal to the NAV per share as of the last calendar day of the applicable quarter, except that shares that have not been outstanding for at least one year will be repurchased at 98% of such NAV (an "Early Repurchase Deduction"). The one-year holding period will be satisfied if at least one year has elapsed from (a) the issuance date of the applicable Common Shares to (b) the subscription date immediately following the valuation date used in the repurchase of such Common Shares. The Early Repurchase Deduction may be waived in the case of repurchase requests arising from the death, divorce or qualified disability of the holder; in the event that a shareholder's shares are repurchased because the shareholder has failed to maintain the $500 minimum account balance; or due to trade or operational error. In addition, the Company's Common Shares are sold to certain investment vehicles (including feeder vehicles, registered investment companies or other investment funds), discretionary model portfolios and other similar arrangements. The Company, in its discretion, may waive the Early Repurchase Deduction for such investment vehicles, discretionary model portfolios and other similar arrangements in appropriate circumstances, including, but not limited to, for administrative, operational, rebalancing, regulatory or other purposes. The Early Repurchase Deduction will be retained by the Company for the benefit of remaining shareholders.

(1) Total amount of each class of senior securities outstanding at the end of the period presented.
(2) Asset coverage per unit is the ratio of the carrying value of the Company's total assets, less all liabilities excluding indebtedness represented by senior securities in this table, to the aggregate amount of senior securities representing indebtedness. Asset coverage per unit is expressed in terms of dollar amounts per $1,000 of indebtedness and is calculated on a consolidated basis.
(3) The amount to which such class of senior security would be entitled upon the Company's involuntary liquidation in preference to any security junior to it. The "-" in this column indicates information that the SEC expressly does not require to be disclosed for certain types of senior securities.
(4) Not applicable because the senior securities are not registered for public trading.

As of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the aggregate principal amount of indebtedness outstanding was $35.3 billion and $35.1 billion, respectively.

Note 11. Joint Ventures

BCRED Emerald JV

Emerald JV was formed as a joint venture between the Company and a large North American pension fund, commenced operations on January 19, 2022 and operates under a limited partnership agreement. The Emerald JV's principal purpose is to make investments, primarily in senior secured loans that are made to middle-market companies or in broadly syndicated loans and, to a lesser extent, make other debt and equity investments.

As of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company and entities affiliated with, and controlled by, a North American pension fund (collectively, the "Emerald JV Partner") had commitments to contribute up to $2,250.0 million and $750.0 million of capital, respectively, to the Emerald JV.

As of March 31, 2026, the Company and the Emerald JV Partner had made capital contributions (net of returns of capital) of $1,836.0 million and $612.0 million, respectively. As of December 31, 2025, the Company and the Emerald JV Partner had made capital contributions (net of returns of capital) of $1,815.0 million and $605.0 million, respectively. As of March 31, 2026, the Company and the Emerald JV Partner had $414.0 million and $138.0 million, respectively, of capital remained uncalled. As of December 31, 2025, the Company and the Emerald JV Partner had $435.0 million and $145.0 million of capital remained uncalled. The Company and the Emerald JV Partner may, from time-to-time, make additional contributions of capital or may receive returns of capital from the Emerald JV.

As of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the Company's and the Emerald JV Partner's equity ownership interests in the Emerald JV were 75% and 25%, respectively.

From time to time, the Company may purchase investments from, or sell investments to, the Emerald JV. Any such purchases and sales require the approval of the Emerald JV's general partner, which is jointly controlled by the Company and the Emerald JV Partner. For the three months ended March 31, 2026, the Company sold an investment to Emerald JV with a par value of $1.1 billion, for a total cash purchase price based on then-current fair value (at the time of purchase) of $1.1 billion. The Company recognized $0.2 million of net realized gains as a result of sales of investments to the Emerald JV and are included in net realized gain (loss) on investments in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations.

The Company and the Emerald JV Partner, through their joint control of the Emerald JV's general partner, have equal control of the Emerald JV's investment decisions, the decision to call additional capital up to the amounts committed by the Company and the Emerald JV Partner, the decision to return capital or to make distributions, and generally all other decisions in respect of the Emerald JV must be approved by the Emerald JV's investment committee or board of directors, each of which consists of an equal number of representatives of the Company and the Emerald JV Partner. The initial term of the Emerald JV was three years from the commencement of operations, and will continue for successive six-month periods thereafter upon the approval of the Emerald JV's general partner, except in the case of a dissolution event. The Company's investment in the Emerald JV cannot be transferred without the consent of the Emerald JV Partner. Effective January 18, 2026, the Emerald JV's general partner approved the extension of the Emerald JV to July 18, 2026.

The Company has determined that the Emerald JV is an investment company under ASC 946, and in accordance with ASC 946, the Company will generally not consolidate its investment in a company other than a wholly-owned investment company subsidiary. Further, the Company has a variable interest in the Emerald JV and has determined that the Emerald JV is a variable interest entity under ASC 810—Consolidation ("ASC 810"). However, the Company is not deemed to be the primary beneficiary of the Emerald JV as there is equal power between the Company and the Emerald JV Partner. Accordingly, the Company does not consolidate the Emerald JV.

The Company's investment in the Emerald JV is disclosed on the Company's Condensed Consolidated Schedules of Investments as of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025.

(1) Unless otherwise indicated, all debt and equity investments held by the Company (which such term "Company" shall include the Company's consolidated subsidiaries for purposes of this Consolidated Schedule of Investments) are denominated in dollars. As of March 31, 2026, the Company had investments denominated in Canadian Dollars (CAD), Euros (EUR), British Pounds (GBP), Swiss Francs (CHF), Danish Krone (DKK), Swedish Krona (SEK), Norwegian Krone (NOK), New Zealand Dollars (NZD), and Australian Dollars (AUD). All debt investments are income producing unless otherwise indicated. All equity investments are non-income producing unless otherwise noted. Certain portfolio company investments are subject to contractual restrictions on sales. The total par amount (in thousands) is presented for debt investments, while the number of shares or units (in whole amounts) owned is presented for equity investments. Each of the Company's investments is pledged as collateral, under one or more of its credit facilities unless otherwise indicated.

(2) Variable rate loans to the portfolio companies bear interest at a rate that is determined by reference to either Canadian Overnight Repo Rate Average ("CORRA" or "CA"), Sterling Overnight Interbank Average Rate ("SONIA" or "S"), Euro Interbank Offer Rate ("Euribor" or "E"), Secured Overnight Financing Rate ("SOFR"), Stockholm Interbank Offered Rate ("STIBOR" or "ST"), Copenhagen Interbank Offered Rate ("CIBOR" or "CI"), Norwegian Interbank Offered Rate ("NIBOR" or "N"), Swiss Average Rate Overnight ("SARON" or "SA"), New Zealand Bank Bill Reference Rate ("BKBM" or "B"), Australian Bank Bill Swap Bid Rate ("BBSY" or "BB"), or an alternate base rate (commonly based on the Federal Funds Rate ("F") or the U.S. Prime Rate ("P")), which generally resets periodically. For each loan, the Company has indicated the reference rate used and provided the spread and the interest rate in effect as of March 31, 2026. Variable rate loans typically include an interest reference rate floor feature.

(3) The cost represents the original cost adjusted for the amortization of discounts and premiums, as applicable, on debt investments using the effective interest method in accordance with GAAP.

(4) These investments were valued using unobservable inputs and are considered Level 3 investments. Fair value was determined in good faith by or under the direction of the Board (see Note 2 and Note 5), pursuant to the Company's valuation policy.

(5) These debt investments are not pledged as collateral under any of the Company's credit facilities. For other debt investments that are pledged to the Company's credit facilities, a single investment may be divided into parts that are individually pledged as collateral to separate credit facilities. Any other debt investments listed above are pledged to financing facilities or CLOs and are not available to satisfy the creditors of the Company.

(6) Reserved.

(7) Position or portion thereof is an unfunded commitment, and no interest is being earned on the unfunded portion, although the investment may be subject to unused commitment fees. Negative cost and fair value results from unamortized fees, which are capitalized to the investment cost. The unfunded commitment may be subject to a commitment termination date that may expire prior to the maturity date stated. See below for more information on the Company's unfunded commitments (all commitments are first lien, unless otherwise noted):

(1) Unless otherwise indicated, all debt and equity investments held by the Company (which such term "Company" shall include the Company's consolidated subsidiaries for purposes of this Consolidated Schedule of Investments) are denominated in dollars. As of December 31, 2025, the Company had investments denominated in Canadian Dollars (CAD), Euros (EUR), British Pounds (GBP), Swiss Francs (CHF), Danish Krone (DKK), Swedish Krona (SEK), Norwegian Krone (NOK), New Zealand Dollars (NZD), and Australian Dollars (AUD). All debt investments are income producing unless otherwise indicated. All equity investments are non-income producing unless otherwise noted. Certain portfolio company investments are subject to contractual restrictions on sales. The total par amount (in thousands) is presented for debt investments, while the number of shares or units (in whole amounts) owned is presented for equity investments. Each of the Company's investments is pledged as collateral, under one or more of its credit facilities unless otherwise indicated.

(2) Variable rate loans to the portfolio companies bear interest at a rate that is determined by reference to either Canadian Overnight Repo Rate Average ("CORRA" or "CA"), Sterling Overnight Interbank Average Rate ("SONIA" or "S"), Euro Interbank Offer Rate ("Euribor" or "E"), Secured Overnight Financing Rate ("SOFR"), Stockholm Interbank Offered Rate ("STIBOR" or "ST"), Copenhagen Interbank Offered Rate ("CIBOR" or "CI"), Norwegian Interbank Offered Rate ("NIBOR" or "N"), Swiss Average Rate Overnight ("SARON" or "SA"), New Zealand Bank Bill Reference Rate ("BKBM" or "B"), Australian Bank Bill Swap Bid Rate ("BBSY" or "BB"), or an alternate base rate (commonly based on the Federal Funds Rate ("F") or the U.S. Prime Rate ("P")), which generally resets periodically. For each loan, the Company has indicated the reference rate used and provided the spread and the interest rate in effect as of December 31, 2025. Variable rate loans typically include an interest reference rate floor feature.

(3) The cost represents the original cost adjusted for the amortization of discounts and premiums, as applicable, on debt investments using the effective interest method in accordance with GAAP.

(4) These investments were valued using unobservable inputs and are considered Level 3 investments. Fair value was determined in good faith by or under the direction of the Board (see Note 2 and Note 5), pursuant to the Company's valuation policy.

(5) These debt investments are not pledged as collateral under any of the Company's credit facilities. For other debt investments that are pledged to the Company's credit facilities, a single investment may be divided into parts that are individually pledged as collateral to separate credit facilities. Any other debt investments listed above are pledged to financing facilities or CLOs and are not available to satisfy the creditors of the Company.

(6) Reserved.

(7) Position or portion thereof is an unfunded commitment, and no interest is being earned on the unfunded portion, although the investment may be subject to unused commitment fees. Negative cost and fair value results from unamortized fees, which are capitalized to the investment cost. The unfunded commitment may be subject to a commitment termination date that may expire prior to the maturity date stated. See below for more information on the Company's unfunded commitments (all commitments are first lien, unless otherwise noted):

BCRED Verdelite JV

Verdelite JV was formed as a joint venture between the Company and an entity managed by an alternative credit management investment firm with a specialized focus on structured and syndicated credit, including CLO management (the "Verdelite JV Partner"), commenced operations on October 21, 2022 and operates under a limited partnership agreement. The Verdelite JV's principal purpose is to make investments, primarily in broadly syndicated loans.

As of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company and the Verdelite JV Partner had commitments to contribute up to $147.0 million and $21.0 million of capital, respectively, to the Verdelite JV.

As of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the Company had made capital contributions (net of returns of capital) of $117.7 million and the Verdelite JV Partner had made capital contributions (net of returns of capital) of $16.8 million. As of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, $29.3 million of capital remained uncalled from the Company and $4.2 million of capital remained uncalled from the Verdelite JV Partner. The Company and the Verdelite JV Partner may, from time-to-time, make additional contributions of capital or may receive returns of capital from the Verdelite JV.

As of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, the Company and the Verdelite JV Partner's equity ownership interests in the Verdelite JV were 87.5% and 12.5%, respectively.

The Company and the Verdelite JV Partner, through their joint control of the Verdelite JV's general partner, have equal control of the Verdelite JV's investment decisions, the decision to call additional capital up to the amounts committed by the Company and the Verdelite JV Partner, the decision to return capital or to make distributions, and generally all other decisions in respect of the Verdelite JV must be approved by the Verdelite JV's investment committee or board of directors, each of which consists of an equal number of representatives of the Company and the Verdelite JV Partner. The initial term of the Verdelite JV was three years from the commencement of operations, and will continue for successive six-month periods thereafter upon the approval of the Verdelite JV's general partner, except in the case of a dissolution event. The Company's investment in the Verdelite JV cannot be transferred without the consent of the Verdelite JV Partner. Effective April 21, 2026, the Verdelite JV's general partner approved the extension of the Verdelite JV to October 21, 2026.

The Company has determined that the Verdelite JV is an investment company under ASC 946, and in accordance with ASC 946, the Company will generally not consolidate its investment in a company other than a wholly-owned investment company subsidiary. Further, the Company has a variable interest in the Verdelite JV and has determined that the Verdelite JV is a variable interest entity under ASC 810. However, the Company is not deemed to be the primary beneficiary of the Verdelite JV as there is equal power between the Company and the Verdelite JV Partner. Accordingly, the Company does not consolidate the Verdelite JV.

The Company's investment in the Verdelite JV is disclosed on the Company's Condensed Consolidated Schedule of Investments as of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025.

(1) Unless otherwise indicated, all debt and equity investments held by the Company (which such term "Company" shall include the Company's consolidated subsidiaries for purposes of this Consolidated Schedule of Investments) are denominated in dollars. As of March 31, 2026, the Company had investments denominated in Canadian Dollars (CAD), Euros (EUR), British Pounds (GBP), Swiss Francs (CHF), Danish Krone (DKK), Swedish Krona (SEK), Norwegian Krone (NOK), New Zealand Dollars (NZD), and Australian Dollars (AUD). All debt investments are income producing unless otherwise indicated. All equity investments are non-income producing unless otherwise noted. Certain portfolio company investments are subject to contractual restrictions on sales. The total par amount (in thousands) is presented for debt investments, while the number of shares or units (in whole amounts) owned is presented for equity investments. Each of the Company's investments is pledged as collateral, under one or more of its credit facilities unless otherwise indicated.

(2) Variable rate loans to the portfolio companies bear interest at a rate that is determined by reference to either Canadian Overnight Repo Rate Average ("CORRA" or "CA"), Sterling Overnight Interbank Average Rate ("SONIA" or "S"), Euro Interbank Offer Rate ("Euribor" or "E"), Secured Overnight Financing Rate ("SOFR"), Stockholm Interbank Offered Rate ("STIBOR" or "ST"), Copenhagen Interbank Offered Rate ("CIBOR" or "CI"), Norwegian Interbank Offered Rate ("NIBOR" or "N"), Swiss Average Rate Overnight ("SARON" or "SA"), New Zealand Bank Bill Reference Rate ("BKBM" or "B"), Australian Bank Bill Swap Bid Rate ("BBSY" or "BB") or an alternate base rate (commonly based on the Federal Funds Rate ("F") or the U.S. Prime Rate ("P")), which generally resets periodically. For each loan, the Company has indicated the reference rate used and provided the spread and the interest rate in effect as of March 31, 2026. Variable rate loans typically include an interest reference rate floor feature.

(3) The cost represents the original cost adjusted for the amortization of discounts and premiums, as applicable, on debt investments using the effective interest method in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP").

(4) These investments were valued using unobservable inputs and are considered Level 3 investments. Fair value was determined in good faith by or under the direction of the Board of Trustees (the "Board") (see Note 2 and Note 5), pursuant to the Company's valuation policy.

(5) These debt investments are not pledged as collateral under any of the Company's credit facilities. For other debt investments that are pledged to the Company's credit facilities, a single investment may be divided into parts that are individually pledged as collateral to separate credit facilities. Any other debt investments listed above are pledged to financing facilities or CLOs and are not available to satisfy the creditors of the Company.

(6) Reserved.

(7) Position or portion thereof is an unfunded loan commitment, and no interest is being earned on the unfunded portion, although the investment may be subject to unused commitment fees. Negative cost and fair value results from unamortized fees, which are capitalized to the investment cost. The unfunded loan commitment may be subject to a commitment termination date that may expire prior to the maturity date stated. See below for more information on the Company's unfunded commitments (all commitments are first lien, unless otherwise noted):

All debt investments are income producing unless otherwise indicated. All equity investments are non-income producing unless otherwise noted. Certain portfolio company investments are subject to contractual restrictions on sales. The total par amount (in thousands) is presented for debt investments, while the number of shares or units (in whole amounts) owned is presented for equity investments. Each of the Company's investments is pledged as collateral, under one or more of its credit facilities unless otherwise indicated.

(2) Variable rate loans to the portfolio companies bear interest at a rate that is determined by reference to either Canadian Overnight Repo Rate Average ("CORRA" or "CA"), Sterling Overnight Interbank Average Rate ("SONIA" or "S"), Euro Interbank Offer Rate ("Euribor" or "E"), Secured Overnight Financing Rate ("SOFR"), Stockholm Interbank Offered Rate ("STIBOR" or "ST"), Copenhagen Interbank Offered Rate ("CIBOR" or "CI"), Norwegian Interbank Offered Rate ("NIBOR" or "N"), Swiss Average Rate Overnight ("SARON" or "SA"), New Zealand Bank Bill Reference Rate ("BKBM" or "B"), Australian Bank Bill Swap Bid Rate ("BBSY" or "BB") or an alternate base rate (commonly based on the Federal Funds Rate ("F") or the U.S. Prime Rate ("P")), which generally resets periodically. For each loan, the Company has indicated the reference rate used and provided the spread and the interest rate in effect as of December 31, 2025. Variable rate loans typically include an interest reference rate floor feature.

(3) The cost represents the original cost adjusted for the amortization of discounts and premiums, as applicable, on debt investments using the effective interest method in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP").

(4) These investments were valued using unobservable inputs and are considered Level 3 investments. Fair value was determined in good faith by or under the direction of the Board of Trustees (the "Board") (see Note 2 and Note 5), pursuant to the Company's valuation policy.

(5) These debt investments are not pledged as collateral under any of the Company's credit facilities. For other debt investments that are pledged to the Company's credit facilities, a single investment may be divided into parts that are individually pledged as collateral to separate credit facilities. Any other debt investments listed above are pledged to financing facilities or CLOs and are not available to satisfy the creditors of the Company.

(6) Reserved.

(7) Position or portion thereof is an unfunded loan commitment, and no interest is being earned on the unfunded portion, although the investment may be subject to unused commitment fees. Negative cost and fair value results from unamortized fees, which are capitalized to the investment cost. The unfunded loan commitment may be subject to a commitment termination date that may expire prior to the maturity date stated. See below for more information on the Company's unfunded commitments (all commitments are first lien, unless otherwise noted):

Note 12. Segment Reporting

The Company operates as a single reportable segment and derives revenues from investing primarily in originated loans and other securities, including broadly syndicated loans, of U.S. private companies and manages the business on a consolidated basis.

The chief operating decision maker ("CODM") consists of the Company's co-chief executive officers and chief financial officer. The primary performance metric provided to the CODM to assess performance and make operating decisions is Net increase (decrease) in net assets resulting from operations which is reported on the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations.

Performance metrics are provided to the CODM on a quarterly basis and are utilized to evaluate performance generated from segment net assets. These key metrics, in addition to other factors, are utilized by the CODM to determine allocation of profits, such as for investment or the amount of dividends to be distributed to the Company's shareholders. As the Company operates as a single reporting segment, the segment net assets are reported on the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Assets and Liabilities as Total net assets and the significant segment expenses are listed on the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations.

The information contained in this section should be read in conjunction with "Item 1. Financial Statements" hereto and "Part II, Item 8—Financial Statements and Supplementary Data" of our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2025, as updated from time to time by the Company's periodic filings with the SEC. This discussion contains forward-looking statements and involves numerous risks, uncertainties, and other factors outside of the Company's control, including, but not limited to, those set forth in "Risk Factors" in Part I, Item 1A of our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2025, as updated from time to time by the Company's periodic filings with the SEC.

Overview and Investment Framework

We are an externally managed, non-diversified closed-end management investment company that has elected to be treated as a BDC under the 1940 Act. Formed as a Delaware statutory trust on February 11, 2020, we are externally managed by the Advisers, which are responsible for sourcing potential investments, conducting due diligence on prospective investments, analyzing investment opportunities, structuring investments and monitoring our portfolio on an ongoing basis. Our Advisers are registered as investment advisers with the SEC. We have elected to be treated, and intend to qualify annually thereafter, as a RIC under the Code.

Under the Investment Advisory Agreement, we have agreed to pay the Adviser an annual management fee as well as an incentive fee based on our investment performance. The sub-advisory fees payable to the Sub-Adviser under the Sub-Advisory Agreement will be paid by the Adviser out of its own advisory fees rather than paid separately by us. Also, under the Administration Agreement, we have agreed to reimburse the Administrator for the allocable portion of certain expenses incurred by the Administrators in performing their obligations under the Administration Agreements, including our allocable portion of the costs of compensation and related expenses of our chief compliance officer, chief financial officer and their respective staffs.

Our investment objectives are to generate current income and, to a lesser extent, long-term capital appreciation. Under normal market conditions, we generally invest at least 80% of our total assets (net assets plus borrowings for investment purposes) in private credit investments (loans, bonds and other credit instruments that are issued in private offerings or issued by private companies). If we change our 80% test, we will provide shareholders with at least 60 days' notice of such change. Under normal circumstances we expect that the majority of our portfolio will be in privately originated and privately negotiated investments, predominantly direct lending to U.S. private companies through (i) first lien senior secured and unitranche loans (including first-out/last-out loans) and (ii) second lien, unsecured, subordinated or mezzanine loans and structured credit, as well as broadly syndicated loans (for which we may serve as an anchor investor), club deals (generally investments made by a small group of investment firms) and other debt and equity securities (the investments described in this sentence, collectively, "Private Credit"). In limited instances, we may retain the "last out" portion of a first-lien loan. In such cases, the "first out" portion of the first lien loan would receive priority with respect to payment over our "last out" position. In exchange for the higher risk of loss associated with such "last out" portion, we would earn a higher rate of interest than the "first out" position. To a lesser extent, we will also invest in publicly traded securities of large corporate issuers. We expect that such investments will generally be liquid, and may be used for the purposes of maintaining liquidity for our share repurchase program and cash management, while also presenting an opportunity for attractive investment returns.

Most of our investments are in U.S. private companies, but (subject to compliance with BDCs' requirement to invest at least 70% of its assets in U.S. private companies), we also expect to invest to some extent in European and other non-U.S. companies, but we do not expect to invest in emerging markets. We may invest in companies of any size or capitalization. Subject to the limitations of the 1940 Act, we may invest in loans or other securities, the proceeds of which may refinance or otherwise repay debt or securities of companies whose debt is owned by other Blackstone Credit & Insurance funds. We generally will co-invest with other Blackstone Credit & Insurance funds.

Key Components of Our Results of Operations

Investments

We focus primarily on loans and securities, including syndicated loans, of private U.S. companies. Our level of investment activity (both the number of investments and the size of each investment) can and will vary substantially from period to period depending on many factors, including the amount of debt and equity capital available to private companies, the level of merger and acquisition activity for such companies, the general economic environment, trading prices of loans and other securities and the competitive environment for the types of investments we make.

Revenues

We generate revenues in the form of interest income on debt investments, capital gains, and dividend income from our equity investments in our portfolio companies. Our senior and subordinated debt investments are expected to bear interest at a fixed or floating rate. Interest on debt securities is generally payable quarterly or semiannually. In some cases, some of our investments may provide for deferred interest payments or payment-in-kind ("PIK") interest. The principal amount of the debt securities and any accrued but unpaid PIK interest generally will become due at the maturity date. In addition, we may generate revenue in the form of commitment and other fees in connection with transactions. Original issue discounts and market discounts or premiums will be capitalized, and we will accrete or amortize such amounts as interest income. We will record prepayment premiums on loans and debt securities as interest income. Dividend income on preferred equity securities is recorded on an accrual basis to the extent that such amounts are payable by the portfolio company and are expected to be collected. Dividend income on common equity securities and on our equity interests in joint ventures is recorded on the record date for private portfolio companies or on the ex-dividend date for publicly-traded portfolio companies.

In addition, we generate revenue in the form of commitment, loan origination, structuring or diligence fees, fees for providing managerial assistance to our portfolio companies, and possibly consulting fees.

Expenses

Except as specifically provided below, all investment professionals and staff of the Advisers, when and to the extent engaged in providing investment advisory services to us, and the base compensation, bonus and benefits, and the routine overhead expenses, of such personnel allocable to such services, will be provided and paid for by the Advisers. We bear all other costs and expenses of our operations, administration and transactions, including (a) investment advisory fees, including management fees and incentive fees, to the Adviser, pursuant to the Investment Advisory Agreement; (b) our allocable portion of compensation and other expenses incurred by the Administrators in performing their administrative obligations under the Administration Agreements, including: (i) our chief compliance officer, chief financial officer and their respective staffs; (ii) investor relations, legal, operations and other non-investment professionals (including information technology professionals) at the Administrators that perform duties for us; and (iii) any internal audit group personnel of Blackstone or any of its affiliates, subject to the limitations described in the Advisory Agreements and the Administration Agreements; and (c) all other expenses of our operations, administrations and transactions.

From time to time, the Advisers, the Administrators or their respective affiliates may pay third-party providers of goods or services on our behalf. We will reimburse the Adviser, the Administrator or such affiliates thereof, the Adviser will reimburse the Sub-Adviser, the Administrator or such affiliates thereof, and the Administrator will reimburse the Sub-Administrator or such affiliates thereof, in each case, for any such amounts paid on our behalf. From time to time, the Advisers or the Administrators may defer or waive fees or rights to be reimbursed for expenses. All of the foregoing expenses will ultimately be borne by our shareholders.

Expense Support and Conditional Reimbursement Agreement

We have entered into an Expense Support Agreement with the Sub-Adviser. For additional information see "Item 1. Financial Statements—Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements—Note 3. Fees, Expenses, Agreements and Related Party Transactions."

Average loan-to-value represents the net ratio of loan-to-value for each portfolio company, weighted based on the fair value of total applicable private debt investments. Loan-to-value is calculated as the current total net debt through each respective loan tranche divided by the estimated enterprise value of the portfolio company as of the most recent quarter-end.

(4) As a percentage of total fair value of performing debt investments. As of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, performing debt investments bearing a floating rate represented 95.5% and 95.3%, respectively, of total investments at fair value (excluding investments in joint ventures).

(5) As a percentage of total amortized cost or fair value of investments (excluding investments in joint ventures).

(6) Includes $21.0 million and $0.0 million of investments in our joint ventures for the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025, respectively.

As of March 31, 2026 and March 31, 2025, our portfolio companies had a weighted average annual EBITDA of $274 million and $238 million, respectively. These calculations include all debt investments for which fair value is determined by the Board in conjunction with a third-party valuation firm and excludes quoted investments and asset-based investments. Amounts are weighted based on the fair market value of each respective investment. Amounts were derived from the most recently available portfolio company financial statements, have not been independently verified by us, and may reflect a normalized or adjusted amount. Accordingly, we make no representation or warranty in respect of this information.

The following table represents the operating results (dollar amounts in thousands):

	Three Months Ended March 31,
	2026	2025
Total investment income	$ 1,892,102	$1,841,434
Total expenses before tax expense	865,301	799,689
Net investment income before tax expense	1,026,801	1,041,745
Excise and other tax expense	11	7,783
Net investment income after tax expense	1,026,790	1,033,962
Net change in unrealized appreciation (depreciation), net of income tax (provision) benefit	(1,038,302)	(207,434)
Net realized gain (loss), net of tax expense	(38,389)	(67,219)
Net increase (decrease) in net assets resulting from operations	$ (49,901)	$ 759,309

Net increase (decrease) in net assets resulting from operations can vary from period to period as a result of various factors, including acquisitions, the level of new investment commitments, the recognition of realized gains and losses and changes in unrealized appreciation and depreciation on the investment portfolio. As a result, comparisons may not be meaningful.

Investment Income

Investment income was as follows (dollar amounts in thousands):

	Three Months Ended March 31,
	2026	2025
Interest income	$1,678,664	$1,654,035
Payment-in-kind interest income	113,260	97,901
Dividend income	73,824	82,009
Non-cash dividend income	18,520	—
Other income	7,834	7,489
Total investment income	$1,892,102	$1,841,434

Total investment income increased to $1.9 billion for the three months ended March 31, 2026, an increase of $50.7 million or 3% compared to the same period in the prior year. This was primarily attributable to an increase in the average investments, partially offset by a lower weighted average yield on the portfolio compared to the same period in the prior year. Average investments at fair value increased by 18% to $81,956.8 million for the three months ended March 31, 2026 compared to $69,459.2 million for the three months ended March 31, 2025.

Additionally, for the three months ended March 31, 2026, we recorded $17.8 million of non-recurring interest income (e.g., prepayment premiums, accelerated accretion of upfront loan origination fees and unamortized discounts, etc.) as compared to $45.8 million for the same period in the prior year, primarily as a result of decreased prepayments.

For the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025, PIK interest and non-cash dividend income represented 7.0% and 5.3% of total investment income, respectively, and represented 12.8% and 9.5% of net investment income, respectively. We expect that PIK interest and non-cash dividend income will vary based on the elections of certain borrowers.

We expect that investment income will vary based on a variety of factors including the pace of our originations, repayments and changes in interest rates.

Elevated interest rates continued to favorably impact our investment income for the three months ended March 31, 2026. Despite gradual decreases in interest rates during 2025, inflation has remained above the U.S. Federal Reserve's target level, and interest rates remain elevated. Following three consecutive rate cuts in 2025, the U.S. Federal Reserve held interest rates steady since December 2025 and noted, among other matters, that it would continue to assess and monitor incoming information in considering additional adjustments. Future decreases in benchmark interest rates may adversely impact our investment income. Conversely, future increases in benchmark interest rates and the resulting impacts to cost of capital have the potential to negatively impact the free cash flow and credit quality of certain borrowers which could impact their ability to make principal and interest payments. If such interest rate fluctuations occur concurrently with a period of economic weakness or a slowdown in growth, our borrowers' and our portfolio performance may be negatively impacted. Further, significant market dislocation as a result of changing economic conditions could limit the liquidity of certain assets traded in the credit markets, and this could impact our ability to sell such assets at attractive prices or in a timely manner.

Expenses

Expenses were as follows (dollar amounts in thousands):

	Three Months Ended March 31,
	2026	2025
Interest expense	$ 511,768	$ 479,635
Management fees	152,013	129,106
Income based incentive fees	151,179	151,776
Capital gains based incentive fees	—	—
Distribution and shareholder servicing fees
Class S	31,093	28,088
Class D	370	385
Professional fees	3,706	1,270
Board of Trustees' fees	239	242
Administrative service expenses	4,145	2,241
Other general and administrative expenses	9,788	5,823
Amortization of continuous offering costs	1,000	1,123
Total expenses before tax expense	865,301	799,689
Net investment income before tax expense	1,026,801	1,041,745
Excise and other tax expense	11	7,783
Net investment income after tax expense	$1,026,790	$1,033,962

Interest Expense

Total interest expense increased to $511.8 million for the three months ended March 31, 2026, an increase of $32.1 million or 7% compared to the same period in the prior year. This was primarily driven by an increase in our average principal of debt outstanding, partially offset by a decrease in our weighted average interest rate on our borrowings relative to the same period in the prior year.

The average principal of debt outstanding increased to $36,088.3 million for the three months ended March 31, 2026 from $30,920.0 million for the same period in the prior year. Our weighted average interest rate (including unused fees, amortization of debt issuance costs (including premiums and discounts), and the impact of the application of hedge accounting and excluding amortization of deferred financing costs) decreased to 5.52% for the three months ended March 31, 2026 from 6.10% for the same period in the prior year. Our weighted average all-in cost of debt (including unused fees, amortization of debt issuance costs (including premiums and discounts), amortization of deferred financing costs, and the impact of the application of hedge accounting) decreased to 5.67% for the three months ended March 31, 2026 from 6.20% for the same period in the prior year.

Management Fees

Management fees increased to $152.0 million for the three months ended March 31, 2026, an increase of $22.9 million or 18% compared to the same period in the prior year, primarily due to an increase in weighted average net assets to $48,586.5 million for the three months ended March 31, 2026 compared to $41,427.9 million for the same period in the prior year.

Income Based Incentive Fees

Income based incentive fees decreased to $151.2 million for the three months ended March 31, 2026, a decrease of $0.6 million or 0.4% compared to the same period in the prior year, primarily due to a decrease in pre-incentive fee net investment income. Pre-incentive fee net investment income decreased to $1,209.4 million for the three months ended March 31, 2026 from $1,214.2 million for the same period in the prior year.

Capital Gains Based Incentive Fees

We accrued no capital gains based incentive fees for the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025.

The accrual for any capital gains based incentive fee under GAAP in a given period may result in an additional expense if such cumulative amount is greater than in the prior period or a reduction of previously recorded expense if such cumulative amount is less in the prior period. If such cumulative amount is negative, then there is no accrual.

Other Expenses

Total other expenses increased to $50.3 million for the three months ended March 31, 2026, an increase of $11.2 million or 29% compared to the same period in the prior year. Total other expenses for the three months ended March 31, 2026 primarily consist of $31.5 million of shareholder servicing and/or distribution fees paid with respect to Class S and Class D investors, $9.8 million of general and administrative expenses (including insurance, filing, research, fees paid to the State Street Sub-Administrator and transfer agent, and other expenses), $4.1 million of administrative service expenses, and $3.7 million of professional fees (including legal, rating agencies, audit, tax, valuation, technology and other professional fees related to management of the Company). The increase compared to the prior year was primarily driven by the costs attributable to increased subscriptions to our Class S shares and other general and administrative expenses.

Income Taxes, Including Excise Taxes

We elected to be treated as a RIC under Subchapter M of the Code, and we intend to operate in a manner so as to continue to qualify for the tax treatment applicable to RICs. To qualify for and maintain tax treatment as a RIC, we must, among other things, distribute to our shareholders in each taxable year generally at least 90% of the sum of our investment company taxable income, as defined by the Code (without regard to the deduction for dividends paid), and net tax-exempt income for that taxable year.

Depending on the level of taxable income earned in a tax year, we may carry forward taxable income (including net capital gains, if any) in excess of current year dividend distributions from the current tax year into the next tax year and pay a nondeductible 4% U.S. federal excise tax on such taxable income, as required. To the extent that we determine that our estimated current year annual taxable income will be in excess of estimated current year dividend distributions from such income, we will accrue excise tax on estimated excess taxable income.

For the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025, we accrued $0.0 million and $7.8 million, respectively, of U.S. federal excise tax.

BCRED Investments LLC ("BCRED Investments"), a wholly-owned and consolidated subsidiary that was formed in 2021, is a Delaware limited liability company which has elected to be treated as a corporation for U.S. tax purposes. As such, BCRED Investments is subject to certain U.S. federal, state and local taxes. For the three months ended March 31, 2026 and 2025, BCRED Investments recorded an income tax provision of $0.9 million and $1.3 million, respectively.

As of March 31, 2026 and 2025, BCRED Investments recorded a deferred tax liability of $13.4 million and $10.3 million, respectively, which is included within Accrued expenses and other liabilities in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Assets and Liabilities.

For the three months ended March 31, 2026, BCRED Investments recorded a current tax expense of $0.0 million. For the three months ended March 31, 2025, BCRED Investments recorded a current tax expense of $1.2 million, which is related to realized gains associated with the sale of an investment in a partnership interest and is included in Current tax expense on realized gains in the Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations.

Net Unrealized Gain (Loss)

Net change in unrealized gain (loss) was comprised of the following (dollar amounts in thousands):

	Three Months Ended March 31,
	2026	2025
Net change in unrealized gain (loss) on investments	$(1,076,445)	$(192,229)
Net change in unrealized gain (loss) on derivative instruments	44,772	(12,789)
Net change in unrealized gain (loss) on foreign currency and other transactions	(5,695)	(1,082)
Income tax (provision) benefit	(934)	(1,334)
Net change in unrealized appreciation (depreciation), net of income tax (provision) benefit	$(1,038,302)	$(207,434)

For the three months ended March 31, 2026, the net change in unrealized losses, net of income tax provision was $1,038.3 million, as compared to $207.4 million for the same period in the prior year. The increase in losses was primarily driven by net unrealized losses on investments of $1,076.4 million, which were mainly attributable to declines in the fair value of certain investments. The fair value of debt investments as a percentage of principal decreased by 0.8% for the three months ended March 31, 2026 driven primarily by changes in certain portfolio company fundamentals and broader economic conditions.

In addition, we recorded net unrealized losses of $5.7 million on foreign currency transactions, primarily attributable to fluctuations in the EUR and GBP exchange rates vs. USD.

Partially offsetting these losses for the three months ended March 31, 2026 were net unrealized gains of $44.8 million on derivative instruments, primarily resulting from fluctuations in the GBP, CAD and EUR exchange rates vs. USD.

Net Realized Gain (Loss)

The realized gains and losses on fully exited and partially exited investments comprised of the following (dollar amounts in thousands):

	Three Months Ended March 31,
	2026	2025
Net realized gain (loss) on investments	$(34,907)	$(59,178)
Net realized gain (loss) on derivative instruments	19,604	(19,413)
Net realized gain (loss) on foreign currency and other transactions	(22,695)	12,615
Net realized gain (loss) on extinguishment of debt	(391)	—
Current tax expense on realized gains	—	(1,243)
Net realized gain (loss), net of tax expense	$(38,389)	$(67,219)

For the three months ended March 31, 2026, the net realized losses, net of tax expense, was $38.4 million, as compared to $67.2 million for the same period in the prior year. The increase was primarily driven by net realized losses on investments of $34.9 million, which were mainly attributable to full or partial sales of investments, partially offset by gains on the sales of equity investments.

In addition, we recognized net losses of $22.7 million on foreign currency and other transactions, primarily due to fluctuations in the EUR and GBP exchange rates vs. USD.

Partially offsetting these losses were net realized gains of $19.6 million on derivative instruments, resulting from the settlement of foreign currency derivative transactions, primarily USD vs. EUR forwards.

Financial Condition, Liquidity and Capital Resources

We generate cash primarily from the net proceeds of our continuous offering of Common Shares, proceeds from net borrowings on our credit facilities and unsecured debt issuances, income earned and repayments on principal on our debt investments. The primary uses of our cash and cash equivalents are for (i) originating and purchasing debt and other investments, (ii) funding the costs of our operations (including fees paid to our Adviser and expense reimbursements paid to our Administrator), (iii) debt service, repayment and other financing costs of our borrowings, (iv) funding repurchases under our share repurchase program and (v) cash distributions to the holders of our Common Shares.

As of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, our debt consisted of asset based leverage facilities, a revolving credit facility, unsecured note issuances, short term borrowings related to repurchase obligations and debt securitizations. We have and will continue to, from time to time, enter into additional credit facilities, increase the size of our existing credit facilities or issue additional debt securities, including debt securitizations, unsecured debt and other forms of debt. Any such incurrence or issuance may be from sources within the U.S. or from various foreign geographies or jurisdictions, and may be denominated in currencies other than USD. Additionally, any such incurrence or issuance would be subject to prevailing market conditions, our liquidity requirements, contractual and regulatory restrictions and other factors. In accordance with the 1940 Act, with certain limited exceptions, we are only allowed to incur borrowings, issue debt securities or issue preferred stock, if immediately after the borrowing or issuance, the ratio of total assets (less total liabilities other than indebtedness) to total indebtedness plus preferred stock, is at least 150%. As of March 31, 2026 and December 31, 2025, we had an aggregate principal amount of $35.3 billion and $35.1 billion of debt outstanding and our asset coverage ratio was 227.5% and 235.7%, respectively.

Cash and cash equivalents (excluding restricted cash) of $2.0 billion as of March 31, 2026, taken together with our $13.6 billion of unused capacity under our credit facilities (subject to borrowing base availability, $13.5 billion is available to borrow), proceeds from new or amended financing arrangements and the continuous offering of our Common Shares is expected to be sufficient for our investing activities and to conduct our operations in the near term. This determination is based in part on our expectations for the timing of funding investment purchases and the timing and amount of future proceeds from sales of our Common Shares and the use of existing and future financing arrangements. As of March 31, 2026, we had a significant amount of unfunded commitments, which we plan to fund using proceeds from offering our Common Shares and available borrowing capacity under our credit facilities. Additionally, we held $4,030.7 million of Level 1 and Level 2 investments as of March 31, 2026.

Although we have historically been able to obtain sufficient borrowing capacity, a deterioration in economic conditions or any other negative economic developments could restrict our access to financing in the future. We may not be able to find new financing for future investments or liquidity needs and, even if we are able to obtain such financing, such financing may not be on as favorable terms as we have previously obtained. These factors may limit our ability to make new investments and adversely impact our results of operations.

As of March 31, 2026, we had $2.8 billion in cash and cash equivalents (including restricted cash). For the three months ended March 31, 2026, cash provided by operating activities was $1.6 billion, primarily due to proceeds from sales of investments and principal repayments of $5.0 billion and the adjustment for net unrealized depreciation of investments to net assets resulting from operations of $1.1 billion, partially offset by purchases of investments of $4.3 billion. Cash used in financing activities was $1.2 billion during the period, primarily as a result of share repurchases, net of early repurchase deduction paid, of $2.1 billion, and dividends paid in cash of $0.6 billion, partially offset by proceeds from the issuance of our Common Shares of $1.3 billion and net borrowing of $0.3 billion.
